MIXTURES

JUNK BOX
The Boss has a box behind his desk marked junk box. Anyone who visits the store and sees this box usually buys it on the spot, and the price usually runs about $50.00 to $100.00. What's in it?—Well, nobody knows, not even the Boss. We do know that there has never been a complaint and your money refunded if not satisfied. Usually there is an old collection or two, albums, catalogs, covers, on paper Bank mixture including high values, British Colonies, good Canadian and U.S., etc.

☐ Junk Box No. 1 - Price $50.00
☐ Junk Box No. 2 - Price $100.00

DO YOU LIKE TO GAMBLE?
We have a large chest containing the most unusual lot of stamps, covers, junk and good stuff, all in together — in other words, a real mixture. These are going to be sold in $5.00 lots until the box is empty — we are not sure of what's in the box, but one thing we do guarantee is that you get your money's worth.

☐ Gamblers Lot — $5.00

CIGAR BOX COLLECTION
During the past few years we have accumulated many odds and ends of stamps from collections, job lots, broken-up approval selections, etc. You can imagine the tremendous amount of work that would be involved in sorting out such an accumulation. We have, therefore, been making up a cigar box full of really good stamps to sell for $10.00.

Do not confuse this lot with the ordinary "run of the mill" mixtures; it is much better.

☐ Price — $10.00

B.N.A. MIXTURES
These are really good mixtures from Canada and Newfoundland both used and unused, on and off paper and from 19th and 20th century. Commemoratives airmails, dollar values, etc. - over 500 stamps in each mixture - The $10.00 mixtures also has early Victoria issues, Jubilees, Nova Scotia stamp cat. $4.00, covers etc.

☐ $5.00 B.N.A. Mixture
☐ $10.00 B.N.A. Mixture

U.S. LIBERTY MIXTURE
From the various collections, job lots and accumulations that we buy, there are always some U.S. stamps. We have a box here in the office marked "U.S. LIBERTY" and all the odds and ends are thrown in here. Old issues, new issues, on paper, off paper, commemoratives, animals — well just about everything.

Good value, we make sure of that. We advertise this mixture only once a year, so order early before the box is empty. Over 350 stamps.

☐ Price — $6.00
☐ Also a Super Duper at $15.00 (If You Order Early)

HIDDEN TREASURE
Take one of our quality $10.00 Cigar Boxes, add a few hundred stamps to bulk it out, sprinkle a generous handful of high values British Colonial and foreign gems and what have you? A Hidden Treasure mixture. We're sure the treasure is there and you have the fun of sorting and soaking and the thrill of finding really worth while additions to your collection.

☐ Price — $15.00

COVER COLLECTION
Over the past few years we have accumulated several thousand covers from all over the world. From this lot we offer First Day, and Regular Covers. These covers bear new issues as well as older issues. Added to this are unusual cancellations and the postal markings as well as post cards and postal stationery. A truly fascinating assortment from North and South America as well as Europe, Africa and Asia.

☐ Price — $10.00

SPECIAL OFFER
Why not buy yourself a whole mountain of fun and order our U.S. mixture, the Hidden Treasure Mixture and the Cover Collection.

Wanted To Buy:
Canada Scott's No. 715 red colour missing. Also wanted, any other current discoveries, missing colors, part perfs., imperfs., especially the coils. Prompt cash. Since 1959 have paid out over $1,500,000.00 for Canadian errors and varieties.

Other than above am always interested in Canada 1851-1870 issues, and all covers to 1925. Canadian revenues and precancels also welcome. I do buy up to $1,000,000.00 a year of Canadian and B.N.A. stamps. Before sending please outline what may be available.

Stamps on Approval
With a few minor exceptions all my business is carried on via approval service by mail. I primarily sell Canadian stamps but over the past 60 years have accumulated plenty of other fine stamps that have come my way via auctions and estate, etc., purchases.

For past several years have been pricing these in singles, sets and entire collections and now offer to send out groups that would be of great interest to the general collector or anyone who limits himself to certain countries.

Ask for a selection. Smallest lot sent out is $100.00 in value but these are mainly in $1,000.00 boxes. Individual prices are below usual retail and there is a good sized discount on no matter what is taken, with a really impressive discount if all are kept.

If so desired, plenty of time to pay for purchase; up to 10 month to handle the $1,000.00 group.

Some idea of your interests welcome. Canada can be included and I have many fine lots of U.S.A., Scandinavia, Germanic and other Western Europe, Great Britain and Colonies, Australians, Latin America, etc., etc. Several nonduplicating $1,000.00 lots available.

References appreciated from new clients. Membership in any of the national philatelic societies, Canadian of U.S.A. acceptable.

"There is nothing so absurd that has not been said by some philosopher."

The editors that preceded me in this post often began their introductory comments in this section with a quotation. I, on the other hand, seldom used one for two reasons. A pertinent quote was never at hand when I needed it and I never found the time to search for one.

Since this is my last issue as your editor, I thought I would get rid of a few quotes that came to hand recently. Of course, those that I like the most are to be found gracing the masthead of Mad Magazine. It is unfortunate that few of them have any application to philately but, they are usually good for generating a smile.

I mentioned that this is the last issue which I will have had the pleasure of putting together and it, like too many recent issues, is coming to you far behind schedule. With the appointment of your new editor, Ron Richards, who has consented to take over the position, beginning with the May-June issue, the journal should be back on schedule.

I owe all, members and advertisers, my apology for the delays of the past, but it is a fact of life that you cannot do everything at once. Since the editing of The Canadian Philatelist, like most of the services of the Society, is purely voluntary, allowances must be made when regular jobs and family demand one's time when the journal should be worked on.

I want to thank all who, during the past six and a half years, have written encouraging comments about the Philatelist. They have always been most welcome and most appreciated.

A Reply to Hans Reiche

In our last issue (Jan. - Feb., page 29) Hans Reiche was discussing the cost of supplying copies of new publications to libraries and for review in journals. He stated "...this represents a substantial cost for sometimes small returns. It would be interesting to hear the view of the editor on this subject."

My reply is that it shouldn't cost very much if one is selective in distributing review copies. One should send copies only to those journals whose readers have a strong interest in the subject of the publication or which have a large circulation. There is no sense in sending a review copy of a book on Canadian Stamps to a Japanese or other country specialist society's journal. However, review copies should go to national society journals because members of such societies represent a very broad spectrum of collecting interests.

As for copies to libraries, here too selectivity comes into play. Two copies must go to the National Library for copyright purposes. After that, one could say that if a library wants a copy, it can buy it. Of course, if the author feels generous, he/she could donate a copy to a library or libraries, e.g. National Postal Museum Library, Philatelic Research Library, etc., but I feel that, at the most, only about two or three copies would be required for such donations.

Altogether, I can see only ten to twelve copies of a book on Canadian stamps or philately being required for donation or review purposes to bring it to the attention of most of the collectors that would be interested in the book.

BINDING

Don't forget that you can have your issues of The Canadian Philatelist, or other journals, bound in a light buckram by a fellow member at a reasonable cost. Write to March Binding, 200 Charlotte St., Hamilton, Ont. L8K 4V6 for information and instructions (or see p. 221 of the July-August 1981 issue of the journal).
ANNUAL CONVENTION
The 54th Annual General Meeting of the Society will be held in Victoria, B.C., on June 5th at VICTORIA '82. See the notice inserted in this issue and Coming Events for more information.

NOTICES FOR ALL MEMBERS
At the recent Directors Meeting held in Toronto this month, the following items were passed. All members should take note of them.

R.P.S.C. Logo
The use of the Society's Logo, which is depicted on the cover of each issue of The Canadian Philatelist, in advertising or for any other purpose is not permitted. The use of the initials R.P.S.C. is allowed only if the user is a bona fide member of the Society.

If members see examples of the improper use of either the logo or initials, they are requested to inform the society.

Classified Ads
The classified ads section, starting immediately, will be for the use of members only. The only exceptions will be for those ads which are being published currently under contract. When those contracts expire, the above ruling shall apply.

New Addresses to Note
Editor: The editor's address is now -
Mr. R.R. Richards, Editor,
The Canadian Philatelist,
565 Sherbourne Street,
Apt. 2105,
Toronto, Ontario M4X 1W7

Secretary: The Society has moved its office to Ottawa and all correspondence regarding membership, change of address and general enquiries, should be addressed to:
Royal Philatelic Society of Canada,
P.O. Box 5320, Station F,
Ottawa, Ontario K2C 3J1

Ex-editor: My address will remain as it is for anyone who wants to write to an ex-editor. As such, I hope to be able to clear away the backlog of unanswered mail that has been weighing upon my conscience and my desk for far too long.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS
In the July/August issue or CP a two page advertisement appeared for World Invest. While this advertisement was published in good faith the RPSG has not received payment for it and this would appear to result in substantial doubt as to the bona fides of the operation. We have received one complaint from one of our members and take this opportunity to draw the matter to the attention of our readers.

Index to Volume 33
The Index to Vol. 33 which you will find in this issue has been prepared by K. Tilbury of Ottawa. We thank him for so quickly volunteering his services. We also thank two other members who also offered to prepare the index.

Mail Delivery

ACHING FEET?

Going from stamp shop to stamp shop can be fun, but after a while, how about your feet? Wouldn't you enjoy browsing and shopping leisurely in a bright, comfortable store, easy to reach, located in the heart of downtown Toronto?

We have one of the most comprehensive stocks in the city. If you are interested in singles, sets, unusual postmarks, postal history, collections etc., we have them. Our strength is in CANADA but there is always something of interest from almost anywhere in the world, whether you are a beginner, intermediate, or an advanced collector.

If you are unable to visit the store, please just drop us a note outlining your special collecting interests and we will send you by return mail a free copy of our latest Private Treaty list containing over a thousand collections and lots from the entire world.

better. The president of Canada Post Corporation says to give them time, after all, it has taken Canada Post over 100 years to botch things. How can the C.P.C. be expected to change things in only five months?

It can’t but at least it should be able to stop the deterioration in the service, not augment it.

14 days for The Canadian Philatelist to go 20 miles! but only 13 days to be delivered to London, Ont., eight times as far! and 35 days to reach Etobicoke only three times as far, or 49 days to reach Calgary and the FPO, New York but only 34 days to San Marcos, California. But what about the Nov.-Dec. issue that was delivered in London, Ont. sixty-two (62) days after being put into the mail at Port Perry! All of these times are after the mail had been presorted according to geographic areas using the postal codes BEFORE being put into the post office.

These figures makes one think that if we took the salaries that we give the upper echelon of the C.P.C. and hired stage-coaches with the money, we could get much faster delivery than we are presently getting.

What is happening to the mail we know is put into the system but never gets to its destination? If such mail can ‘disappear’, it creates the suspicion that perhaps we are not receiving all of the mail that has been started on its way to us.

If you don’t know that a piece of mail has been sent, how do you know if it is missing if it never arrives? How much

FROM THE PAST

Every so often a bit of the Society’s history crosses our desk. Below is one such fragment. Members may find the first paragraph of interest. Membership was rather low in 1942, probably only a few hundred, and the Society did not have their own journal for notices to members. Thus, it was economic to send personal notes to the members using FDCs.

The last paragraph is as pertinent now as it was forty years ago.

This note was on half sheet of letterhead paper. The Society name, etc. was printed in black but the message itself was dittoed (hectograph, Roneo, or whatever) in purple and badly faded. I have copied the message for reproduction purposes.

THOUGHTS AND THINGS

mail is so badly mangled by automatic facing and cancelling machines that it is being discarded rather than recovered for forwarding to its destination?

The following item was sent in by a member in New Westminster, B.C.

“A man here in New Westminster phoned our post office to complain that he was not getting his Time magazine. He was told by the party answering the phone: ‘We have a whole pile of magazines here. Would you like to come down and go through them and pick out your copy?’”

Will we ever see an efficient postal service again or has that become an impossible dream?

“We progress at night when the politicians sleep”.

POSTAL ARRANGEMENTS
— OLD STYLE

“As there were no established means of communication along the route, arrangements were made with the Hudson’s Bay Company to place Indians with light canoes at different points, and by them the mails were regularly forwarded during August and September.” (From p. 9 of the official "Report on the Red River Expedition of 1870" by Lieut. Col. M. Bell Irvine, CMG, Assistant Controller). Ross W. Irwin

Was that service faster than the present service? Ed.

New Canadian Philatelist Editor

The new man who is taking over the editor's job, starting with the May-June issue is Ronald R. Richards, currently of Toronto.

Montreal born, thirty-two years old and single, Ron Richards is well qualified for the job. He has been a stamp collector for over twenty years and a member of the Royal for fifteen years. After graduating with a Bachelor of Journalism degree, he was Public Relations Officer with the National Arts Centre for three years. Then he moved to the Canada Post Office for six years.

At Canada Post he was Supervisor in the Market Planning and Development section. He was the originator and editor of the Philatelic Bulletin, editor and writer of the Three Penny Beaver and Stamps Canada, and had much to do with several other aspects of marketing and advertising, including the Olympic stamp souvenir collections and annual souvenir collections.

He is now free-lancing but was most recently with Charlton International for over a year. As Editor/Production Manager he was the editor of a number of their publications - Lyman's Catalogue, Canada Stamps and Stories, Charlton Stamp Guide and writer/editor of the soon to be issued Charlton Specialized Catalogue - Elizabethan Era.

Ron is bringing a wealth of experience to the position. I thank him for coming forward so quickly and wish him well. I also hope that all of our members will give him the help and cooperation which they gave me during my term in the position. pmm

Western postal find.

In 1977 while on a Western Canada holiday, I came upon a cache of postal instruments and was able to obtain impressions from them as shown below. The NO 10 28 date on the broken circle hand-stamp is "as found".

By coincidence, Post West, the Western Canada Postal History Journal, (no longer published), featured an article in 1977 (vol. 3, no. 4, p. 8) which told a similar story of a similar find, and also illustrated eight impressions from the find. No post office was identified from the strikes provided. From a 1929 List of Post Offices and Railroad Stations in Canada, we find Readlyn, Saskatchewan (pop, 131) in the Dominion Electoral District of Willow Bunch with the nearest railroad the Canadian Pacific, Shaunavon Branch. The post office must have been established after 1911 as it does not appear in the Canada Official Postal Guide for that year.

Nearly 300 youth, aged 12 to 25, representing over 43 countries will be participating in CANADA 82, Canada’s First International Philatelic Youth Exhibition and the first to be held outside of Europe, at the Queen Elizabeth Hall, Canadian National Exhibition grounds, Toronto. To qualify to enter any of the six competitive classes in the exhibition, the collectors must have previously won a silver/bronze award or better at a national exhibition.

“Discover the World of Stamps” is the theme for Canada 82, jointly sponsored by Canada Post and by the Royal Philatelic Society of Canada under the patronage of the Youth Commission of the Fédération Internationale de Philatélie to encourage the hobby of stamp collecting. It is the sixth international youth competition held since 1969.

Highlight displays will include a pair of rare 12 Penny Blacks, the inverted Seaway stamp, unissued stamps from the 1980 Olympics as well as the 1970 Christmas series designed by Canadian children.

Miniature scale models of the Massey-Harris Quadricycle introduced by the Toronto Post Office in 1901 and the “large red wagon” which was used to inaugurate the first rural mail delivery in Canada on October 10, 1908 between Hamilton and Ancaster, Ontario, will be unveiled at Canada 82.

A total of three scale models, approximately 8” to 12” high, are presently being hand-crafted in London, England, for the National Postal Museum, Ottawa, by Aeronautical & General Model Makers Ltd.

'Visitors to the exhibition will be able to send mail to Europe via satellite, watch the engraving of a postage stamp and take a space-age look at Canada’s history of stamps through a multi-media show. Ten foreign postal administrations will display their stamps and there will also be a bourse area. The National Postal Museum will be represented with a large historical display and a working post office.

Canada Post is continuing the tradition established for CAPEX 1978 by issuing five uniquely designed commemorative stamps for Canada 82 in the stamp-on-stamp format. The special commemorative stamps will consist of: the 1851 Three Penny Beaver, 1935 Mountie, 1908 Champlain Departure, 1928 Mount Hurd, and 1929 Bluenose. The first two have already been issued. Designed by Gottschalk and Ash Limited of Toronto, the stamps are reproduced in lithography from the steel engraved die proofs against a colour background which extends through the perforations. This design feature has never before been used on Canadian postage stamps. (See Canada Post Notes, page 107.)

The first two were issued on March 11. The Threepenny Beaver of 1851, Canada's first postage stamp and the first true pictorial stamp in the world was issued in a 30¢ denomination. The second, the ten-cent Royal Canadian Mounted Police constable on horseback which appeared on June 1, 1935, was issued in a 35¢ denomination. The remaining three stamps will be issued on May 19. A souvenir sheet of the five commemorative stamps will be available at Canada 82.

In addition, Canada Post has designed a cancellation program to complement the five theme days of Canada '82:

- Thursday, May 20 Canada '82 Day,
  10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

- Friday, May 21 Postal Administration Day,
  10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

- Saturday, May 22 Day of the Provinces,
  Noon to 6:00 p.m.

- Monday, May 24 Postal Museums Day,
  10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

All mail deposited at Canada '82 will be emptied at closing each day and receive the appropriate cancellation stamp.

Madame Zou Jianjun, internationally acclaimed artist from the People's Republic of China, will unveil six commemorative stamps and the souvenir sheet she designed for China in honour of Canada '82. The unusual commemorative sheet (top), depicts six medicinal flowers of China: the

The Chinese designer will sign autographs on souvenir cards and first day covers during the five-day stamp exhibition.

Other postal administrations participating in Canada ’82 include: Australia, Austria, Brazil, France, Great Britain, New Zealand, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, the U.S. and the United Nations Postal Service, the only international postal administration that prints stamps for more than one country.

Daily admission to Canada’82 is $3.00 for adults, which includes the Canada ’82 catalogue; free entry for children accompanied by adults; and no charge for senior citizens.

Postal employees and their children, with appropriate identification, will be granted free admission to Canada ’82, courtesy of Canada Post and the Royal Philatelic Society of Canada.

THOSE TYPOGRAPHICALS
When each number of the C.P. is received from the printer, I read through it with some trepidation because I know that I will find some typographical errors that should have been caught during the proofreading.

While I was browsing through the March 1957 issue of Popular Stamps recently, I came across a note about them by A.L. McCready, the editor of that fine magazine. I think he expressed our feeling about them very well.

“The bane of every printer, proofreader and editor are those typographical errors. Every month after P.S. is out and in the mail I find a quiet evening and take liesurely inventory of the latest issue. Nearly always I will find one or more of those embarrassing mistakes in proofreading. They may not be serious but do deflate your pride in workmanship. . . .”

“Like sinners, we have them with us always, these contemptible, insidious and irascible typographicals. They’ve made many and editor grey-haired, or even bald — and that could have got by us as bawled or balled”.

Air Vice Marshal A.E. Godfrey

Air Vice Marshal A. Earl Godfrey, one of the last of Canada’s pioneer aviators died in Kingston General Hospital on January 1, 1982, at the age of 91.

He served in the Royal Flying Corps during WW I shooting down 17 enemy aircraft and two balloons and was awarded the Air Force Cross and Military Cross.

He joined the RCAF in 1920 and had advanced to Air Vice Marshall by 1942. He retired in 1944.

While in the air force in 1926 he flew a Douglas MO-2VS with its millionaire owner, J. Dalzell McKee, from Montreal to Vancouver. This was the first cross-Canada flight in a seaplane and single-engine aircraft. It took nine days including 34 hours and 41 minutes of flying time.

McKee set up the McKee Trans-Canada Trophy for contributions to aviation after that flight.

In 1928, Godfrey flew a Fairchild seaplane from Ottawa to Vancouver in three days, carrying the first trans-Canada air mail (300 official letters).

In 1976 he was awarded the McKee Trophy in recognition of his substantial contributions to Canadian aviation, one of which was, of course, the 1926 trans-Canada flight.

Highlights From The Early Days of The Cunard Line

by J.C. Arnell, RPSC 8170

XV. The Cunard Auxiliary Mailboats (conclusion)

In 1850, Cunard established a monthly service between New York, Bermuda and St. Thomas, V.I., where connections were made with the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company’s West Indies service to Southampton. The Ospray was diverted to New York from Bermuda late in September to make the inaugural run, and was replaced in November by the Merlin, which had been built for the route.

In the spring of 1851, in anticipation of the arrival later in the year of the Levantine, the first iron-hull propeller steamer to be ordered for operations out of Halifax, and with the Falcon and Ospray available, Newfoundland was again served by a mail steamer. However, this was to be very short-lived, for the Falcon was lost a Cape Broyle in the early hours of 8 May in a dense fog. The vessel sank almost immediately, but there was no loss of life and only the Mail was saved. Cape Broyle is halfway between Cape Race and St. John’s, and about 30 miles from the latter. The Ospray served Bermuda for the rest of the year, while the schooner Harriett was quickly refitted for the Newfoundland run.

The Levantine arrived at Halifax from England on 26 November 1851 and was assigned to the Bermuda run, releasing the Ospray for Newfoundland. From the start, she was plagued by constructional and mechanical problems. Her maiden voyage to Bermuda, planned for the second week in December, was delayed until the third week of February, due to a leaking hull. During the next year, she had various breakdowns on at least seven occasions, chiefly broken propeller shafts, forcing her to complete the voyages under sail, or to be replaced by the Ospray or a sailing vessel. The complaints of merchants, sup-

Carried by the America from Liverpool on 16 February and arrived at Halifax on 29 February. Carried by the Curlwe from Halifax on 14 March. ported by V. Adm. Seymour at Bermuda, forced her withdrawal from service in April 1853. On 18 May, she cleared Halifax for Glasgow and passed out of the Cunard mall service.

Bermuda suffered from a very uncertain mail service from the first appearance of the Levantine until the end of 1853, as sailing vessels were again used after her departure. The situation was resolved when the Curlwe joined the fleet and took over the New York-Bermuda-St. Thomas service in December 1853, releasing the Merlin for the Halifax-Bermuda route. In June 1854, Halifax replaced New York as the northern terminus of the St. Thomas service, with the Curlwe as the principal steamer. This was in effect an extension of the Halifax-Bermuda service, connecting with transatlantic steamers at both Halifax and St. Thomas. The sailings were reduced from fortnightly to once every four weeks. The Curlwe was lost on the Bermuda reefs on 18 March 1856 and was succeeded in turn by the Merlin, Delta, Alpha and Beta.

This route proved to be successful and was maintained after the Cunard transatlantic steamers stopped calling a Halifax at the end of 1867, after which first the Inman Line and then the Allan Line held the Halifax transatlantic contract. In 1880, the West Indies end of the Halifax-Bermuda service was expanded, but soon competition made it redundant and the Cunard contract was cancelled in July 1886.

As a footnote to this account, several of the early mailboats went on to other things soon after the introduction of the propeller steamers. The brig Margaret, also known as the Forte, was sold to John Strachan in October 1849 and took a load of salt fish to the West Indies. In reporting this, the Halifax Nova Scotian commented: "The Mail Bags are every where forwarded by steam except through the interior of the province. When shall it be applied there also?"

The Velocity soon followed the Margaret into the West Indian trade. This prompted a full editorial in the 31 December, 1849 Nova Scotian, which is quoted below as it reflects the impact of steam on the community:

"THE LAST OF THEM. The Velocity Mail packet long and well known as sailing between this port and Bermuda — but even better known in her day as the old Chebucto, formerly employed in the Revenue service of this province — has been sold to the Messrs. West, for the West India trade. Improvement is now, happily, the order of the day, and contrasted with the splendid propeller now engaged in carrying the Mails, between Halifax and the Summer Islands, this once beautiful craft cuts but a sorry figure. And yet the Chebucto has been, like every old woman, a belle in her time. Well do we remember in her palmy days ‘the very glass of fashion and mould of form’, when as ‘the observed of all observers’, her former commanders were wont to show off her beautiful proportions, turning in or out of the waters after which she was named, under all plain with royals and flying jib. Ah, these were the times! — the good old times! — the times a return of which are so much coveted by those who have, unfortunately grown older without growing wiser! These are they who give the lie to Tony Weller's assertion — that width and wisdom are inseparably united! These were the days when old Tilley used to think ninety days from Falmouth, a capital passage across the Western ocean. This was to an age when, if a man could have been found bold enough to assert, that a Cunard line of Ocean Steamers would across the Atlantic in little more than a week, and keep up the pace as regularly as an old eight-day clock, he would have been published in the Recorder, or Weekly Chronicle, as having been consigned to the workhouse, for grossly attempting to impose upon the public! This was an era of our provincial history when Steam was scarcely thought of; it was previous to the first session of the Mechanics' Institute, where our townsmen, perhaps, first heard the wonders of science descanted upon....

"But we had nearly forgotten the old Chebucto! The associations of the past have made a vivid impression on our memory. The history of this old vessel is remarkably curious, as well as necessarily interesting. For many long years she was the pride of Halifax harbour, and one half of our population who chose to make their home upon the world of waters, made their debut in the Chebucto. Some day or other we may be tempted to take up the subject, and refresh the memories of those who do know, and possibly amuse those who do not know, the history of the old Chebucto".

I have a particular interest in the old Chebucto, for, together with the Earl Bathurst, she was the focus of one part of my study of the armed vessels of the Nova Scotian Government in the early 19th century. This research called my attention to Cunard's early association with the movement of the Mails and led to much of my later work of the transatlantic mail story. The Chebucto article may be found on page 337, volume 54 (1968) of the Mariner's Mirror.
STAMPS FOR THE DAY

Windsor Castle

by Beverlie Clark

Windsor Castle, situated on a steep chalk cliff overlooking the Thames, twenty-five miles from London, is the only Norman palace which is still the home of a reigning monarch. This grey mass of stone: walls, towers and buildings, dominated by the Round Tower, and surrounded by trees, park and forest, is the largest castle in England, and one of the most magnificent and interesting of royal residences.

Windsor was a residence of the ancient Saxon kings long before the Norman Conquest, their place being in the parish of Old Windsor. It was William the Conqueror who chose the present site, three miles upstream, to build his fortress. The year of its beginning is uncertain, but it is believed to be about 1070. The earliest recorded reference to it is in the Domesday Survey of 1086.

The early castle was built of wood and was surrounded with a palisade. Within the massive stockade, covering thirteen acres of the cliff top, two courtyards were laid out separated by a high, broad mound, on which the Round Tower now stands. For the first forty years it served as a fortress or prison.

The first residence was built by Henry I (r 1106-1135), who also was the first to hold court at New Windsor, thus supplanting the ancient Saxon palace at Old Windsor. During the reign of Henry II (r 1154-1189) the castle was made into a much stronger fortress, the building of the Round Tower began, and masonry replaced most of the wooden defences of his great-grandfather.

Henry III was an ardent encourager of architecture and during his reign Windsor became one of the most splendid castles in Europe. The first chapel on record was built by this monarch. The three towers on the western side of the lower ward, now known as the Curfew, the Garter, and the Salisbury Towers were erected by him in 1241, but it was his grandson, Edward III, who transformed the castle into the fortified palace it has since remained.

The castle was the birthplace of the third Edward, known as Edward of Windsor, and because of this he was strongly attached to Windsor. In 1349 he instituted the Order of the Garter, and at the same time repaired the chapel erected by Henry III, and dedicated it to St. George. In 1356 he embarked on an ambitious programme, under the advice of William of Wykeham, of repairing the castle. The royal lodgings, St. George's Hall, the buildings on the east and north sides of the upper ward, exclusive of the towers erected in Henry III's reign, were now built.

The later decades of the fifteenth century saw the next period in the beautification of Windsor, when Edward IV, finding the foundation and walls of St. George's Chapel much dilapidated and decayed, decided to build a larger and statelier structure in its place. This new structure, the present chapel, was completed about four decades later.

Changes and additions continued on through the years by each monarch in succession. The entrance gate to the Lower Ward, which is the main entrance to the castle, was built by Henry VIII in 1509-10. Elizabeth I (r 1559-1603) extended and widened the North Terrace. The grand staircase was added during the reign of Charles II while Queen Anne's (r 1702-1714) operations were chiefly towards improving the parks.

The first two monarchs of the House of Hanover, George I (r 1714-1727) and George II (r 1727-1760) rarely used Windsor as a residence, preferring Hampton Court and Kensington Palace. By the time George III arrived there it has been totally neglected, and an attempt at restoration began during his reign, the second longest in English history. But chief credit must be given to George IV and his architect, Sir Jeffry Wyatville, who transformed the castle inside and out by combining the works of many periods into one very effective composition, in the years after 1820.

Windsor reached its artistic peak during the reign of George IV, not only in the architectural alternations but also in the interior splendour, the furniture and paintings, the gold and silver plate, and the priceless objects d’art.

Wyatville’s work with the castle continued throughout the reign of William IV (r 1830-1837), and after eight centuries of building and rebuilding the architectural progression came to a halt during the reign of Queen Victoria.

Tradition is also a part of Windsor Castle, and one of several engendered during the twentieth century was the funeral usage of the great Sebastopol Bell brought to England after the Crimean War and hung in the Round Tower. This bell added its mourning note to that of the Curfew Tower bell during the funeral of Queen Victoria. Since that time the Sebastopol Bell has always been tolled on the death of the Sovereign and again during the funeral procession. It is never heard on any other occasion.

The castle has been the scene of many historic events. It was the residence of King John when he made his visit to Runnymede, in 1215, while negotiating the Magna Carta. The castle was the last place where Charles I was imprisoned before being taken to London where he was tried, sentenced, and beheaded on January 30, 1649. And King Edward VIII delivered his final broadcast to the nation from a room in the castle, after signing The Instrument of Abdication at Fort Belvedere, Windsor Great Park, December 10, 1936.

A view of Windsor Castle from the Thames River was featured on the 10-cent value of a set of six stamps issued by Canada on May 4, 1935, commemorating the 25th anniversary of the reign of King George V and Queen Mary.

3,125,000 Copies were recess printed by the Canadian Bank Note Co. in sheets of 200 divided into panes of 50, from two plates. The colour is green and the perf 12. The imprint (Bogg’s type XII) is found on all four corner sheet margins. However, the imprint stretches over as many as five stamps requiring a strip of five or a block of ten stamps for the complete imprint of plate number and inscription. Both essays and die proofs exist, as well as imperforate plate proofs. O.H.M.S. punched five holes were used by the Government.
Windsor Castle can also be seen on the one pound stamp released by Great Britain in 1955. This stamp had five printings, by three printers: 1) Waterlow & Sons, up to Dec. 31/57; 2) De La Rue, until Dec. 31/62; and Bradbury, Wilkinson.

Distinguishing characteristics are, Waterlow: watermarked St. Edward's Crown (Sept. 1/55); paper: creamy and light cream; colour: intense black; perf: 11 x 12; sheet markings: for the alignment of the perforations, occur between the stamps in the centre, at the top, bottom, left and right of all sheets. Guide pin-holes appear in a coloured circle opposite row 6 at the left and right. Panes also had corner trim marks, but one or both sides may have been trimmed off. Minor reentries showing slight doubling can be found on a number of stamps. Also, issued cancelled with vertical black bars (P.O.T.S.*).

De La Rue: watermarked St. Edward's Crown (May 1/58), cream coloured paper; and multiple crowns (June 30/59), light cream paper; colour - less intense black; perf - 11.8 x 12. Guide marks appear in the side margins of the sheets between rows 5 and 6. This printing is cleaner, lighter and softer than the Waterlow printings. An inverted watermark variety appeared with the 1962 release.

Bradbury, Wilkinson: watermarked multiple crowns (Dec. 2/63), and from Dec. 6/67 on, no watermark. Paper - white; perf 11.9 x12. Guide holes appear in a coloured circle opposite row 6 at left on the left-hand panes and at the right on right-hand panes. Guide crosses occur between rows 5 and 6 at right on left-hand panes and at left on right-hand panes, but not on all plates. These stamps are generally more deeply engraved than the De La Rue printings, showing more of the diadem detail and heavier lines on the Queen's face.

Plate numbers were used by both Waterlow and De La Rue but were trimmed off. Bradbury, Wilkinson plate numbers appear below stamps 3 and 4 in the bottom margin.

ST. GEORGE'S CHAPEL

The small chapel built by Henry the Third and dedicated to St. George by Edward the Third, had served the castle of Windsor for 135 years when Edward the Fourth discovered the foundation and walls in a serious state of decay and resolved to rebuild it on a scale more worthy of the palace and the great order of knighthood - the Order of the Garter. This chapel stands today as one of the finest examples of Gothic architecture of Perpendicular style in the world.

The work on the existing building commenced about the year 1475, but was not completed in one reign or by one architect. The chapel is a long, square-ended building with aisles forming an ambulatory at the east end, crossed by two very short transepts. The main vaulting, begun about the year 1506 and completed a quarter of a century later, is one of the most beautiful specimens of a Gothic stone roof in existence. Supported by exquisite ribs and groins, the ceiling is decorated with heraldic insignia, displaying the arms of many of the sovereigns and noble families.

Of particular elegance are the doors of the east end of the chapel, which were formerly the entrance doors to King Henry the Third’s chapel of 1240. The woodwork was originally covered with scarlet gesso and embellished with elaborate scroll work of wrought iron. In 1555, the background was again painted red and the ironwork gilded.

Considered the most beautiful part of the chapel, the choir is the chapel of the Knights of the Order of the Garter. The massive dark oak seats on either side lead up to a row of elaborately carved, canopied stalls. On the canopies are placed the mantle, helmet, coat, and sword of the knights, and above them hang their banners. On the back of each stall are small enamelled plates, inscribed with the titles of the knights who have occupied it. On the death of a knight, everything is removed from the canopy, and the enamelled plate is moved to a higher position on the panelling, this indicating a vacancy in the Order. The ancient stall of the sovereign was removed in 1788, and a new seat erected, which is immediately on the right of the entrance to the choir. The central boss of the choir vaulting displays the arms of King Henry the Eighth and the date 1528.

The altar was formerly adorned with costly hangings of crimson velvet and gold, but these, together with the consecrated vessels were seized by the order of parliament in 1642. The service of the altar was replaced by Charles the Second.

Not only does St. George’s Chapel form a house of prayer and a temple of chivalry, but it is also the burial-place of kings. In the eastern half of the chapel are the monuments of early date. Here is the tomb of the founder of the chapel, Edward the Fourth, behind an iron screen representing a pair of gates between two Gothic towers. This iron work has been described as the most remarkable of its period in the country. For over three hundred years it was gilt, but in the 19th century it was reduced to its present black condition.

A plain stone in the floor of the choir marks the vault beneath which is the burial-place of King Henry the Eighth and Jane Seymour, along with the ill-fated Charles the First.

In Urswick Chantry is the white marble monument commemorating King George the Fourth’s only child, Princess Charlotte, who died in 1817, and would have become queen on the death of her father, instead of her uncle, William the Fourth, and her cousin, Victoria.

Adjoining the chapel, on the east end, stands the royal tombhouse, or Albert Memorial Chapel, begun in 1494 by Henry the Seventh as a mausoleum, but abandoned for the chapel in Westminster Abbey. George the Third formed a royal crypt beneath its floor; and Queen Victoria eventually dedicated it to the memory of her husband.

The quincentenary of St. George’s Chapel was marked by a special service at the chapel on April 23, 1975, and coincident to this occasion Great Britain issued, on that day, five multicoloured stamps in recognition of the European Architectural Heritage Year. This set included the 10p seen above, featuring the Chapel of St. George at Windsor.
"In the hobby of philately, as with sports, it's easy to spot the winners. They're the ones who aren't complaining about of officiating".

A Statistical Study of Awards at FIP Exhibitions

by Col. James T. DeVoss
Vice President, FIP

We all know that a fat pocketbook, lots of philatelic knowledge, and a little luck in locating those elusive rare items, play a very important part in whether you can expect to win a large gold medal at an international exhibition held under the patronage of the Federation Internationale de Philatelie. We also know that if you are exhibiting 19th Century material your chances of winning a top award are greatly enhanced.

But let's take a look from a different angle at award-winning collections at FIP exhibitions.

A computerized record exists of all collections winning vermeil of higher awards at FIP exhibitions held during the 14-year period from 1968 through 1981. These records include 28 exhibitions starting with PRAGA 1968 and continuing through PHILATOKYO 1981, the last international exhibition held under FIP patronage. Also included in these records are the specialized international exhibitions devoted to thematics, aerophilately, etc.

A total of 1,654 different exhibitors from 56 different countries won vermeil or higher awards. These exhibitors showed 2,254 different collections, with 378—or nearly 17 percent—winning large gold or higher awards.

Germany & Colonies has been by far the most popular subject for exhibits at FIP exhibitions, leading all other country categories with a total of 160 different collections. France was a distant second as most popular country with 112 collections, followed by Italy & Italian States (107) and the United States (102, excluding Possessions).

The remaining top ten most popular countries were Austria, including Lombardy-Venetia, with 77; Great Britain, not including the Commonwealths and Colonies, 68; Switzerland, 68; Russia, 63; and Czechoslovakia and India, tied at 50 each.

Although ranked only third in total number of collections, Italy & Italian States as a subject walked off with top award-winning honors, garnering 31 large gold or higher awards. Germany & Colonies was second with 24, and the United States, third, with 19. There was a three-way tie in fourth position, with France, Great Britain, and Canada with 15 each.

On a percentage basis, considering only those countries with 20 or more collections, 36 percent of the Canada & Provinces exhibits won large gold or higher awards. Sweden with 35 percent and Denmark with 31 percent were close on Canada's heels in winning large gold or higher awards. Next in order on a percentage basis were Italy & Italian States, 29 percent; Colombia, 28; Greece and Finland, 26 percent each; Spain, 23; Great Britain, 22; Portugal, 21; and India, 20 percent.

It would appear that either foreign collections are quite popular in the United States or that perhaps those with outstanding U.S. collections have not had the urge to compete internationally. The number of different exhibitors with the U.S. as country of residence winning vermeil or higher awards headed the list with 209, even though U.S. subject collections ranked only fourth in the high awards.

Following close on the heels of United States exhibitors were those from Germany, totaling 199. Swiss exhibitors were a distant third with 134, followed by 132 from Great Britain, and 123 from Italy. Completing the top ten countries of origin were exhibitors from France (71), Belgium (68), Sweden (62), Czechoslovakia (56), and Japan (44).

It should be noted that these figures are influenced by the fact that Switzerland, Belgium, and Czechoslovakia all staged two international exhibitions during this 14-year period, and all of the other top ten countries were host to one FIP exhibition. Among the top thirty countries where philately is a popular hobby, the USSR, Finland, Turkey, East Germany, patronage of FIP from 1968 through 1981. The number of such exhibitions held in that country is indicated in parentheses immediately after the country name.

Rumania, South Africa, Greece, and Luxembourg had not been the site of an exhibition held under FIP patronage during the past 14 years.

At the end of Table 2 is a listing of exhibits that are not limited to the stamps and covers of a single country. These include air mail, postal history, and miscellaneous exhibits that contain more than a single country and therefore could not be included in the geographical listing. All of the thematic exhibits winning vermeil or higher award are included in the figure of 209, but the figures for air mail and postal history exhibits do not include those limited to a single country.

All of these facts and figures are not intended in any way to dull the enthusiasm of those collectors who have not yet competed at the international level. In fact, just the opposite effect is intended. More than 1,600 different exhibitors have made the "honor" list in the past 14 years, and undoubtedly many more than that will do it during the next fourteen. Why not put together the best collection you possible can, win a silver of better at a national exhibition to become eligible to compete at the international level, and then move up into the tough worldwide competition? Several exhibitors showing for the first time at the international level have won large gold or higher awards. Try it — you too may become one of them!

The following different collections were awarded vermeil or higher awards at FIP exhibitions (1968-1981). Those not exclusively a single-country collection are listed by subject. The figure in parentheses indicates the number of collections that won at least one large gold or higher award.

The regular 25¢ booklet has already been reported with the dot between the towers. This variety still remains on some recently pulled booklets. In addition a rather nice variety was found on some booklets coming from a machine in Longueuil, P.Q. Here the left side of the Peace Tower just above the clock is broken off, leaving a large white area. Another peculiar fine black line can be noted on some above the one and the first 17c stamps.

In accordance with records kept at the Federal Archives in Ottawa, Mr. L. Arnsburg of Montreal asked the Post Office in July 1885 if he was allowed to manufacture and issue specimens of obsolete Canadian postage stamps. It is interesting that the reply was not “no” but rather that certain regulations had to be observed. Another item of interest are complaints by receivers of mail to find “Mutilated” stamps on their letters. A large number of such letters were turned over to the the Dead Letter Offices and one office states that the Post Master of St. Ethienne des Gries is using 6c stamps cut in two in payment for 3c postage (30 April, 1885). Another complaint came from a private newspaper with a bisected 1c Small Queen. The practice of giving stamps in payment for goods received must have been fairly common during that period. Many companies request that the Post Office buy back sheets of stamps which they received. In one case 3000 sheets of the 3c Small Queen were involved.

In 1893 Sir Sandford Fleming read a paper to the Canadian Institute suggesting some reforms in postage stamps in accordance with the resolution passed by the Institute. Recognizing the fact that a large proportion of the community is afflicted by the defect in vision known as colour blindness, whilst others from defect of sight are unable readily to determine the value of a postage stamp, the resolution suggested a change in form of the stamps to be eminently practical. This subject appears to have engaged many foreign countries such as, the postal authority of Great Britain as we find in many of their stamps the value marked in large figures, sometimes with some other designs, at other times simply the figure alone. If one looks at all postage stamps of Canada it is obvious that this request was not considered at any time with maybe one exception, the Postage Due stamps.

It will be interesting to see how the Post Office will have dealt with the meters during the change of postages rates. In the USA meters were changed by a special sticker which not only changed the permit number but the postage paid.

The downward trend of the market continues. This is evident from results of auctions and advertising media. This trend was signalled when first the speculative items, which occupied the front pages, began to take a sharp drop. The drop accelerated and soon affected practically all items, not just the speculative issues. How long will this trend continue and where will it level off? There is probably no answer to this question at this time. Interesting enough is that it appears that proofs and precancels continue to be in strong demand. Mounted collections still do well.

News comes from Germany that a new machine will be introduced which will automatically cancel a letter handed in at the post office showing the value. The cancel appears to be a combined city and value postmark. This is to “Further eliminate the affixing of stamps by customers and post office clerks”. It would also eliminate the additional cancel.

The “A” stamp has been reported printed on the gum side, but it is not clear if this report has been confirmed.

RECENT AND FORTHCOMING ISSUES

March 11, 1982 - CANADA '82, First Issue
On March 11th, two stamps were issued for Canada '92 (May 20-24) which featured stamp on stamp. The 30 cent stamp has the first Province of Canada stamp, the 1851 Three Penny Beaver, and the 35 cent stamp has the 1935 Mountie stamp, one of the definitive series with the first ‘hidden dates’.

The stamps were designed by Gottschalk and Ash Ltd., Toronto, and present the classic stamp designs, reproduced in lithography from the steel-engraved die proofs, against a colour background which extends through the perforations. The remaining three stamps for Canada '82 will have a similar format.

The Canadian Bank Note Company printed 17 million 30 cent stamps and 10 million 35 cent stamps in panes of 25, on coated one side litho paper by 4 colour lithography. The stamps are PVA gummed, perforated 13.25 and are general tagged.
April 2, 1982 - Jules Léger (1913-1980)

This stamp, commemorating Jules Léger, Canada's Governor General from 1974 to 1979, was designed by Pierre Fontaine of Montréal using a photograph by Michael Bedford of Ottawa.

Ashton-Potter Ltd., Toronto, printed 21 million stamps on coated one side litho paper by six colour lithography. The stamps are in panes of 50 stamps, PVA gummed, perforated 13.25 and general tagged.

April 13, 1982 - Terry Fox (1958-1981)

- Marathon of Hope

The 30c stamp designed by Friedrich Peter of Vancouver, presents a graphic picture of Terry Fox during his 1980 "Marathon of Hope" to raise funds for cancer research in Canada.

Ashton-Potter Ltd., printed 44 million stamps in panes of 50 on coated one side litho paper by six colour lithography. The stamps are PVA gummed, perforated 12.5 and general tagged.
A new series of ten 50 cent vending machine booklets was released on March 1. Each contains five stamps in the Maple Leaf design of the 1981 "A" stamp. The stamps, dated 1982, are: 5¢ brown-purple, 10¢ and English label, dark green and the 30¢ and French Label, red. They are PVA gummed, general tagged and perforated 12 x 12.4. The 5¢ and 10¢ stamps will appear only in this format.

The covers are plain cream-coloured card with a line drawing of one of the provincial legislature buildings on the front and description on the back in English and French. The inside front cover is blank; the text on the inside back cover reads: 30-cent stamps are also available in booklets of 20/.

This stamp was issued with two different perforations. No. 789, the sheet stamp, first issued on March 3, 1979, is perforated 13 x 13 1/2 (my stamps measure 12.75 x 13.25, Ed.) No. 789a, from booklet panes, is perforated 12 x 12 1/2 (mine are 12 x 12.4, Ed.) and was issued March 28, 1979. Both stamps are provided with spaces and illustrations in the Minkus album pages and are listed in the Scott, Lyman, Canada Specialized and Minkus catalogues.

Both of these stamps, in mint and used condition, should be in every Canadian collection.

No. 789a, perf, 12 x 12 1/2, perforated on all four sides, can only be found in the $4.25 booklet containing 25 x 17¢ stamps which was released in July 1979. However, only the seven stamps in the centre row are perforated on all four sides, similar to the sheet stamps. These are the stamps to collect, although the straight edged stamps should not be neglected.

The preferable way to collect these stamps in mint condition is to obtain the complete centre row strip from the booklet. This will give you the label and the right hand, straight edge stamp.

These stamps are still available from the Philatelic Service and perhaps in some post offices. If you want these stamps for your collection don't leave buying them until it is too late. (Taken in part from the Winnipeg Philatelic Society's The Buffalo).

LYMAN'S STANDARD CATALOGUE OF CANADA - BNA POSTAGE STAMPS, 35th ed. Summer 1982. Published by The Charlton Press, 299 Queen St. W., Toronto, Ontario M5V 1Z9. 13.7 cm x 20.8 cm, 144 pages, col. illus., paper, 1982. $3.50 from dealers.

This edition brings the illustrations and pricing of Canadian and BNA stamps up to the "A" stamp issue of Dec. 29, 1981. Prices for the majority of the listings have been lowered, some by as much as 50%, even more have been decreased by 25%. Increases are shown mainly by the 19th century, already high priced material. Plate blocks from 1947 are said to be priced but what happened to the plate blocks of No. 294 - 50¢ Oil well (1950), no. 302 - $1 Fishing (1951) and the no. 321 - $1 House Post (1953)?

The quality of the printing appears to have deteriorated somewhat. If one had stamps in the colours as depicted, they would or should be given catalogue listings as colour varieties. When black stamps appear as slate green, sepia as light green and many pages have off registered printing, it is time for the publisher to take a closer look at its product. However, it remains a useful checklist of Canadian and BNA stamps.

The familiar Harris catalogue is now available in the latest edition with revised prices for all items. The editor notes that newer issues are appreciating at a faster than normal rate, possibly because dealers are not maintaining large inventories because of the cost of money. It remains to be seen if these fast rates are maintained in future listings.

This is a useful listing of basic stamps, particularly for those of the U.S.A.

This edition has the same number of pages as the 5th edition although the listings have been increased. The background information on the 1973 definitive issue has been deleted to make room for the additions.

The postal history has been expanded slightly, introducing more listings for Single-ring Handstamps, Double-ring Postmarks and Rubber Postmarks.

All stamps issued up to the end of 1981 are included. Prices have been revised and the majority have been raised. Postal History items have received, in some cases, substantial increases while more recent stamp issues have increased only slightly.

This is a cleanly printed checklist with sharp accurate colour registration of the stamps depicted.

COLLECT CHANNEL ISLANDS STAMPS: A Stanley Gibbons Checklist of the Stamps of the Channel Islands. 10th ed. Published by Stanley Gibbons Publications Ltd., 391 Strand, London WC2R 0LX, England. 16.9 cm x 19.3 cm, 64 pages, col. illus., stiff covers, 1982. £1.65 or equivalent.

This checklist includes all the issues of the independent postal administrations since 1969 as well as war time, general 1948 issues, and regional stamps (1958-69). Details are given wherever possible of the quantities sold, cylinder numbers, sheet size, imprint and dates of withdrawal as well as the usual information about perforation, watermark, etc.

THE SALES CIRCUIT ——

Our multiple circuits are building up gradually. If you have sent in requesting circuits, please be patient. We will soon have everyone in their proper category.

A few small problems have arisen. When you send the circuit on to the next member, be sure to use stamps, not a postal meter impression. We are all stamp collectors who like to see those lovely stamps on our parcels. Also, be sure to let the Sales Department know if you are going to be away from home for a length of time.

We need Canadian mint and used, Australia, New Zealand, Channel Islands, Western Europe, British West Indies, France and Netherlands stamps.

If you have any question about the Sales Circuit, contact me by phone or by mail.

(Mrs) Margaret Allen, Director of Sales, P.O. Box 727, Fenelon Falls, Ont., KON 1N0.

FROM THE CHAPTERS ——

The following has been taken directly from the monthly newsletter of The Philatelic Club of Montreal (Chapter 122). Lloyd Slaven the editor, wrote some kind words about the Canadian Philatelist in the March issue (Vol. 7, No. 7) for which I thank him very much. He then went on to say the following (April issue, Vol. 7, No. 8):

"...A.A. Shaman has an interesting article on “Canada’s Centennial Cancellations” (1967) in the Dec./81 issue, how-

Geldert Medal Presentation

The presentation of the Geldert Medal for 1981 to Mr. C.R. McGuire of Ottawa was made by Mrs. Phyllis Geldert at MINIEX ’82, Ottawa’s annual Inter-Club meeting/exhibition hosted by the Bells Corners Stamp Club, 2 March 1982.

Colin H. Bayley, Chairman of the Geldert Award Committee, in making introductory address called attention to the significance of the award, which is to recognize what is judged to be the best article published in the Canadian Philatelist in a given year and, at the same time, to perpetuate the memory of Dr. G.K. Geldert, former President of the Canadian Philatelic Society/Royal Philatelic Society of Canada. The Award was presented to Mr. McGuire for his article “The Maple Leaf Issue of Canada 1897-1898” which appeared in the Jan.-Feb., and Mar.-Apr. 1981 issues of The Canadian Philatelist.

Mr. McGuire’s response to the presentation follows and contains several thoughts for all members to keep in mind when they read their Society’s journal.

“While researching and writing are often hard work, requiring concentration, discipline and long hours, I do it because I enjoy it. Personally I find it quite adequate reward to have my work published and to hear a good remark or two about what I have produced. However, an award like the Geldert Medal makes the effort involved all that much more worthwhile as well as meaningful. Therefore, I assure you I very much appreciate the Committee finding my Maple Leaf article worthy of this honour.

I hope the Geldert Medal will serve as an incentive to all of you to write that paper you have been putting off for years. We are fortunate to have four major societies concerned with Canadian philately. They all publish fine journals. Their editors all require material, it is up to us to provide it. I encourage you to do so; please do it now”.

ever I disagree with his opening statement that “there exists a dearth of interesting and appealing cancellations on Modern Canadian stamps when compared to... cancels of our earlier history”. Most of you know by now that one of my collecting interest is “Canadian Philatelic Events” and I have found a good deal of material (including many cancelled, postally used covers) in this area. Not easy to find, but they are out there somewhere. Anyhow it was a good article and I agree with his conclusion that “the pursuit of tracking down... cancellations will be a most satisfying and rewarding experience”. After all, if you have the money there is not too much challenge in acquiring a MNH copy of 302 or even 158, but try tracking down a postally used cover with a beautiful beaver cancel from the “Second Annual Canadian Postage Stamp Exhibition” in Winnipeg in 1924”.

LITERATURE

All stamp issues of 1981 are included as are the stamp picture cards issued by the two post offices - Guernsey 1980 Peter Le Lievre paintings and 1981 Royal Wedding and Jersey 1981 Christmas.

Prices have been revised but do not show a general trend. Early issues and postal history items tend to have declined slightly, middle issues (early 1970s) have remained, for the most part, at last year's levels while the later issues from 1979 onwards tend to have increased very slightly.

RPSC CLASSIFIED ADS
FOR RPSC MEMBERS

If you have something to sell or exchange, or if you are seeking some elusive philatelic items why not try a classified ad in the "CP". Instead of sending letters with the increased postage rate use the "CP" at a minimum cost of .15 cents per word but not less than $3.00 for any one ad. Six consecutive ads that may be changed in content but not size, cost only the price of five. You can make your interests known to over 6,000 collectors and hundreds of dealers at a minimum of cost. Why not send your ad copy and cheque to me today?

COLLECTION OF
THE FUR TRADE
1750-1885
TO BE OFFERED FOR SALE IN EARLY SPRING
AT UNRESERVED PUBLIC AUCTION

THE HISTORY OF THE CANADIAN WEST

Letters and documents from the PIONEERS, EXPLORERS, MISSION-ARIES, SOLDIERS and ADVENTURERS who charted hitherto unknown regions, developed the fur trade with the Indians and established the original forts, settlements and trading posts. Fascinating correspondence from Hudson’s Bay and North-West Company factors and traders detailing and bringing vividly to life the constant expansion of the western fur trading empire in Canada. The collection includes material relating to the French Indian Wars, War of 1812, Parry Expedition, etc., ending with both Riel Rebellions. It contains a wealth of carefully selected covers including many with AMERICAN POSTAGE STAMPS USED IN CANADA, scarce markings and other rare and exotic items. Postal History at its finest, the ultimate collection of Western Postal History, assembled by the Dean of Canadian Postal Historians, the late Charles P. De Volpi.

Catalogues available by subscription only. Prices for four major auctions and prices realized are only $10 in Canada, $15. in the United States and $20. overseas.
