COMPLETE CANADIAN PRICE LIST UPON REQUEST, PLEASE SEND 25¢ FOR MAILING
$ 20,000,000
(TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS)
A larger and better stock of stamps with a catalogue value of 20 mill. dollars, comprised of older, rare, and valuable stamps is now being parcelled out at very low prices. Will you pay 12.5¢ for rare stamps cataloging up to $125
(each? THEN, HERE IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

We have bought a GIGANTIC CARTLOAD with one of the largest and best stocks of stamps in Europe and with a total catalogue value of 20 mill. dollars, and are now parceling out this stock into some large stamp collections, valuable packages of better lots, complete sets, Souvenir Sheets, se-tens, whole sheets and more.

in this large and rich stamp collection you'll find valuable stamps from Germany — the Netherlands — the U.S. — Canada — Belgium — France — the United Kingdom — the British Empire — Scandinavia, etc. . . and many more. There are thousands of valuable and interesting stamps with catalogue values up to $12.30-100 each — including whole stamp collections, valuable packages of better lots, complete sets, Souvenir Sheets, se-tens, whole sheets and more.

The first part of this offer is a GIANTIC selection of thousands of better stamps — containing at least 3,100 valuable stamps from the U.S. as well as 2 large lots of stamps from Canada and the Philippines with a total catalogue value exceeding $1,950.00 (One-Thousand Three-Hundred and Fifty U.S. Dollars). You'll be pleasantly surprised when you find many desirable stamps, high values, and the 2 attractive Canada and U.S. CAPEX Sets.

In addition you'll find a very rich collection of the United Kingdom and British Empire with a total catalogue value alone of over $5,915.00 (Five-Thousand Nine-Hundred and Fifteen U.S. Dollars). Just think, this collection alone is worth about 4 times our price for the whole parcel. In this collection you'll receive a valuable lot comprised of Australia, stamps from the British Empire cataloging up to $100.00 each, and of course the popular British 5/6 1. plus many other stamps.

Furthermore, a large collection from the desirable country of France and the French Colonies is included — with a total catalogue value of $2,080.00 (Two-Thousand Eighty U.S. Dollars) That's over $500.00 more than the price you'll pay for all of these collections combined. This far you may feel you are getting more than your money's worth — but we're not finished. You'll find more, much more. You'll also receive a large collection of stamps from Germany with a catalogue value alone of $2,270.00 (Two-Thousand Two-Hundred and Seventy U.S. Dollars). In an European auction this lot should normally bring at least $1,500.00 dollars.

All the above mentioned stamp lots and collections have a combined catalogue value of over $11,515.00 (Eleven-Thousand Six-Hundred and Five Hundred U.S. Dollars). All of these together are well worth the $1,499.00 price. However, you will find an additional tremendous collection — a fantastically large collection of thousands of valuable stamps from the Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Denmark, Sweden, Iceland, etc. with a total catalogue value in excess of $10,035.00. This collection alone can

Buying Canadian

1. Any number of errors and varieties if found in current stamps including booklets and coils. Since 1959 I have purchased over $1,000,000.00 worth net of such. Prompt cash and no limit to number I will buy. In case of any major discovery please phone 204-667-6881.

2. Canada 1868 Large Queens. At all times interested in these and will buy singles, blocks, mint and used, covers, proofs, etc., in any quantity and any condition. Particularly would like to hear from dealers. Will pay your full retail price for all taken.

Selling

1. A fine $100.00 Canada Investment Lot. Over 1,000 now sold. Excellent value in obsolete mint never hinged Canadian stamps in fine centered condition worth at least $200.00 at current retail and with plenty of room for further appreciation.

2. A choice $100.00 Foreign Investment Group. This is a beauty of a lot. For the first 50 assorted lots that were sent out, not one was returned. I'm quite willing to send out on approval against usual references.

I HAVE TWO ADDRESSES

THOUGHTS & THINGS

STILL BEHIND BUT CATCHING UP

We are still behind with our correspondence but the situation is improving. Since this is being prepared in late November and early December, we should be back on track before Christmas.

OUR 31st YEAR

Elsewhere in this issue you will find a short history of the Canadian Philatelist which is now starting its 31st year, the longest continuous publication run for any Canadian philatelic journal.

If any of our older members can add to the information in the article or can relate anecdotes concerning the magazine, we would be pleased to have them so that they can be shared with all of our members.

ALSO IN THIS ISSUE

You will find something new in the centre of this issue — 4 pages which are designed to be removed. For those members who have their CPs bound, they now have a title page and table of contents. We hope that an index will follow.

The title page and contents pages will be a regular annual feature which will appear in either the Nov.-Dec. issue or the Jan.-Feb. issue of the succeeding volume.

SLOW POST

We know that it can take up to two weeks for mail that is posted in Toronto to travel the 60 miles to Guelph, however, I think an issue of the CP has set a new record.

Member C. Froost of Hamilton has informed us that his copy of the July-August issue, posted in Port Perry on July 12th, did not arrive at his Hamilton address until November 6th!

He was lucky to have received it at all. Recently we have received copies from the post office in Scarborough with an accompanying note stating that they had been found loose in the mails. Obviously, some of our members received empty envelopes.

If this happens to you, be sure to write to the secretary for a replacement copy.

INTERNATIONAL CONTEST FOR JUNIOR STAMP DESIGNERS

As part of its Tenth Birthday celebrations the Jersey Postal Administration launched an International Stamp Design Competition. The theme is 'Christmas in your Community' and entries will be judged in the following age categories separately for Jersey and overseas participants: 9 and under; 10 - 13 years; 14 - 17 years; and over 18 years. (There is no section available for professional designers).

The designs, not exceeding three in number from any entrant, should be prepared in colour on smooth white card not exceeding 7 x 5 inches (180mm x 130mm) each. The closing date is 31st May, 1980, and entry forms are available on request from P.O. Box 106, Postal Headquarters, Jersey, Channel Islands.

The first prize in each category is an album of all Jersey stamps from 1969 - 31st May, 1980. For runners-up there will be the presentation Pack album with current Definitives, Postage Due labels and Commemorative stamps. There will also be consolation prizes of current Commemoratives. The prize-winning designs will be used for Jersey's first Christmas issue in 1981.

AEROHILATELY AT LONDON 1980

For the aerophilatelists who visit the exhibition, a centre will be provided to welcome them and to provide information on the various activities which will include:

FISA (International Federation of Aerophilatelic Societies) will hold its 20th Congress in London.

A Request from Australia

I am writing to you in the hope that you or your members may be able to supply to the children at my school Australian Stamps.

The senior children at this school are avid collectors of higher value Australian stamps and we would like to communicate with any of your members who have Australian stamps which they would like to sell.

The attached sheets give some idea of the stamps which we are after.

We would also like your suggestions as to the most expedient method of payment.

G. Lanham, Principal,
Jolimont Primary School,
Hay Street,
Jolimont, Western Australia, 6014,

If any of our members are able to supply stamps as requested, please write to the editor for a copy of the 2 page want list.

Information on seals, labels, cards, etc. requested for a catalogue.

I am a private collector attempting to compile a catalog of philatelic seals which have been issued, sold, or given away by various philatelic organizations throughout the United States and Canada. I have been using my own private collection, which contains over 3,000 different deals, labels, sheets, cards, etc., as a basis for the proposed catalog, as well as the Wasson-Dolin Catalog, published by Harvey Dolin in 1946. A number of items were not listed in this catalog, and I am woefully short of a great number of items that were listed. I can only assume that I am missing a like number of items which may have been issued since 1945.

Any assistance you or your organization may give towards the completion of this endeavour would be gratefully appreciated. Information needed is:

What seals, labels, cards, cachets, etc., have you or your affiliated organizations issued since the inception of the specified club?

What were their colors, dimensions, perforations, type paper, etc?

Which particular event were they issued for (to include name, place and date of event)?

Were they included in the Wasson-Dolin Catalog correctly?

If your organization has any of the foregoing items for sale to the public, I would be only too happy to purchase them for my collection.

Forget all the hoopla about “highest prices paid”!

STUDY THESE PROFITABLE REASONS FOR SELECTING APFELBAUM’S TO LIQUIDATE YOUR STAMP HOLDINGS.

Your stamps will sell for their best possible price only when they are presented in their most desirable fashion to the people who want and can afford to purchase them at their top market value.

The Apfelbaum firm caters to this type of serious collector. The person who knows philately and loves it. The person who is able and willing to pay the top market price for the philatelic material he wants and needs.

Apfelbaum Public Auctions
When selling through the famous Apfelbaum Public Auctions, your material is offered to thousands of actively interested general, topical and specialized collectors around the world. These people form a ready and willing-to-pay market for high quality philatelic properties.

To efficiently sell this market, Apfelbaum’s staff of professional auction arrangers painstakingly separates every item in your collection. Inspecting. Expertising. Evaluating. Using their knowledge of international markets and trends, the arrangers then rebuild the collection in small lots that are most desirable to bidders. Through this extensive “breaking-up” process, Apfelbaum arrangers are able to compile the most marketable auction listing and thereby extract the best possible prices for all your materials.

But this is only half the job. After the arranging has been completed, Apfelbaum’s expert auction describing staff cautiously prepares the lot descriptions that will appear in the catalog. Apfelbaum’s professionally experienced describers know the importance of accurately and lucidly presenting auction lots. Fewer than 1000 bidders in any Apfelbaum auction will have an opportunity to view the material prior to the sale. Each lot’s exact appearance and condition must be clearly communicated to the many hundreds of mail bidders in order to guarantee their satisfactory sale.

Apfelbaum Private Sales
But your properties may not be recommended for sale by public auction. Many philatelic materials can be more profitably sold through Apfelbaum’s popular Private Sales Department which maintains a steadily increasing list of avid collectors who prefer private purchases of philatelic materials.

These philatelists provide a quick and lucrative market for extremely specialized collections of limited interest, widely varying wholesale lots, lower valued general collections, and other properties which would not benefit from the competitive auction bidding.

Selling through Apfelbaum’s Private Sales Department guarantees you a fixed return. A firm price, based on a thorough appraisal of your holdings, is agreed upon prior to consigning your material for private sale. Upon completion of the sale, you receive the entire agreed-upon amount (minus commission), even though Apfelbaum’s may have extended terms to the buyer.

The Apfelbaum firm can usually negotiate a profitable private sale within a few weeks. However, if your holdings have not been sold within a 90 day period, you may remove them without expense or obligation.

Selling Directly to Apfelbaum’s for Cash
Depending upon the size, scope and nature of your holdings, it is often more advantageous to sell directly to the Apfelbaum firm for a mutually agreeable cash settlement. Because of the company’s vast retail and mail operations, Apfelbaum buyers are constantly in the market for fine philatelic materials to replenish these continually depleting stocks.

Apfelbaum’s traveling buyers follow regular itineraries covering major North American cities and making periodic trips to foreign markets. Buyers can be easily routed to any area, no matter how remote, if need be. With today’s modern transportation facilities, Apfelbaum buyers can be almost anywhere in the free world in a matter of hours.

And when you sell your properties directly to the Apfelbaum firm, remember that Apfelbaum’s deals in stamps of every country and every period. Apfelbaum’s buys entire lots, not just the “cream” of your collection.

If you would like the Apfelbaum firm’s expert advice and assistance in appraising or liquidating a stamp collection, accumulation or philatelic stock of any worth and dimension, phone, wire or write to them today. Or ship your materials directly by Registered or Insured Mail or Air Freight.

"John Taylor Captain of Mink"

by Colin H. Bayley

The cover shown on this page was one of a number relating to a Nason family, members of which were living apparently at Weston, Ontario, Lower Fort Garry, and at the Hudson’s Bay Company post at Moose Factory and who seemed to have written to each other fairly frequently. It was an interesting lot of stuff and included an “odd-ball” item of considerable interest, in the form of a letter sent to an officer serving in the famous Voyageur Contingent of Canadian Boatmen sent to get supplies up the difficulty-navigable reaches of the Nile River in support of Lord Wolseley’s Expedition which was attempting to go up the Nile to the relief of General Gordon at Khartoum. That particular item found its way to England to join others relating to this particular campaign, in a famous collection.

But to return to our Canadian cover - as will be seen it is postmarked at Lake Temiscamingue on 14 Aug. 1882. The other postmarks it carries are Mattawa on 17 Aug. and Weston (written “Waston”) its final destination, on 21 Aug. both on the reverse (not shown).

At the top is a manuscript inscription reading “John Taylor captain of Mink” and it seemed desirable to try to discover more about the significance of this marking.

There were a number of covers in the lot addressed to a Mr. James Nason, Hudson’s Bay Co., Moose Factory, James Bay, “via the Ottawa River and Lake Temiscamingue” this being the reverse of the route followed by the cover above which, it, therefore seemed reasonable to assume, had originated at the Hudson’s Bay post at Moose River.

I therefore contacted the Manitoba Provincial Archives which now houses the Archives of the Hudson’s Bay Company, which were recently transferred there from England, and sent them a photo of the cover. I had a most interesting reply on it from Ms. Garron Wells, Assistant Archivist. Here is what she found.

the Hudson’s Bay Company at Moose Factory throughout his career from 1866 to 1903 (HBC Archives B. 135/g/49-74; D.33/1-5.). At the time this letter was mailed he was Captain of the brigantine “Mink”, a coastal vessel built for the Hudson’s Bay Company in 1874. She sailed to the Company posts along the shores of James Bay delivering supplies and picking up fur returns which were unloaded at Moose, the returns being eventually sent back to London on the Company’s annual supply ship. The “Mink” was no longer used by the Company after 1903 and plans for it to be sold were made in 1904 (HBC Archives A.1/175, fo.17; D.20/1., fo.466; A.12/FT341(2) Captain Wm. Inglis to Wm. Ware, dated 5 May 1902).

Ms. Wells goes on to say that James R. Nason served the Company from 1873 to June 1882 as a Clerk and spent the years 1876 to June 1882 at Moose Factory; and that this suggests that the letter was written by someone else at another Post on the Bay, and addressed to James Nason after he had left the Company (HBC Archives B.235/g/1-3:B135/g/58-64). This will explain why the letter was carried by the “Mink”.

At Moose Factory it would be placed on an express canoe carrying the Company’s mail packet inland, going to Lake Temiscamingue and thence to Mattawa on the Ottawa River (HBC. Archives D.20/ fo5.391 and 489) and so on to Toronto and its destination at Weston.

Le Fezzan Le Fezzan-Ghadamès sous l'Occupation Française l'ère partie

par Vincent J. Barone

La Seconde Guerre Mondiale, qui apporta tant de malheurs à la France, montra aussi qu'il y avait néanmoins un esprit francophone qui sut se rallier et combattre aux côtés de ses alliés. Les Forces Françaises Libres montrèrent, d'une manière de jour en jour plus évidente, que les Français pouvaient affronter et battre l'ennemi nazi-fasciste. Les efforts français se vinrent aussitôt en Afrique où les Forces Françaises jouèrent un rôle important. Malheureusement, l'histoire oublie souvent ce rôle que les Français jouèrent aux côtés des Anglais, en participant à l'occupation de l'Érythrée et à la libération de l'Éthiopie en 1941 et aux combats en Libye, surtout à partir de 1942. L'objectif du présent article est d'examiner un aspect particulier de la lutte menée en Libye, aspect qui touche directement à la philatélie: l'invasion et l'occupation des régions libyennes du Fezzan et de Ghadamès. Les émissions de timbres qui suivirent l'occupation française nous permettent de voir une perspective rarement soulignée par les historiens, qui trop souvent ne rapportent même pas la présence française en Tripolitaine. Voilà comment la philatélie peut ajouter quelques connaissances à l'histoire.

A partir du 1er janvier 1934 la Libye, colonie italienne depuis 1912 mais pacifiée seulement à l'époque, était divisée administrativement en quatre provinces et un territoire militaire (Illustration 1). Les provinces de Tripoli et de Misurata correspondaient plus ou moins à l'ancien vilayet ottoman de Tripoli. Les provinces de Benghazi et de Derna étaient formées de la région septentrionale de l'ancienne Cyrenaïque. Le reste, une vaste étendue du Sahara, très éparsement peuplée, gisait sous un domaine militaire avec des troupes de garnison italiennes. Ce "Territoire Militaire du Sud" était composé de la basse Cyrénaïque (jadis refuge de l’émir Idris pendant la lutte contre l’annexion italienne) et de la région méridionale de la Tripolitaine (en fait le quart sud-ouest de la Libye): appelé Fezzan, pays ayant sa propre identité depuis l’ère romaine. Le Fezzan que l’histoire négligea sera la responsabilité des Français pendant et après la guerre.

Malgré l’intégration politique des quatre provinces côtières libyennes dans le territoire national italien après 1938 la Libye se trouva sans véritables moyens de se défendre dans cette guerre moderne qui débuta pour elle en 1940. Le résultat fut la "Bataille pour l’Afrique du Nord" entre Rommel et les Anglais, dont le théâtre fut exclusivement la Libye septentrionale, et dont l’histoire est extrêmement bien connue. Les événements qui suivirent dans le sud de la Libye pendant et après la Seconde Guerre Mondiale, et où se fit valoir la contribution française, sont cependant très peu connus.

A partir du 1940 le Général de Gaulle eut l’intention d’avoir des troupes français en permanence dans le théâtre de guerre où se trouvaient les Anglais, et particulièrement là où des territoires français permettaient des attaques directes sur l’ennemi. Ainsi il instruisa le Général Philippe de Hautecloque "Leclerc," qui, en été, avait libéré le Cameroun, de préparer ses forces à Fort-Lamy pour attaquer les colonies italiennes. En janvier 1941, Leclerc envoya le Colonel Jean Colonna d’Ornano (Illustration 2) avec une petite troupe mixte contre le fort italien de Mourzouk (Mourzuch) en Libye, dans le Fezzan, juste au nord du Tchad. Après avoir réduit les défenses italiennes, cette troupe dut se retirer, à travers le désert dans la direction de Koufra pour joindre les forces de Leclerc, après avoir perdu le chef de l’expédition, Colonna d’Ornano, dans l’attaque à Mourzouk. On arriva trop tard pour aider Leclerc et ses alliés anglais qui réussirent à emporter les défenseurs italiens de la forteresse d’El Taj. Ainsi l’Oase de Koufra, après d’âpres batailles, devint le premier lieu en Libye à se rendre aux Forces Françaises Libres (Illustration 3). Ce jour-là le Général Leclerc résolut de ne plus s'arrêter avant d'arriver jusqu'au Rhin.
Entre la prise de Koufra (le 28-III-1941) et la fin de la guerre en Libye même (le 15-XI-1942), les Français participèrent aux luttes les plus importantes en Afrique, et particulièremen: l'invasion de l'Erythrée et de l'Éthiopie (1941), Bir-Hakeim (Illustration 4) et El-Alamein. En janvier 1943 commença l'occupation alliée de la Libye. Avec la paix, le rideau de l'histoire descendit sur la scène. Il est ironique que pour connaître le fil des événements en Libye, il faille s’adresser à la philatélie, vaste source de documents habituellement négligée par les historiens.

Les Anglais et les Français partagèrent entre eux la garnison de la Libye occupée. L’Illustration 5 montre la division territoriale faite: on a ressuscité les anciennes régions de la Cyrenaïque, de la Tripolitaine et du Fezzan. Les Anglais s’installèrent dans l’est en Cyrenaïque, et dans l’ouest en Tripolitaine, échangeant le territoire tripolitainien de Ghadamès (Gadames) pour la zone Soqna—Zella du Fezzan où les Français s’installèrent. Naturellement on se demande pourquoi échanger une région désertique pour une autre de la même qualité? Il me semble qu’un coup d’œil à la carte nous révèle très clairement la réponse. La région de Ghadamès permettait aux Français de dominer des frontières contiguës à leurs territoires de Tunisie et d’Algérie sans que les Anglais puissent les séparer. Si les Français ne contrôlaient pas Ghadamès, ils n’auraient pas accès direct à la Tunisie et, pire, des rebelles algériens futurs auraient un “tuyau d’échappement” dans le territoire anglais. Ainsi les Français prévoyaient les événements d’un proche avenir.

Le 10 janvier 1943 la forteresse de Mourzouk, qui eut été le premier point d’attaque des Français dans le Fezzan, se rendit et devint le dernier point de résistance des Italiens dans le Fezzan. Naturellement, les bureaux de poste italiens, qui auparavant se servaient des timbres-poste d’Italie et de Libye (Illustration 6), cessèrent de fonctionner. Les Français de garnison rouvrirent six bureaux: Brak, Ghat, Mourzouk, Oubari (Ubari) et Sebha, plus Ghadamès en Tripolitaine. Les premiers mois, c’est-à-dire, jusqu’en mai, les postes militaires se passèrent de timbres-poste: l’inscription “F.M.” (Franchise Militaire) avec oblitération plume suffisait. Pour les emplois civils on se servait du cachet “Port Payé” ou simplement “P.P.” et simil. Cependant, on décida dès les premiers jours, de commémorer de quelque manière l’occupation. Conséquemment les quantités de timbres italiens et libyens qui se trouvaient dans les bureaux capturés furent envoyées à Alger. Là, la surcharge: "Fezzan / Occupation / Française" fut appliquée, ainsi que de nouvelles valeurs plus des traits pour annuler les inscriptions italiennes (Illustration 7). Au commencement les "francs" de la surcharge étaient des francs de l'Afrique Equatoriale Française (approximativement 44 F = $1) auxquels plus tard on substitua le franc algérien.

La quantité de timbres surchargés qui en résultait était, même pour un endroit si éparsement peuplé, exigüe. Par exemple, de ce premier tirage de poste ordinaire seulement 79 séries complètes sont possibles! Et les taxes sont pire. Voyez la Table I.

Les Français étant même en période de guerre grands collectionneurs, le tirage entier disparut avant juin de sorte qu'une surcharge locale fut autorisée, ce qui fit de cette surcharge une émission plus rare encore que la première. Deux impressions primaires furent préparées, relevées de matériaux de guerre disponibles, et apposées sur des fragments de feuilles de timbres italiens et libyens. On se servit même de timbres pour colis-postaux. Toutes les valeurs utilisées furent retirées des poubelles en route vers l'incinération. Voyez la Table II.

N'importe que la vente des deux tirages fût limitée à une série par client européen, le total des valeurs fut épuisé avant juillet. En conséquence les bureaux employèrent de nouveau les vieux cachets: "Port Payé" et "Franchise Militaire."

La situation dura jusqu'au printemps. A partir de 1944 les postes du Fezzan-Ghadamès furent à la charge des postes algériennes, et employèrent les timbres et le système monétaire d'Algérie. On peut distinguer la correspondance de cette période par les oblitérations militaires qui y furent employées: n. 560 (Mourzouk) et n. 561 (Ghadamès), et plus rarement par des cachets spéciaux. Ce sera seulement en 1946 que les timbres d'Algérie cesseront d'être employés, et le Fezzan-Ghadamès recevra ses propres émissions.

Je ne crois pas que ce soit un jugement trop sévère de constater que la première émission du Fezzan-Ghadamès, en deux Tirages, fut une œuvre dont l’inspiration remontait plutôt à la politique, et peut-être à la philatélie, qu’a un vrai besoin postal, vu en effet que la poste fonctionna et continua à fonctionner aussi bien pendant le temps où il n’y avait aucun timbre-poste disponible. Je propose que le même jugement soit possible pour la quantité et la qualité du reste des émissions françaises du Fezzan. Cependant, du côté historique, elles nous permettent de tracer les mouvements politiques que la Quatrième République fit dans sa tâche de sauver l’empire colonial français menacé par les mouvements d’indépendance d’après-guerre.

We noticed in Switzerland that the PO has installed automats which dispense the required and correct postage for mail in form of coloured, tagged label instead of a postage stamp. This is an interesting new event as further expansion of this program could lead to a considerable reduction in the use of stamps. An article in the Neue Züricher Zeitung revealed that in 1968, 49.1% of all mail carried postage stamps and 38.1% in 1978. Machine cancels increased from 23% to 28%, Meters from 26.2 to 29.5% and PP Prepaid from 1.8% to 4.9%. 891,929 million stamps were sold in 1968 and 755,777 million in 1978. Of these, more commemoratives were sold in later years than the definitives indicating an increased use of meters, machines and prepaid for commercial mail. Postal stationery was down by 15%. It would be interesting to compare these figures with ours.

We have just noticed the 30th edition of Lyman’s Catalogue. A major change has been made by naming all numbers with their respective colours. Initially only the picture of the stamp and the number was listed without the colour which led to great confusion. Many typographical errors have now been eliminated as well as corrections to some of the data. Most of the quantities issued are listed now. Pricing still remains a problem. The market fluctuates so fast that any price list is outdated by the time it is printed. Nevertheless, the pricing may be used as a guide rather than the actual price which one may have to pay for a stamp. Improvements to the colours have been made avoiding much of the misalignments in the previous edition. For its price, it is certainly a worthwhile buy. Unfortunately we have not seen the Canadian Specialized yet and cannot comment.

We hear that the 15c flower stamp exists printed on the gum side, but we have not seen it. One sheet has been reported. Can anyone shed some light on this. A number of such stamps have come out over the last few years starting with the newer issues with the 6c black QE. Although the market appeared to be flooded with these for some time and the price going down to about $5 a copy, now dealers are buying them again and offering about $11.

You may have noticed that a large number of flag sheets are back on the market. Almost all post offices here in Ottawa had many packages each containing 50 sheets. Initially it appeared as if a reprint was made but this is not so. This material comes from field stock which remained and is now being distributed for final sale. Used copies are being bought for 10 cents each by dealers, so you could not lose much by putting some away. One dealer advertizes them for 19 cents each in lots of 100.

Latest ads to buy the more popular European stamps shows that many offer higher prices for used than mint hinged and often the same. The buying of large quantities of mint brings about a shortage of fine used stamps, for example Germany B331 $13. against $11., B34-37 bought for $20. against $11.

Canadian Postage Stamps With Mineral Related Motives is the name of a new publication by Jean Paul Drolet, who is Assistant Deputy Minister of Energy Mines and Resources. This interesting document lists the various stamps with mining motifs, explains them and shows the display which he used at the world symposium on mining industry in Brussel in 1979. An interesting and well printed publication.

The first influx of settlers into the Kent County townships along the Thames River occurred about 1794. Permanent settlement along the Lake Erie shore had to wait until Colonel Talbot began the colonization of Talbot Street, after the 1812-14 war, beginning in Howard in 1817. However, in 1814 Lord Selkirk colonized the territory near the mouth of the Sydenham River with Highland Scotch immigrants. Farther up the Sydenham, above Dawn Mills in Camden Township, settlement did not begin until 1823.

CHATHAM

In the early days of Upper Canada, the government planned "towns" at what were considered eligible sites, one of which was Chatham, named for that illustrious Earl, in 1795. The previous year it had established a shipyard on the Thames River flat at the north side of this Reserve. However, even in 1812, in contrast with thriving settlements and busy activities elsewhere up and down that stream, the Chatham townsite at the Forks was still empty. Lieutenant-Governor Simcoe's plans had been pigeonholed. A sort of unofficial postal or despatch service did grow up during the 1812-14 war.

In 1818, John McGregor rebuilt his Chatham Mill, razed in the 1812-14 war, lower down Little Creek, on the east bank of its mouth with the Thames. It was so-called because of its location in Chatham Township. Shortly afterwards he established a store which was managed by his son Duncan. The community was to grow up at the meeting point of four townships, its southeast portion in Harwick, its southwest in Raleigh, its northeast section in Chatham, and its northwest in Dover, later called East Dover.

Among the vanguard of settlers which moved up the Thames in the early 1790's, among the first who settled in Raleigh were the McCraes. In 1822 Raleigh post office was opened on the site of Chatham by William McCrae.

In 1827 Chauncey Beadle obtained from the Legislature a charter to run stages between Queenston and Sandwich (now in Windsor). Since he failed to establish the line, another company, whose members included McCrae, who was also a member of the Legislature, took over the charter and went ahead with the project. In 1828 this mail stage began making its first passage through Chatham. Two years later, Raleigh post office was transferred to Duncan McGregor of Chatham Mills.

In the Ontario Archives is a letter from McGregor to the Crown Lands Commissioner, postmarked by a small double circle broken by RALEIGH, with 9, March, 1832 written in. That year, when Upper Canada was 40 years old, the American Quaker, Benjamin Lundy, wrote in his diary of a midwinter journey from Queenston to Sandwich. He crossed the border at Niagara River on January 13 and about mid day took the stage from Hamilton. From there, the junction of the routes from York (Toronto) and Hamilton, the stage ran daily in summer and triweekly in winter as far as Brantford, the mail continuing through to Detroit three times a week.

Traversing a road along the south bank of the Thames, Lundy came to McGregor’s Mill, where he found a large mill, a store, and a post office - Raleigh. The passengers sat in the kitchen while the mail was sorted; after a few minutes delay, they went on to the nearby village of Chatham.

In another Ontario Archives letter.
McGregor writes to Commissioner Robt. B. Sullivan, Toronto, on October 20, 1836.

"On the 15th Sept. last I forwarded to your address a money letter containing five pounds currency and certificate of a lot purchased by Angus MacDonald in Sombra, requesting you to forward a receipt for the same to McDonald in Sombra, requesting you would forward a receipt for the same to me. I have received no answer and I am anxious to know if the said letter reached you or not."

In 1839 James Read became postmaster of Raleigh. N. L. Freeman took over in 1847. A letter from J. Crow to Surveyor-General J. Bouthillier, Montreal, is postmarked by a large double circle broken by RALEIGH, U.C., in red, with MR 11, 1847 in type. John Crow became postmaster two years later. Crow and Beatty ran a general store.

After Canada took over the administration of its Post Office Department in 1851, Raleigh post office had its name changed to Chatham. A year later Crow was replaced by B. F. Barfoot as postmaster.

THE TALBOT ROAD
The first survey near lake Erie in Kent County, a double road of lots along Talbot Street (now Highway 3), began in 1816. The next year saw the first general influx of settlers along it.

A mail route established along this road in 1831 brought about the opening of four new post offices in Kent on it that year.

The autumn of 1816 had seen the arrival of the first settlers on the site of Morpeth, three Nova Scotians, the forerunners of a numerous group of settlers who came the following year. Settlement along Talbot Street became quite dense within a year. Included among the settlers was Joseph Wheatley on the north side. The first store in Morpeth was opened by Edward Lee about 1826. It was about then that the name was conferred upon the settlement.

However, the post office opened there in 1831 by Joseph Wheatley was called Howard, after the township. Emma Wheatley, perhaps the first postmistress in Upper Canada, took over the position in 1834 and A. Wheatley a year later. In 1842 Duncan Warren became postmaster. A letter from him to Patrick McMullen, Sandwich, is postmarked with a medium-sized double circle broken by HOWARD, C.W., the date, MR 13, 1851 in type, all in red. Later that year the post office name was finally changed to Morpeth.

The southern portion of Orford Township, east of Howard Township, saw David H. Gesner locate on Lot 63 at an early date. He opened Clearville post office in 1831.

Harwich is in the centre of the southern row of townships in Kent. J. W. Little was the only postmaster of Erieus from 1831 on for 20 years. It was located on Talbot Street a little east of Raleigh's western boundary. It closed in 1851, but reopened the next year as Dealton on lot 162.

The next township west of Raleigh is Romney. In 1818 Robert Coatsworth, from Durham, England, took up lot 200 on the Talbot Road. Romney post office was opened there in 1831 with Thomas Renwick as postmaster. A letter from him to John A. MacDonald, Commissioner of Crown Lands, Montreal, written March 4, 1848, is postmarked with a large double circle broken by ROMNEY in red, with a manuscript date. In 1865 Caleb Coatsworth became postmaster.

NORTH FROM KENT BRIDGE
Camden Township is east of Chatham Township, north from the Thames River. At its eastern boundary on what is now Highway 2, the village of Kent Bridge got a post office in 1837 called, however, Camden West, with the establishment of a mail route northwest from there, which inaugurated Dawn Mills and Wallaceburgh post offices at the same time.

There is a letter from the Camden West postmaster, John White, to Charles Richardson, Niagara, with the postmark "Camden West, U.C., 7th May 1837" written in two lines in the upper left, "John White, Postmaster" in the lower left. He had not yet received a postmarking hammer three months after the post office's establishment.

Dawn Mills was first settled in 1830 by William Taylor and James Smith, who built a grist mill, its first, on the south bank of the Sydenham River where it is crossed by the 8th Concession road of the Gore of Camden. However, until 1850, it belonged to Dawn Township, hence the name of the village which gradually clustered around the mill. Taylor opened the post office in 1837. On April 2, 1841 he wrote in reply to a questionnaire from the Legislative Commission investigating Post Office affairs.

"I should prefer the privilege of franking my own letters, and the accommodation of a Post Office here, to treble the amount it saves me, on account of the Office being attended with less expense; besides it was that privilege and the accommodation of having a Post Office in this neighbourhood that alone caused me to accept the situation of Post Master; for be assured it is not profit to me as yet, for some of my neighbours have not always money, and I am urgently obliged, in consequence, to trust postage or keep their letters, which would be no good to the Post Office Department, and there is not a Quarter but I have to pay up for letters I delivered out; whereas for some of them I never receive anything, which is a loss to me that cannot be well avoided in my place like this."

In 1845, Taylor's partner, James Smith, became postmaster of Dawn Mills.

The other post office established in 1837 was Wallaceburg, spelled at that time with an "h" at the end. One of its first settlers had been Lachlin McDougall, who located on the south bank of the Sydenham River, where its East Branch, downstream from Dawn Mills, enters the main stream, in the Gore of Chatham. There he opened the first store and hotel. The advantages of the location, on a deep and easily navigable river, and the increasing settlement around there, led to a survey of his farm in 1837, for the southeast section of Wallaceburg.

Hugh McCallum was the first postmaster, on the south side of the river. The name had been submitted by Scottish Highlanders for their hero William Wallace. In 1839, W. James became postmaster, replaced in 1842 by Lionel H. Johnson. The year before he had opened a blacksmith shop, then a store, the first in the northeast angle of the town. Around 1850 Calvin Smith took on the position of postmaster.

Meanwhile, in 1839, Camden West had become Whitehall, apparently influenced by postmaster John White. It closed in 1859, reopening four years later as Kent Bridge.

RATES TO RISE?

Will Canadian postal rates rise next year? According to a press report following a UPU conference in Berne, Switzerland, international letter rates, including those for postcards, printed matter and parcels, may be increased by as much as 100 per cent. The increases are the largest approved in the 105 years of the UPU's existence.

It is not expected that many of the 158 member states will go to the maximum allowed, however, increases are inevitable if the quality of international postal services are to be maintained.

The charges could go into effect starting in July 1981 but some countries, including the United States, Great Britain and France, could implement increased rates six months earlier (Jan. 1, 1981).

What will Canada Post do?

FLYING BOATS

Souvenir envelope for the Canadian Aircraft series stamps.

Here are a few additional notes on the aircraft depicted on the four stamps issued on November 15, 1979.

17c Canadair CL-215. This aircraft, shown in the livery of the province of Quebec, has also been sold to the Manitoba government, France, Spain, Greece, Thailand and Venezuela.

17c Curtiss HS-2L. The registration letters of this aircraft, G-CAOS, is the pre-1929 registration (G-C...) for Canadian aircraft. After that year, the registration was CF-... for Canada. The aircraft shown is one of the 20 that were used by the Ontario Provincial Air Service (OPAS) until 1923. G-CAOS served less than two years. It was forced to land at Long Lac, Ontario, in October 1927 because of motor trouble. Parts of this machine may be seen in the National Aeronautical Collection.

35c Vickers Vedette. This aircraft was designed and built by Canadian Vickers Ltd. The remains of one, RCAF 814, G-CYWQ, which was found near Brighton, Ontario in 1977 is now in storage at the National Aeronautical Collection.

The design, based on the McKee Trophy (awarded for accomplishments in Canadian aviation and reproduced through the courtesy of the Canadian Aeronautics and Space Institute) was prepared by ex RCAF graphic design artist Mr. Lance Butler.

30 Years of The Canadian Philatelist, or The C.P.S., R.P.S.C. and its "Official Organs"

by P. M. Mann

As we begin Volume 31, whole number 176 of the CANADIAN PHILATELIST, it might be interesting and instructive to trace the history of the means by which the members of the Canadian Philatelic Society (antecedent of the R.P.S.C.) were kept informed of society affairs.

In 1923, the Canadian Philatelic Society with Fred Jarrett as president, moved its headquarters from Winnipeg to Toronto. Its membership was quite small so, because it could not afford to publish its own journal, the directors selected the Stamp Herald, published in Kitchener, Ontario, as its official journal.

When the Stamp Herald ceased publication on 1928, a new publication, the Canadian Philatelist, was chosen as the official journal. That Canadian Philatelist, published in Toronto, first appeared in September 1928 and ceased publication in 1929 after only 11 issues.

The next journal to be selected as the official organ of the society was the Stamp Collectors Magazine of Richmond, Virginia. This arrangement lasted until 1932 when the society turned to a new Canadian journal, the Canadian Stamp Collector.

It would appear that the directors were unfortunate in their choices of magazines to act as the official organ of the society for this latest one lasted for only eight issues. Where the directors turned to after the demise of the Canadian Stamp Collector is somewhat in doubt. One source says that the Collector's Magazine was next and was followed by the Stamp Collectors Exchange Club Magazine (SCEC).

There were two Collector's Magazines in existence around that time. One, published in Montreal, appeared for only twelve issues during 1930-31. The other, and probably the one that was used by the society, was the Collector's Magazine (Le Collectionneur) fifteen issues of which were published in Québec. P.Q. 1933-34.

Whichever it was, it was supplanted by the SCEC Magazine in 1935. How long that relationship lasted I cannot say, but in March 1935 the first number of the C.P.S. Bulletin, a single mimeographed foolscap page, reported that members would receive the Philatelic Bulletin of Great Britain as part of their membership.

The C.P.S. Bulletin appeared irregularly until December 1940 and was used to provide supplemental society information. It became a bimonthly letter sized bulletin in June 1940.

The identity of the editor was never disclosed in the Bulletin. In the May 1938 issue the following statement appeared: "For years the Directors have tried hard to provide a suitable philatelic magazine for the members. This has been a hard problem with many discouragements. At the present time, a special committee is experimenting with a series of bulletins which may prove satisfactory until a magazine can be provided. All members are invited to offer suggestions and to contribute stamp information and gossip to the committee of which Mr. Ed Goodale of Hamilton is the Chairman."

In the April 1943 issue of Popular Stamps, Mr. Goodale wrote that in April 1938, when he was chairman of the above mentioned committee, the society owed $100.00 and had no money to pay the debt. He also stated that he had taken on the task of editing the C.P.S. Bulletin.

As mentioned above, the Bulletin was not issued after December 1940. In its place, the society had the use of one or two pages, copy for which was supplied by Ed Goodale, in the "Emco Journal" during 1941. Then, in 1942, the society switched journals again. This time it chose a fairly new magazine, Popular Stamps, as its official organ. The society stayed with Popular Stamps until it began publication of The Canadian Philatelist in March 1950.

The first pages of Popular Stamps that were devoted to the Canadian Philatelic Society's information appeared in the February 1942 issue (Vol. 5, No. 1) and appeared regularly thereafter until the July-August 1950 issue (Vol. 13, No. 5-6).

During this period, yet another C.P.S. Bulletin was published by the society. Its so-called "First Issue" was dated July 31, 1946. It was letter size, mimeographed in Toronto. The editor was Wm. Christiansen, Jr., of Oakville with assistant editors Phil McCabe, called a Lakeshore Promotor, and Bill Gladish of Canadian Press.

Volume 2 was printed by letter press and the format was folded letter size, i.e., 6" x 8 1/4", and it carried ads. This C.P.S. Bulletin was termed the "Official Organ of the Society" even though Popular Stamps had been carrying the announcements of the society since February 1942. It too was termed the Official Organ of the Canadian Philatelic Society. This C.P.S. Bulletin was used to supplement the society's information in Popular Stamps.

In the fall of 1944, membership in the C.P.S. was about 400. By 1948, after an intensive membership campaign which extended over several years, the membership had almost trebled to 1181 and was still growing. The directors obviously felt that it was time for the society to have its own journal and during 1949 laid plans for just such a venture.

Their plans came to fruition in March 1950 with the appearance of THE CANADIAN PHILATELIST Vol. 1, No. 1, the official organ of the Canadian Philatelic Society and brought to an end the society's association with Popular Stamps or with any other philatelic magazine.

Popular Stamps formally announced, in its June 1950 issue, that it would no longer be furnished to C.P.S. members after the July-August issue. That issue (Vol. 13, No. 5-) carried the last C.P.S. announcement which was a list of the executive and officers of the C.P.S. And thus, the C.P.S. was now on its own. However, The Canadian Philatelist was not alone.

For some reason(s) the directors felt that it was necessary to publish yet another bulletin. This was a new one, printed by letter press, called the C.P.S. News Letter. It appeared in June 1950 and was to be issued eleven times a year to supplement the new Canadian Philatelist which was said to be for "outstanding articles of philatelic interest." The News Letter was to report happenings within the society and the philatelic world in general. It reported new members, address changes, reports from various coordinators, etc.

The identity of the News Letter's editor remained a secret, at least it was not widely advertised until 1951 when the News Letter carried the notation that Roy M. Pen nell, Toronto, was the editor.

How long the News Letter lasted or how many issues were published, I cannot say. The last issue in the editorial files is Vol. 4, No. 8, September 1953. Did it go beyond that date?

The Canadian Philatelist, now beginning its 31st year, has appeared in a number of guises, in two sizes and has had a number of editors.

The issues from Vol. 1, No. 1 through Vol. 8, No. 4 (July-August 1957) were smaller than the present journal. They were approximately 13.2 cm x 205 cm, printed by letter press, had paper covers and a varying number of pages. It was the practice to include the year book (directory) in one of the numbers each year.

The contents were much as you have in the current issues, i.e., articles, announcements, society news, reports, ads, etc. An interesting feature of some early issues was the absence of a Table of Contents. One had to read through the entire issue to find out what it contained. One also had to search carefully to find the name of the editor because it was never, at least in the early issues, prominently displayed. According to the C.P.S. announcement in the July-August 1950 issue of Popular Stamps, the editor was Christopher Ellis of Westmount, Québec.

Doug Patrick, who needs no further identification, assumed the editorship with the June-July 1951 issue. In 1952, his other duties increased, making it more difficult to edit the CP so an Editorial Board was set up to assist him. The members of the Board were: Doug Patrick, P. (Phil) A. Miller, L. M. Lamouroux, W. J. Banks, Roy M. Pennell (also editor of the C.P.S. News Letter) and Percy Bennett.

Also around that time other difficulties arose, particularly financial ones. The CP was to be a quarterly journal when it first appeared, however, it was rather costly and the missed issues of the first few years was "because of lack of funds and other reasons because no one in our voluntary organization had sufficient time to go out and sell the advertising necessary to support such a magazine."

To correct this deficiency, an Advertising Manager was appointed in May 1952. Who was it?

In 1954, Phil Miller of Islington was both editor and advertising manager and remained the editor into 1958. During that period (1955-59) Mrs. F. G. Williamson (Gwen Dawson) was advertising manager.

The number of issues per year varied during the early years of the CP. We have already indicated that the first few years were such financially trying years that no more than three issues appeared in a year. Then, in both 1954 and 1955, there were ten issues only to be reduced to eight in 1956 (Vol. 7) and to six in 1957 (Vol. 8). With the exception of Volume 12 of 1961, which had seven numbers, there have been six issues per year ever since.

The small format of the first eight volumes was changed to approximately the present size half way through Volume 8 (1957) and the magazine was changed from being letter press printed to offset multilith printed. Furthermore, the text was now typewritten except for those articles that were reprinted from other sources.

The reasons for these changes in 1957 were stated by president Louis M. Lamoureux in his message in the “New Look”, “...we could not continue with THE CANADIAN PHILATELIST as it was. Costs of printing, handling, mailing, were continually rising and always exceeding our revenue, no matter what we did. Something has to be done, and finally, it had to be done quickly.”

The “new look” was retained until the March-April 1958 issue when the entire editorial matter was type set. During this period, there were changes made to the cover. The January-February 1959 issue featured a cover designed by Collins Beaugild of Halifax, N.S. (Mr. Beaugild was presented with a special “50 year active member” gold pin by the Nova Scotia Stamp Club in 1978.) Then the next two issues had a cover that had been designed by Leo Goldham of Windsor, Ont., assisted by Norm Boyd and Perl Wakeham.

1959 was also the year in which the C.P.S. went “Royal” and became the Royal Philatelic Society of Canada as announced at the banquet following the annual meeting in Sarnia, Ont. The CP reflected the change in its cover. This was now of stiff paper and illustrated with a different illustration on each issue. The first illustration, on the July-August 1959 issue (Vol. 10, No. 4) was of H.M. Queen Elizabeth II.

The last change in the cover design was made in the January-February 1960 (Vol. 20, No. 1) issue. That cover introduced our logo and the cover which we have today. The logo, by the way, was designed by Mr. Alec Wright, Medical Illustrator and Director, Department of Visual Education, Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.

Throughout the thirty years and 175 issues of the CP, there have been many changes. We have briefly mentioned some of them. We have not, however, commented upon the content to any extent.
Generally speaking the contents were much the same as they are now — articles from members, society reports, letters, book reviews, information on new issues, etc. Some of the authors were with us for many years. Ed Richardson of Texas, provided many pages of notes on Canadian philately in his “The Hollow Tree”, and Hans Reiche was reporting “From Parliament Hill”, now “Post-marked Ottawa” as far back as November-December 1958. Robson Lowe wrote “The London Letter” for years and frequently, particularly in the late ’50s and early ’60s, provided full colour insert supplements “Pall Mall Review” which were produced from illustrations in the Robson Lowe auction catalogue. These were always appreciated and helped considerably to dress up the magazine.

In recent years members have become familiar with Max Rosenthal’s ‘Post-Scripts’ which generally trace the origins of post offices in various parts of the country, with Fred Stulberg’s ‘What’s New in Old Canada’, which dealt with a variety of subjects, with Ken Pugh’s ‘Canadian varieties’ and R. E. Florida’s ‘Wanders of the World’, just to name a few.

These are just a very few of the many collector philatelists who have taken the time and trouble to provide our members with the results of their studies and thoughts. Their articles, notes and comments are all provided free. The society does not have to pay for their contributions. We should all be most grateful to them for their contributions to the magazine and to philately.

In closing this survey of the CP, its forerunners and its partners, I would like to call attention to the members who have been responsible for seeing that the magazine has appeared regularly during the past thirty years, the editors.

The early editors have already been mentioned, but who were the others?

In 1958, Louis M. Lamouroux took over as editor and held that position until his sudden death in 1966. This presented a problem to the directors — who would be

While a search was made for a more or less permanent volunteer, an editorial board comprised of H. Sutherland, K.

put together the next six issues. The death of the society’s president, Dr. G. M.

What is it?
A Stamp?
A Franking Label?
A Postal Impression?

by P. T. Bridgeport

On Monday, August 9, 1976, the Swiss PTT (Schweizerische Post-, Telephon- und Telegraphenbetriebe) introduced four experimental “coin operated franking label vending machines” (PTT terminology. The new machines offered advantages over conventional, purely mechanical stamp vending machines in use at that time. Instead of having to insert one low value coin at a time to buy a stamp of the same value (in Switzerland two values and in some places also 5 fr booklets were available), the customer could now obtain a machine printed, gummed franking label for the amount of postage between 5c and 99.95 Sfr by simply inserting the equivalent in coins of up to seven denominations (5c to 5 Sfr).
The labels (Fig. 1) that were produced by these experimental machines were cut smoothly to a uniform size of 40 x 32 mm.
The design (32 x 24 mm) was printed in magenta red ink on gummed granite paper (fine violet fibres). To meet the requirements for automatic mail processing and to prevent forgery, the face of the paper has a phosphorescent coating and a fine blue dotted security background pattern.

The four experimental machines were numbered and placed as follows: A1 Zurich Main Station, A2 Berne Main P.O., A3 Grindelwald and A4 Geneva Main P.O. The labels produced by the machines bore the appropriate code number A1 - A4 in the panel below the value. These identification numbers were deleted on June 26, 1978.

Following the success of these field trials, the machines were further developed by the manufacturer FRAMA AG of Lauperswil/BE, in collaboration with the Swiss PTT Postal Engineering Division, Special Facilities Branch. There were 50 of the new machines in use in May 1979 and a further 450 will be put in service in the next five years.

The Machine:
With Frama's new machine (Fig. 2), a customer can select from three preset current values (3 on Fig. 2) (40c, 50c and 70c) and obtain labels for these even if he inserts coins (1 on Fig. 2) in excess of the equivalent or a multiple of the postage required. The machine accepts and registers any amount up to a maximum of 99.95 Sfr, deducts the value of the labels issued, and shows the balance on a digital display (2 on Fig. 2).

Any additional coins now inserted are added to the displayed balance which can be used for further labels. The fourth button on the machine is used if the customers wishes a label of the value indicated on the display (e.g. the 10c label in Fig. 3).
If no coins are inserted for 18 seconds, the machine automatically issues a label for the balance shown. The customer, therefore, incurs no loss in any case.

All functions of the machine are microprocessor controlled and activated by a series of integrated electronic switching systems. The coin acceptor unit, coin counter and prepayment meter, label releasing mechanism and printing process are all based on this principle. Some 2000 labels can be obtained from a single roll of paper. The electronically controlled printing unit has been specially developed by Frama.

The machines can be connected directly to the mains or can be supplied from a 12 volt storage battery.

Built in storage systems, also microprocessor controlled, monitor the machine functions automatically. The total value of the labels issued is recorded on a separate sealed mechanism so that accurate checks can be made by post office staff.

To prevent loss of money by the customer, the machine automatically disconnects if the paper runs out and/or if the electrical power fails or the voltage drops below a given minimum. Any coins caught in the machine can be released by rotating the knob on the middle right (Fig. 2) and collected from the return tray.

An automatic coin return facility is not provided so as to reduce the size and production costs of the machine.

If postal rates are changed, models with preset keys can be adapted by a simple exchange of the plug-in programmes.

Optimum protection against fraudulent use is insured by acceptor units that check the alloy of the coins and reject foreign currencies or imitations. Accepted coins are collected in a box which locks automatically when removed.

Use In Other Counties:

Norway

The Norwegian General Directorate of Posts introduced five FRAMA FE 274 machines (Fig. 4) at the following locations on December 2, 1978: 1 - Tromso, 2 - Trondheim, 3 - Bergen, 4 - Oslo luft-havn (Oslo airport) and 5 - Oslo sentrum (Oslo GPO).

The machines were modified to accept the five values of current Norwegian coins (5 øre, 10 øre, 25 øre, 50 øre, 1 kroner) and to issue preset value labels of NKr 1-, 1.25 and 1.30 or labels to the value indicated on the display (NKr 00.00 - 99.99). All other features are same as for the Swiss models.
number of the machine, 1 - 5 (according to location) in the panel below the value.

Japan

It has been reported that Japan tested similar automatic franking label vending machines in 1976-78 and has placed some in service.

The machines are said to be more sophisticated than those of Switzerland and Norway. They are reported to be able to weigh letters and indicate the amount of postage required for registered and special delivery letters.

Post Office Counter Machines

Swiss PTT has also tested and approved a Frama produced post office counter machine. It has an internationally standardized ten key board which is used to key in the required amount of postage. When the release key is pressed, the machine issues a franking label (Fig. 6) with printed value, date, time and locality. The date and time are set and printed automatically by a microprocessor controlled, fully electronic unit. The date does not have to be set manually each day, and leap years have been programmed for several decades. The time printer is controlled by a quartz clock. The printing mechanism is inked by an easily replaced ribbon cassette.

The counter machines have several electronically controlled storage units which register
(a) each amount of postage keyed in
(b) each individual letter, parcel, and posting per customer (e.g. customer total posting of 3 letters and 4 parcels) and which total
(c) the postage of all items for that day and/or shift total
(d) the number of items per customer per day and shift.

An additional mechanical postage totalizer acts as a check on the electronic counters and enables supervisors to make continuous checks.

The Swiss PTT expects to achieve substantial savings in operating costs by eliminating the time consuming stamp handling and cancelling procedures and the accounting routines at the changes of shifts.

And now we return to the title of this article. How does one classify these labels? Are they to be considered as being postage stamps? They fit Rowland Hill's description "...a bit of paper just large enough to bear a stamp, and covered on the back with a glutinous wash . . .". Or should they be considered to be only another form of postage meter impression?

The postal administrations of user countries and the manufacturer of the machines call them 'franking labels'.

No matter which category they may be placed in, they should prove to be a collectable item since they occur in almost unlimited values, in three currencies and with or without numerical coding according to location of the issuing machine (at least the Swiss and Norwegian labels have that feature).

The interesting thing about them is that I have never seen one used on any of the mail I have received to date. Nor have I heard of any other collector in this area who has received one on mail.

FORGERIES OF NETHERLANDS STAMPS AND FORMER COLONIES, by P.F.A. van de Loo. Published by Netherlands Philatelic Society of Chicago. 14.0 cm x 21.6 cm, 8 + 68 unnumbered pages, illus., index, bibliography, offset, vinyl 3 ring binder. 1977. US$11.50 ppd. from Julius Mansbach, 6323 N. Francisco Avenue, Chicago, IL, 60659, U.S.A.

'Forgeries' is the English language translation of the Dutch editions of May 1978 and March 1979 with a few corrections. It has been issued in loose leaf form so that, as additional material becomes available, it can be inserted in the appropriate places in the book.

The book opens with a very brief discussion of the history and nature of the forgeries such as colour changes (around 1890), fraudulent cancels, especially when used stamps are priced above unused, e.g., Floating Safe stamps of the Netherlands and Netherlands Indies. False perforations (1867 and 1872 issues) and syncopated perforations have not been neglected nor have the cinderella "Specimen" overprints on some automatic booklets.

The treatment of the forgeries is uniform throughout the work. Usually one page is devoted to each recognized forgery, giving the year of issue of the original stamp, the forgery number, NV-PH number and Scott number, description of the characteristics of the forgery and a drawing comparing it with the genuine stamp. An indication of the magnification of the drawing and an illustration of the genuine stamp is included on the page.

The forgeries are grouped under Netherlands (32 types), Netherlands Indies (19 types), Netherlands New Guinea (1 type), Curacao (13 types) and Surinam (19 types).

The printing of the text and most of the drawings is adequate but some of the page headings and many of the illustrations of the stamps are unclear (headings) or so dark (stamps) that most of the detail is lost.

This book should be in the hands of all serious Netherlands collectors.

This edition has retained the format, the style and the high quality of the printing, with clear but reduced illustrations of the stamps, of the previous edition. It has also retained the wire ring binding which, with the additional eight pages of this edition, makes the turning of single pages even more difficult.

The listing and pricing is broken down into the same categories as in the preceding edition and is complete through the Publicity (Second Series) issue of September 6, 1979.

A new feature is the 8 new pages of the "1843-1862 Specialized Listing of Singles and Multiples Mint, Used and on Cover" with 1400 previously unlisted price quotations.

A comparison of the prices (in sterling) in this edition with those of the 1979 edition shows that many prices are unchanged. Some show small rises or significant drops.

The explanation for this is that the pricing was done in August and September last when the pound sterling was showing a freakish burst in the exchange rate with the Swiss franc. The subsequent drastic change downwards left the prices about 10 percent below market prices. Some of these prices have been changed and included in an accompanying bulletin along with the statement that the prices in the catalogue and in the Bulletin No. 1, will hold until the middle of January 1980.

Further Price Change Bulletins are available as issued for 60 p. (sea mail) or $1.35 (air mail).

Strongly recommended.

This oversized booklet is profusely illustrated by material from Mr. Stanley’s personal collection. This includes a full page illustration of Alfred Cousins' Apprenticeship Agreement of Aug. 15, 1868, with Samuel Stevens, London, Eng., to learn the trade of engraver and brass plate manufacturer. The full colour plate depicts Cousins' hand painted entry (22 stamps) for the 1895 New Zealand stamp design competition. The stamps were issued in 1898.

Other illustrations are of stamps from dies engraved by Cousins, including the Beer Duty Stamp, 2nd Side Faces, Life Insurance, Land and Deeds Stamp and 1898 pictorials. There are also Monograms, Crests and a one pound Postal Note depicted.

This is a well produced, interesting booklet.

NICOLAUS COPERNICUS STAMP CATALOGUE 1973-76, compiled and edited by W. Z. J. Nowicki. Published by Copernicana Ltd., 40 Ansell Road, London, SW17 7LS, England. 20.9 cm x 29.3 cm, 198 pages, illus., offset, soft bound. 1978. US$23.00 + $5.00 postage and packing, from the publisher.

The catalogue is subtitled "Catalogue of postage stamps issued worldwide to commemorate the 500th anniversary of the birth of Nicolaus Copernicus. Dates of issue 1973-1976." This clearly indicates the scope of the book.

The Foreword by P. Swinbank, Dept. of History of Science, University of Glasgow, provides a brief biography of Copernicus and a discussion of his book "De Revolutionibus". This is the only portion of the catalogue that treats with Copernicus himself. The bulk of the book is comprised of the depiction of stamps, FDCs, colour trials, die proofs, miniature sheets, etc., arranged alphabetically by country (Albania - Vatican City). For the most part, these are clearly printed and provide a complete coverage of all the items issued.

The next section provides details of the stamp issues, FDC hand stamps and reproductions of letters and other documents from postal administrations, etc. regarding the various Copernicus issue of their countries.

In this section there is great variation in the quality of reproduction, particularly of the letters. From the faintness and illegibility of some, it is obvious that photocopies of the letters rather than the actual letters were used to make up the book. This section, like the preceding one, is arranged alphabetically by country.

The book concludes with three pages of stamps and labels that had been issued to commemorate Copernicus before 1973.

This is a well produced catalogue, clearly printed on heavy paper but with a glued binding that is a little weak.

It is a useful compilation of available data and illustrations of the Copernican issues for collectors of that topic.

BRIEFLY NOTED

Two new Philatelic Foundation Analysis Leaflets are now available.

"United States Air Mail Issues 1918-1923" (AL-4) gives a brief account of the designing, printing, issuance and usage of these first American air mail stamps. A short history of the famous invert and figures on the number of air mails submitted to Foundation from 1945 to date are given.

"Analysis of the U.S. Issue of 1847" (AL-5) provides the history of these, America’s first stamps, illustrations of the designs, details of the designs, manufacturer, distribution and early usage. Quantities submitted to the Foundation from 1945 to date and their status are tabulated.

Both leaflets are available at 50c each from The Philatelic Foundation, 270 Madison Ave., New York, NY, 10016, U.S.A.

The journal has a new editorial board and a new printer which have combined to give it a new look (a version of the old look).

With the change of the editorial office from Cambridge to Ottawa and going from a one man journal to a three man journal, it is hoped that it can now be published quarterly on a regular basis.

The format and content remains the same as in earlier issues but it now has a slightly more professional appearance. By the way, No. 18 has still to appear.

Information about the society and a sample copy of the journal ($1) may be obtained from the Secretary, Andy Palochik, P.O. Box 3461, Station C, Ottawa, Ontario, K1Y 4J6.

THE LATIN AMERICAN POST, Vol. 3, No. 3, 1979, of the Latin American Philatelic Society, P.O. Box 820, Hinton, Alberta, T0E 1B0, is at hand.

It continues to improve with each issue and, since it now has a philatelic society behind it, it contains articles and notes from the members. Coverage is the same as in earlier issues, i.e., Central and South America and Caribbean islands. It now includes a regular members mail sale.

This is a good publication for collectors of Latin America. Information is available from the address above.

PHILATELIC LITERATURE REVIEW, Vol. 28, No. 3, Third Quarter 1979. Published quarterly by the American Philatelic Research Library, P.O. Box 338, State College, PA 16801, U.S.A. 75c each, $4 per year.

This number includes "A Bibliography of Literature on Classic United States First Day Covers - 1922-1939" by David S. Zuzatsky, "Lundy Island: A Philatelic Bibliography" by Roger S. Cichorz and "The National Philatelic Museum Books: A Checklist" by George T. Turner, as well as the regular features of each issue.

ROMANIAN PHILATELIC STUDIES, Vol. 3, No. 4, 1979, is a quarterly bulletin which is available for US$7 per year from the Romanian Philatelic Club, c/o Miron Abramovici, 207 Berger St., Somerset, NJ 08873, U.S.A.

Among the number of fine articles and features of this publication are "The Unissued Cuza Stamps of 1864" by Ionut Plaiu, "The Reprints of the First Romanian Postage Stamps" by Mircea Stanculescu (reprinted from The American Philatelist) and "The 3 Bani Stamp of 1870" by Dr. L. N. Cristea.

Recommended for Romania collectors.

Nov. - S4. - Christmas 1980
- S24. - (S16 + S8) 1980 Stamp Day
- Visit WIPA 1981

These total 32 stamps with an approximate value of $13.31.

The numbers of stamps that are proposed to be issued during 1980 by these countries, and the values of the issues, makes Canada’s 31 stamps for $6.87 (excluding the 16 stamp miniature sheet) seem to be a reasonable number and cost, at least for these times.

THE SALES CIRCUIT--

STAMPS NEEDED

Great Britain, Channel Islands, Ireland, U.S.A., British West Indies, British Colonies, Australia, New Zealand, Oceania, Germany East, West, etc., colonies and states, Switzerland, Scandinavia, Netherlands and Colonies, France and Colonies, Japan, Canada, 19th century and early 20th century, Canada plate blocks pre 1945, Canadian revenues and back of book material. All the above mint or used.

If you have any duplicates of these stamps and you wish to sell them, write to the Sales Department for information and sales books. Those who are sending in books to the Sales Department will find that they have better sales if they put only one copy of each stamp in one book. If you have duplicates of your duplicates, make up extra books instead.

STAMP MOUNTS

In the last issue of the Canadian Philatelist I mentioned that the Sales Department would be selling clear plastic stamp mounts as a help to our members as they were not available in Canada. Now there is a Canadian agent, Knox Philatelic Service, P.O. Box 1132, Station “Q”, Toronto, Ont. M4T 2P4. An R.P.S.C. members’ price list is:

- 1/2" - $8.50 per box
- 1 1/2" - $10.40 per box
- 3 1/2" - $13.00 per box

There are 500 mounts in a box. A minimum of 2 boxes in any combination of sizes must be ordered. They will be sent postpaid.

If you are interested in either buying or selling on the R.P.S.C. Sales Circuit, contact the Sales Department, P.O. Box 727, Fenelon Falls, Ont., K0M 1NO, for more information.

(Mrs.) Margaret Allen,
Director of Sales.

THE CHAPTER COORDINATOR

Our Readers will say, with some reason, that we are always finding fault. Not all, by any means, but some few Chapters are holding slide programmes beyond the dates for which they were sent. Regulations call for slide sets to be in the mail within three days of use. We try to get programmes out in plenty of time to arrive for the date of use. If it comes a week or more early, please be thankful that it came in time. We have had a Chapter insist that slide sets must arrive on a certain day, something we cannot attempt to do, with the vagaries of Canada Post. If, for some good reason, you need to hold a slide set over, write or telephone us at (705) 689-5870 and if the set is not needed elsewhere we will try to co-operate.

When we have to write asking for help, Chapters that reply promptly are of great assistance. Please try to get your letter back to us within a day or two.

We must remind our readers that individuals will now have to pay postage both ways when requesting slide sets. This does NOT apply to Chapters. This was decided by your Board of Directors at the October meeting because of the ever increasing postage rates.

It is sincerely hoped that before this is read the new pages 3-4-5 of the Slide Library list will be at all Chapters. We are waiting for the titles of two sets, and as soon as we get them, we will get the pages in process. The several new programmes received in October will be listed then.

For the benefit of those who have mislaid our address and who may wish to drop us a line asking for information or help, we get our mail at Box 187, Gravenhurst, Ont. POC 1G0.

T. E. Lyon for Doris & Ted Lyon.

By now everyone will have heard about the mistake to bring out the 15c precancelled with the plate inscriptions. The prepacks were withdrawn after one day but the strips of 20 are now being sold with the inscription. Field stock have the inscription cut off. It would be interesting to know how many prepacks got out. The price quoted from Montreal indicates it to be a good item.

Two more stationery envelopes have been issued. The 17c No. 8 in brown and blue and the 15c No. 10 in green and brown with Code inscription only in the back.

Philatelic literature is still high on many auction lists. Of interest to our readers may be that the single number of the Stamp Collectors Digest published by L. Bentham, well known Canadian columnist, brought $15 at one auction.
