82 | March - April 1994 The Canadian Philatelic
WHAT IS THE ROLE OF AN EDITOR?

In the current issue of BNA Topics, editor Vic Willson raises some issues concerning the function of an editor of a philatelic journal.

As editor of a journal for BNA specialists, Mr. Willson's responsibilities differ somewhat from mine. Nevertheless, many of our problems are similar, and there is considerable overlap in the membership of our respective organizations.

Editors of society journals such as ours work under the guidance of the directors, but in practice they exercise considerable editorial independence. It is both inevitable and desirable that they place their personal stamp on the journals that they direct. The Royal, as our national philatelic organization, has a broad membership embracing the full range of philatelic interests. In selecting feature articles, I look for writing that will engage the interest of as many readers as possible. A major role of this journal, in my view, is to expose new approaches and specialties to a wider audience. Original research, of course, is desirable, but it is not the deciding factor in my selection of an article. On several occasions over the past two years I have suggested to authors that they submit their work to BNA Topics or the PHSC Journal when I considered their articles to be of interest chiefly to a small group of specialists. In no case was this a reflection of the quality of the work.

Like Mr. Willson, I have noticed that some writers become upset over decisions such as this. There seems to be a view in some circles that the role of the editor is to act merely as a compiler, publishing whatever comes through the transom window of the editor's office in order and without change.

Did philatelic editors ever act this way? I don't know. Perhaps the organizers of a national convention in the future might consider this as the subject for a seminar. In any case, I view my role as a very active one, as Mr. Willson does. I have sent articles back to authors for complete rewriting, and for minor changes. I have sent several to known authorities on various subjects for verification of facts or comment on other aspects of the article. On occasion I correct factual errors myself, although my philatelic library is small. And then there is the normal editorial work, altering awkward construction and bad grammar.

Many authors, I find, appreciate some assistance in preparing their work for publication. Others, though, resent any intrusion of an editor's blue pencil. It is a basic rule of writing that no one should edit their own work - an author is simply too close to his writing to judge it objectively. I could put together an amusing talk on authors who think otherwise. One sent me an article that would have occupied at least 40 pages, which he insisted had to run in one issue without changing a word. He assured me that the quality of this journal would be elevated greatly by its inclusion. It was very poorly written, and contained nothing that was not readily available in other places. Another writer, when I asked for some minor changes, declared that he did not propose to be edited by The Canadian Philatelist.

This journal exists not to bolster the vanities of a few authors, but to provide information to Royal members that is useful and entertaining. Information must be as accurate as possible. Space is always at a premium, and it must be allocated carefully and fairly across a wide range of subjects. On controversial issues, all sides must be given an opportunity to state their opinions.

I hope no potential contributor feels intimidated by these remarks. I am always happy to work with new authors, and it is one of my major objectives to bring new writers into print. More on this next time.
THE HOLOGRAM

No need to tell you what country this is from. So far there is only one multiple Hologram stamp in all North America, and Canada Post issued it on October 1, 1992, a dazzling miniature pane of 20 stamps. Ten of these are Holograms.

The two stamp designs symbolize Canada’s participation with the U.S.A. in space technology and exploration. Also, for the first time ever a Canadian stamp printer and a U.S.A. stamp printer worked jointly on producing the pane. So it is of considerable interest to all collectors in the U.S.A., any who so far have restricted themselves to U.S. stamps.

Only 500,000 panes were issued. It was an instant success. Within a month supplies vanished in most post offices. After all, had there been only the Hologram on sale the half million issued would have lasted just four days, a normal Canadian postal need.

I am in the market to buy unlimited quantities from anyone who bought larger supplies. If available state number and price wanted. Greatly interested in buying the errors that occurred during printing. I offer $3,000.00 for one certain variety needed to complete a set for a client. Other values urgently needed.

Otherwise I offer these:

1. 10 normal panes — $150.00 US, mailed registered using an 11th complete pane. Complete used panes will be valuable; but am not responsible if any used on package are damaged while in transit.

   (My previous offer of 10 panes for $100.00 is cancelled.)

2. The astonishing two extreme miscuts of the Hologram. One has all 10 Holograms with the Canada map floating high in the sky. Call it the "High Up" variety. The other pane has the Canada map with at least 90% of the populated area missing. I suggest calling it "Low Down," but do invite collectors to send other possible names.

   Both panes — $100.00 US ($120.00 Canadian). Will add to the pair two other varieties and will use a normal pane to mail the lot registered. 5 total.

Above and other varieties will be listed in the Unitrade Canada Specialized Catalog. (Current edition available at $15.00).

P.S. All R.P.S.C. members will get a special rebate on all orders as above. Specify membership number.

Both lots available on approval. Orders or approval requests to:

Samuel C. Nickle, FRPSC

Sam C. Nickle, Jr. of Calgary, Alberta, died January 26, 1994 of pneumonia. A memorial service was held on February 2, 1994 at the Cathedral Church of the Redeemer. An honour guard and the pipes and drums of The Calgary Highlanders paid an impressive tribute.

Mr. Nickle was born in Winnipeg, but at an early age moved to Calgary where he obtained all his schooling. His interest in the military led him to join the militia in 1935, and he transferred to the permanent force in 1939. As a Sergeant Major he went overseas with the Calgary Highlanders but soon was selected for officer training. He was seconded to the Canadian Intelligence Corps, serving in Great Britain and France. After the war he rejoined The Calgary Highlanders and later being made their Honourary Colonel.

A prominent Calgary businessman, Sam Nickle founded the Nickle Map Service, and spent many years in the oil industry in Calgary. A very patriotic Canadian, he was well known as a collector of Canadiana, specializing in Canadian maps, art, silver, and china. An avid philatelist, his collection of the Canadian Pence issues was extensive and was recognized internationally.

Mr. Nickle was a long time member of the Royal Philatelic Society of Canada, and was elected a Fellow in 1982. He had served as President of the British North America Philatelic Society, and became a member of the Order of The Beaver in 1986. As well, he was a member of the Canadian Philatelic Society of Great Britain and a Fellow of the Royal Philatelic Society (London). The membership he treasured most was with the BNAPS-Calgary Group, where he had made many life long friends.

Well known in international philatelic circles, he exhibited and judged at many shows around the world. He had served as a Director of the National Postal Museum, the National Stamp Design Committee, and on countless boards and committees.

Mr. Nickle will long be remembered for his dedication to the hobby and for his willingness to share knowledge and expertise. He was a great supporter of local philately and will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Sam Nickle leaves his wife Rosemary, his daughter Suzanne, two grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

EXPERTISING MARKS

Sir,

Recently a Canadian auctioneer had this warning in his terms of sale:
"Regarding expertizations, NO lots may be returned with back stamps stating FAKE, FALSCH, or similar markings. Recently there has been a spate of German expertizers marking the backs of stamps. It is your responsibility as a purchaser not to let this happen."

This is a Catch-22 situation: a purchaser wishing to sell rare German stamps in Germany cannot prevent this from happening. No reputable German dealer would offer stamps such as Berlin 981-20 with BLACK overprints (or the RED) without having them expertized. And the German expertizing rules are clear: no stamp will be expertized unless the owner agrees to have it marked ‘falsch’ if it is a forgery. German expertizers will always mark ‘falsch’ (forgery or fake) on the back of a stamp they determine to be a forgery. If the owner requests that this not be done, the German dealer will simply return the stamp unexpertized to the owner (and think the owner was trying to pass a fake off on him).

These German rules are completely different from those current in North America, where a forgery is declared by the expert to be a forgery and is returned unmarked.

I would not buy an unexpertized rare German stamp (especially a Berlin overprint) unless the seller specifically guaranteed to take it back should a German expert mark it as ‘falsch.’

SIR,

INK-JET SPRAY MARKINGS

I note with interest the Letter to the Editor regarding ink-jet spray markings on stamps. I have had a lot of these double cancellations (an ink-jet marking plus a regular machine cancel) on mail lately from the Vancouver, B.C. post office. I wrote to the postmaster at V6B 3A0, complaining about these double cancellations, and received a reply similar to that received by G.H. Churley, and quoted in the last issue of The Canadian Philatelist.

I can certainly see a collecting value to these new markings when they are free strikes, but when they obliterate the stamp as well as the machine cancel, then neither the cancels nor the stamps are collectible.

Jim Miller
Kamloops, B.C.

SIR,

IN THE MOST RECENT NUMBER OF THE CANADIAN PHILATELIST I NOTICED A COMMENT BY HANS REICHE IN CONNECTION WITH SIGNING OR MARKING A STAMP BY AN EXPERT COMMITTEE. THIS MAY BE STANDARD PRACTICE IN MANY EUROPEAN COUNTRIES, PARTICULARLY GERMANY, BUT IS NOT THE PRACTICE FOR CANADIAN, BRITISH OR AMERICAN EXPERT COMMITTEES. IT MUST BE REMEMBERED THAT IF THE ITEM IS NOT SOLD IT MUST BE RETURNED TO THE OWNER AND I THINK THAT THE OWNER CAN TAKE EXCEPTION TO THE FACT THAT ITS VALUE IN EFFECT HAS BEEN DESTROYED IF IT IS MARKED AS A FORGERY OR AS REPAIRED.

I CAN CERTAINLY UNDERSTAND AN AUCTIONEER’S POSITION THAT AN EXPERTIZING COMMITTEE, OR EXPERT, MAY BE WRONG, AND TO MARK A STAMP AS A FORGERY WOULD CONDEMN IT FOREVER. POSSIBLY THE ANSWER IS TO USE A COMMITTEE THAT DOES NOT MARK AN ITEM SUBMITTED TO IT OR ALTERNATELY, IF THE BIDDER IS CONCERNED ABOUT THE CONDITIONS OF SALE, NOT TO BID ON THE ITEM. I DO NOT AGREE WITH THE SUGGESTION THAT THE TERMS OF SALE MAY BE IMPROPER.

Harry Sutherland, FRPSC

SOME TEMPTING VARIETIES

SIR,

THANKS FOR THE FINE JULY/AUGUST ISSUE OF THE CANADIAN PHILATELIST. IT INCLUDED SOME PARTICULARLY INTERESTING ARTICLES.

THE HISTORY OF SUBMARINE CABLES AND CABLESHIPS WAS WELL RESEARCHED AND WITH A WONDERFUL SELECTION OF STAMPS ILLUSTRATING THE STORY. LET’S HAVE MORE OF THESE UNUSUAL TOPICS.

THE SECOND ARTICLE OF NOTE WAS THE VERY IMPORTANT SECOND PART OF THE TREATISE ON PAPER.
It reminds me of an amusing incident when I was taken on a tour of a security printer at Moorabbin, Victoria, when they were printing the 1981 Australian sports series (Scott 772-775) and the gold rush set (Scott 780-783). We were asked, on arrival, to put our hands in our pockets. We laughed, but they were serious. We did the whole tour with both hands in our pockets, and I could see why. There were barrels full of the most delightful misprints and partial prints.

COMMEMORATIVE USAGE

Sir,

I read Keith Baldwin’s survey of commemorative usage in the Nov.-Dec. issue with great interest. It offered further confirmation that recent commemorative stamps are seldom being used to pay postage on everyday mail.

In my opinion, commemorative usage has little bearing either on the current health or future vitality of stamp collecting. Recently, I was looking over the hobby section at a Smith’s Bookstore in Barrie. There were three shelves of books on sports cards. I found one single book on coin collecting, and nothing whatever on stamp collecting. Not a single book.

This hobby is not being supported by bookstores. The same situation existed at the local Cole’s store — no books on philately.

Barrie is a fair sized city, but there is no longer even one stamp dealer here.

In my view, these are the signs that our hobby is dying.

Michael Millar, FRPSC
Barrie, Ontario

during a calendar year, has made its decision for 1993. The winner is Kevin Wakefield, author of “Submarine Cables and Cable Ships on Postage Stamps” in the July-August issue. This article was a popular one with readers. Mr. Wakefield’s personal familiarity with the subject was evident in the research and presentation. The article was his first appearance in this journal.

A Corporate Member of the Institute of Electrical Engineers, Mr. Wakefield joined Pender’s Eastern Telegraph Company in 1923 and served at many of the stations mentioned in his article, including Porthcurno, Carcavellos, the Red Sea, Turks and Caicos, and the Brazilian Coast. One of his interests was the localization of breaks in submarine cables, which entailed working with many cable ships. He was a guest at the commissioning of the new Retriever in 1961. He retired from Cable and Wireless P.L.C. in 1963.

A stamp collector since a boy, he does not claim to be a philatelist. As a lifelong freelance writer, he has enjoyed writing historical articles, illustrated with stamps, for many years for Stamp Collector, the American magazine.

The presentation of the Geldert Medal is planned to be made at the Annual Convention in Vernon, B.C.

URCH HARRIS TAKEOVER

Stanley Gibbons Limited have purchased the business and assets of Urch Harris and Co. of Bristol, England, from the receivers. A long-established firm, Urch Harris was well known for its postal auctions and new issue service.

Urch Harris will continue in business in Bristol, under its old name.

STAMP DEALERS ELECT NEW SLATE

John Sheffield of Lambeth, Ontario is the new President of the Canadian Stamp Dealers’ Association. Other officers elected for the 1994-95 term are: Vice President, Roy Houtby, St. Catharines, Ont.; Secretary, Rick Day, Burlington, Ont.; Treasurer, John Beddows.
In 1992 the club inaugurated the Sid Richardson Award for the best exhibit at CALTAPEX by a Calgary Philatelic Society member.

He has collected Great Britain most of his life, and is also interested in France, Canada, British Colonies and Flowers on Stamps.

Members of the Edmonton Stamp Club sent a gift and a card signed by many E.S.C. members. Sid Richardson was delighted with the evening, and expressed his thanks to his many friends in both clubs.

CANADIANS HONOURED

Harry Sutherland and Michael Madesker recently were given honorary medals by the Orthodox Church and Culture International Stamp Exhibition held in Moscow. These medals were granted as a token of the gratitude of the Philatelic Union of Russia for their assistance in the transition from the seat held by the Union of Philatelists of the USSR in the FIP to the present body.

PEN-PAL EXCHANGE

Some one hundred years ago a Dane, Svend Knudsen, came upon the idea of an exchange of letters between people with common interests, such as travelling and stamp collecting. Thus was born the movement known as a pen-pal exchange.

In honour of Knudsen’s concept, the Danish Youth Collectors Union is initiating an exchange between their youth and residents of other countries. Canadian youth are encouraged to write to the Union, giving their age and general philatelic interests. They will be matched with a young Danish collector to exchange correspondence and stamps.

Harry Sutherland and Bud Hennig of Chicago formulated the legal motions required, while Michael Madesker acted as the translator and liaison between the various parties in the negotiations.

RAYMOND deRUETTE

Raymond deRuelette passed away on Feb. 19, 1994. He supplied the Royal with hundreds of sales circuit books through the years. Buying lots by the pound and sorting them, he found material that sold well. He also prepared packets for stores, and sold them with better material, not just common stamps. In his last years he spent almost all his time sorting, washing, and mounting stamps. His other hobby was flowers, and his garden was always an attractive sight. He was also an avid fisherman, and spent many happy hours fishing with the late Rt. Hon. John Diefenbaker and his colleagues. He attended stamp clubs in Ottawa regularly, and will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

The organizers of VICPEX chalked up another successful show on the weekend of Oct. 9-10, 1993, at the Holiday Inn in Victoria, B.C.

Members of the three local stamp clubs sponsoring VICPEX ’93 were enthusiastic in their support of the exhibition and this was reflected in the high quality and diversity of the stamp exhibits presented. The show featured excellent exhibits of classic and modern British Commonwealth and foreign material. Thematics were also represented. In the latter category, Lindsay Kiessling’s “French Art As Depicted on Stamps” won a vermeil award and was voted the most popular exhibit.

Six outstanding exhibits won gold awards. George Arthur’s “Changing Modes in the Posting, Transport, and Delivery of Mail in the 19th and 20th Centuries” also took the Thunderbird and Reg Nairne Trophies. The exceptional material presented by Jack Wallace in his exhibit “Vancouver Island and British Columbia” rated a gold award. Vernon Richards took a gold and the Gerald E. Walburn Trophy for “Tibet – The 1933 Issue,” and Rick Fleet won a gold and the Eric Hamber Trophy for his stunning display, “Colour Proofs of the Second Bill Issue of Canada.” Dean Goad won a gold and the Centennial Trophy for his beautifully presented “From a Penny to a Pound,” and Bill Bartlett won a gold and the Lester Small Trophy for his well researched “Merson Issues of France.”

Charles Arnold won a vermeil and the American Association of Philatelic Exhibitors pin for his “Tasmania” and Don Shorting won the Best Mini Exhibit Trophy for “Early Issues of Sweden, 1855-1891.”

There was a fine showing of junior exhibits, all of a high calibre. April Killick, age 10, won gold and the Junior Trophy for “Mushrooms,” and David Barclay, age 10, won vermeil for his “Battle of Britain.”

Bill Bartlett, Saanichton postmaster, ran the Canada Post booth, and a large and varied dealers’ bourse satisfied both beginners and advanced collectors.

‘DINOSAUR DIG’ WINNER

Canada Post Corporation is pleased to announce the ‘Stamp Month Dinosaur Dig’ grand prize has been awarded to 11 year old Grant Porter of London, Ontario.

The ‘Dinosaur Dig’ contest was one of the highlights of Stamp Month. The theme for 1993 was dinosaurs, and Canada’s four commemorative stamps featuring the prehistoric beasts were a monstrous success.

Grant’s prize includes a trip for four to Alberta to visit the Royal Tyrrell Museum, Dinosaur Provincial Park, and a dinosaur dig in Alberta’s Badlands. With accommodation, transportation, and merchandise, the prize is worth approximately $10,000.

More than 100,000 entries were received for the contest. In addition to the grand prize, 550 entrants received prizes ranging from Dinosaur Stamp Albums to Dinosaur T-shirts.

The title of the catalogue will be The Air Mails of Canada. Newfoundland air mails are considered to be part of Canada, but the Newfoundland material will be in a separate section, as is the case with the current AAMS catalogue, the 5th edition of which was published in 1980.

Requests for assistance in compiling data under several sections have already been sent out to experts in Canada, the USA and Europe. The sections will include pioneer flights, semi-official flights, official government flights, crash covers, military souvenir flights, Forces air letter forms, aerogrammes, balloon flights, helicopter flights, glider flights, lists of pilots flying first flights in, to and from Canada, a list of noted Canadian air mail collectors past and present, a comprehensive list of auctions of noted Canadian air mail covers and stamps, a list of significant catalogues and articles on Canadian air mails, a record of Canadian air mail rates, a listing of Canadian air mail, semi-official, and special delivery stamps, first day covers, SCADTA consular overprints of Columbia, airport and air mail facility cancellations, air mail markings, air mail labels, and aerophilatelic covers. The catalogue will probably include the latest FIP rules for international exhibits of aerophilately.

Advice and assistance from interested aerophilatelicists would be appreciated. The coordinating editor of the project is Major (Ret.) R.K. Malott, 16 Harwick Cres., Nepean, ON K2H 6R1; telephone/fax (613) 829-0280.

US POST OFFICE RECALLS STAMP

The U.S. Postal Service has recalled its 'Legends of the West' miniature sheet, originally scheduled for a late March release. The sheet contains 20 different stamps, each portraying a personality or image of the American West.

The recall is the result of an error in the design of the stamp picturing Cowboy Bill Pickett, the black rancher and rodeo showman. Pickett's descendants, supported by historians, complained that the figure on the stamp bore no resemblance to his photos.
A modern rarity: The original version of the Cowboy Bill Pickett stamp, recalled from U.S. post offices.

Pickett is often credited as inventor of the rodeo. Two of his assistants, Tom Mix and Will Rogers, later went on to fame as western performers. Pickett died in 1932.

The entire printing of 5,201,000 sheets is to be destroyed. Much of the issue seems to have already been distributed to post offices, and at least one copy got into the hands of the public. The Pickett stamp is to be redesigned, and the reprinted sheet will be distributed with a new release date. Postmaster General Marvin Runyon stated that research methods would be reviewed for future issues.

Some observers are seeing parallels between this issue and the Hammarskold ‘inverted yellow’ error of 1962. At that time the Post Office printed millions of copies of the ‘error’ to destroy the value of a sheet of inverts that had been sold at a post office.

Qualified Auctioneer
In the last issue of The Canadian Philatelist a list of the candidates for election as Directors of the Society was included. Did you look at their philatelic biographies? We are fortunate in having such an able and dedicated group of members willing to take on the work and responsibilities of managing the Society. Did you then do your part in the election by sending in the proxy form so that your vote could be recorded?

The election of the successful candidates will be announced at the Annual General Meeting in Vernon, B.C., next June, and they will then take over along with eight Directors elected last year. The Officers of the Society will then be elected by the Directors, and will serve until the next Annual General Meeting.

I hope that you all have made your reservations and travel plans to attend this year’s Annual Meeting in Vernon. The Okanagan region of British Columbia is one of the larger tree fruit growing areas of Canada, and in June it is usually warm and full of holiday makers. Okanagan Lake, and the other large lakes of the region have many sandy beaches, and by June the water is warm enough for pleasant bathing. Those who are interested in other things may wish to visit the historic O’Keefe Ranch, with its 1880s Post Office, or to take tours of the many local wineries. The Okanagan Valley is renowned for the fine wine grapes grown there, and you may be pleasantly surprised at the quality of the wines.

The scenery is outstanding, and I would recommend the drive on the Trans-Canada Highway from Calgary to Sicamous, and then down Highway 97 to Vernon. You will pass through the Rocky Mountains – ‘The Canadian Alps’ – and the Selkirk Range on your way through Banff, Yoho, Glacier and Mount Revelstoke National Parks – including the Kicking Horse, Rogers and Eagle Passes. Much of western Canada’s history is within easy reach along the main line of the C.P.R. – including the famous spiral tunnels near Field, B.C., the Connaught and new Rogers Pass Tunnels at Glacier, and the ‘Last Spike’ monument at Craigellachie. The views of Shuswap Lake, Mara Lake and Goose Lake are outstanding. Come and enjoy it.

One of the problems facing your Directors – which will be discussed at Vernon – is how to recruit and retain members. All societies such as ours have this same problem. Do you have any ideas about it? Are there any membership services which you need, and which we could provide at reasonable cost? Are any of our present services outdated and not really needed? Are any services not operating properly or effectively, and require overhauling or changes? It’s your Society, and your Executive need your feedback in order to provide effective leadership. With volunteer help we realize that there will be problems from time to time, when our Officers and their helpers become overloaded, and we can’t provide instant service when requested. Please remember, though, that they are doing the best they can under the restrictions which apply. They are your fellow members, and they want the Society to provide the best possible service at the lowest possible cost. Please help them with your suggestions and advice.

Harold Gosney

Harold Gosney, membership No. 7414, joined the R.P.S.C. in September 1960, and was elected a Fellow of the Society in 1981.

He was born in Toronto on July 18, 1917. During World War II he served with the Air Force. In private life he was with the Finance Department of the City of Toronto, retiring in 1975 after 43 years of service.

When he was nine years old he started to collect stamps. His interests at first were worldwide. He later switched to a more serious general collection of the British Commonwealth, specializing in Malta, the British West Indies and the de la Rue keyplate issues of 1879 to 1956. Because Harold and his wife, Alice, have been long time members of the Richmond Hill Historical Society and the Gilbert and Sullivan Society of Toronto, he also has a specialized collection of British Royal Residences, and a thematic collection on Gilbert and Sullivan.

His association with philately did not stop at collecting stamps. Throughout the years he exhibited extensively, especially at the North Toronto Stamp Club, which he joined in 1945. Winning the Novice Award in 1948, he continued to exhibit at the North Toronto Club every year for a forty-five year period. At this point he was given a special award for his years of support. He also exhibited nationally and internationally. He is accredited as a regional and national level philatelic judge.

Harold Gosney served our Society as Publicity Director from 1969 to 1971, and as Treasurer from 1971 to 1973. In 1973 he was Chairman of the 41st R.P.S.C. convention at Toronto. A volunteer at CAPEX '51, he went on to serve as Chairman of Volunteers at CAPEX '78, CANADA '82 and CAPEX '87.

As well as being a member of the Royal, he is a Life Member of the North Toronto Stamp Club, the American Philatelic Society, the Philatelic Specialists Society of Canada, the Malta Study Circle (Canadian Representative) and the British Caribbean Philatelic Study Group.

The Gosneys are residents of Richmond Hill, Ontario, and have two married daughters.

This month, I will be listing the Regional/Local judges, national apprentices registered with the Royal Philatelic Society of Canada's Judging Programme and judges/consultants emeritus.

I want to take this opportunity to remember a judge who passed away recently. Sam Nickle, FRPSC, of Alberta, was the first to be elected to serve as a judge/consultant emeritus when the position was created last year. He will be missed as an individual and as a judge for his vast knowledge, particularly in the area of Canadian philately, and his willingness to share this knowledge with recently minted judges and apprentices. Our sympathies are extended to his wife Rosemary and to his family.

Vous trouverez dans cette rubrique la liste des juges régionaux/locaux, des apprentis nationaux inscrits au Programme des juges de la Société royale de philatélie du Canada et des juges/consultants émérites.

J'aimerais prendre cette opportunité pour rappeler le souvenir de Sam Nickle, FRPSC, de l'Alberta qui nous a récemment quitté. Il fut le premier à choisir le titre de juge/consultant émérite lors de la création de ce poste l'an passé. Il nous manquera comme personne et comme juge particulièrement pour ces vastes connaissances de la philatélie canadienne et son empressément à les partager avec les nouveaux juges et les apprentis. Toutes nos condoléances à son épouse Rosemary et à sa famille.

CANADIAN PRECANCELS

Not many sheets exist any more of the two-cent green Centennial precancelled stamp (Number X-455 in the Canadian Precancel Catalogue). Stamps from the right pane with the inscription on the right margin shows two stamps with an incomplete overprint. Position 1 shows a broken pair of bars at the bottom and Position 11 shows a break in the top pair of bars.

The Reverend D. Izzett recently showed me an unusual precancel from Calgary (No. 4-217 in the Catalogue). It is a double overprint.

The first overprint seems to be the one which is centred and the second one is slanted above the first one. The numerals of the first overprint are properly aligned with the double pair of bars, but the second numeral overprint is not aligned properly with the bars. The numerals of the second overprint are straight, and not slanted as the bars of the second overprint are. In addition, the top stamp shows a double break in the top slanting bars above the numeral ‘6’ but the stamp below shows no breaks. The reason for this unusual precancel is not clear. Some years ago a suggestion was made that the overprinting plates were made of single rows, with the type for the numerals clamped together. Thus, a plate consisted of numerous pieces of bars and numbers. A loosening of one row could have produced this double overprint. If the same overprinting plate was used twice for the double overprint, why did the break not show up again in the same position? Perhaps someone has an explanation.

SPRAY-ON CANCELS

Many complaints are being made about the new spray-on codes. These are added on top of stamps and thus most stamps are made useless to collectors. Recently, two covers from Germany, nicely prepared philatelically, arrived with these codes printed on top of all stamps. The covers were clearly marked, “Philatelic Mail.” Can nothing be done about this practice?

For philatelic mail there may be a way out. Mount your stamps not on the right side of the envelope but on the left side, which is not spray-on coded.

JUNK MAIL

Numerous complaints have been made to the Post Office about the practice of stuffing mailboxes with junk flyers over the weekend. When the regular mail arrives the next day, it is crushed together in the boxes with the junk mail, often damaging regular mail items. In response, the Post Office simply has ignored the complaints.

This column is a forum for information on Canadian definitive issues of all periods, and for discussion on the study of these issues. Each column lists new issues in summary, as well as recent discoveries and corrections to previously published information. Mr. Schmidt's listing of modern Canadian definitives began in the July-Aug. 1992 issue; this listing is in reverse chronological order. Correspondence is welcomed, and should be addressed to John G. Conclusion:

The definitives from 1977 into 1992 have been both interesting and confusing. Confusing because of the same design with different perforations, the same design printed on different papers, the same design printed by different printers, and the same design printed by different methods. More confusion has been added by the use of six different designs for the current Parliament Buildings for sheets, coils, and booklet stamps.

It is hoped that this series has helped collectors to resolve some of the confusion.
SOME PROBLEMS WITH INFLATION

Soon after I joined the Royal, I began to correspond with three other members whose philatelic interests match mine. Frequently their letters come enclosed in fantastic covers, sometimes with stamps issued more than 30 years ago. That may not be odd for Canada, since one stamp from the past century could pay today’s airmail rate to Brazil, where I am currently living. I soon began to wonder: Could I reciprocate their kindness, and send my letters to them using the oldest Brazilian stamps possible?

Let’s get to work. I’ll have to use a 1943 stamp. That year, a major currency change made all back issues obsolete due to demonetization. In that year, the first class airmail rate to Canada was 1.20 Cruzeiros for a 20 gram letter. I could use a number of copies of Scott #665 to pay the current airmail rate. As I write this, the rate is 178.70 Cruzeiros Reais. Perhaps you have calculated that I will need 148,916 stamps. Well, you are wrong.

In 1967 the currency was changed from Cruzeiros to Cruzeiros Novos, and in 1986 to Cruzados. In 1989 there was another change to Cruzados Novos, in 1990 back to Cruzeiros again, and in 1993 to Cruzeiros Reais. With each of these currency revisions the older currency was given a value of 1,000 of the new one.

Therefore, the Cruzeiro Real of 1993 equals 1,000,000,000,000,000.00 of the Cruzeiros of 1943. So if I use Scott #665, I will need approximately 148,916,000,000,000,000,000 stamps.

Well, this poses some problems.

The first one: Even if I gather all the Brazilian stamps printed from 1943 to 1987 I still would not have enough in face value to pay the airmail fee.

The second problem: At the rate of one second per stamp to moisten and place it on the cover, I would take about 4,722,000,000 years to finish the job. And if you consider that the Brazilian postage rates rise every 15 days by about 15%, you can imagine where it will take me.

The third problem is that the Scott #665 measures 26mm by 22mm. For all the stamps I need, that works out to an area of 85,179,952 square kilometres.

A fourth problem is that, as each stamp weighs 0.0326 gram, the stamps alone would total 4,854,661,600 metric tons. The Brazilian Post Office, like all others, does not expect you to pay postage on the weight of the stamps, but what would be the weight of the envelope?

So, in the face of these small difficulties I am asking my friends in Canada to accept my apologies for not using old Brazilian stamps on my letters to them.

Canada Post Corporation has given us a slight rest with new issues. Perhaps this is a good time consider the difference between a stamp collector and a philatelist.

How many people do you know who have a collection put away somewhere. They used to collect stamps. They seem to remember somebody in the family who collected stamps. They have a box somewhere with stamps in it. Then there are those who are sitting on a fortune: the collection was left to them.

At a recent stamp show and sale I watched a couple of young people buying stamps from approval sheets and books, and it crossed my mind that what they were doing was for pleasure; they will likely never get their money back. A collector has got to enjoy accumulating stamps, pretty stamps, because if he, or she, is not enjoying collecting he is wasting his time and money.

I remember one occasion when my father sent mint Queen Victoria Jubilees (many of them) to a well known firm in England. In return we received approval books and I remember those Tanganyika triangles and those pretty South American stamps. My little collection got a real shot in the arm! I was delighted, but where are those stamps today? I believe I gave them away.

Then we have the shrewd collector, the philatelist, who has outgrown that phase of the hobby and has his eye on just what his collection is worth. We have a surprise for him. The time comes when he must decide what he is to do with the collection. Think of the time he has spent on it. Yes, they were pleasant hours, and don't think its value has not crossed his mind. But the shock comes when he casually mentions to an enthusiastic dealer that he wishes to sell. I am still waiting for an enthusiastic dealer to look over one part of my collection. Another dealer is willing to offer what he calls a quarter catalogue value.

Another dealer doesn't bother about Scott. He has another catalogue.

Recently a friend handed a collection to me and told me to get rid of it. I won't go into the details to describe this "hobby" but he did mumble that a friend from Toronto had looked at it. If he eventually received any money for what was on the end of the hinges I did not ask, but I have never seen a better damaged collection of Victorian stamps of England. The collection went back to the imperforates, but every one was damaged or the cancellation was so heavy one could not identify the stamp.

Another problem with a collection is this: What is the relation between the market value and the catalogue value of a stamp, particularly modern Canada? Or does one just use them for postage? The answer to that one is, it depends who owns the stamps, the collector or the dealer. I realize the dealer has to make a profit, and setting up a stamp business takes a lot of time. When I read one Canadian stamp newspaper and see what dealers are asking, even at discount prices, for stamps I have in my collection, I must be sitting on a fortune.

But wait, I have to think, did I enjoy building my (average) collection? Am I willing to take that beating when I sell it, or would I have more fun feeding the living room fireplace on a cold winter's night?

THE WAR ISSUE – THE ULTIMATE PLATE BLOCK CHALLENGE
(Part 1)

Of all the Canadian issues, collecting the different plate blocks of the War Issue is by far the biggest challenge to the Plate Block collector, with the possible exception of the Admiral Issue. One has only to look at the plate block section of the Unitrade Specialized Catalogue to get a real sense of the total number of plate positions. Besides the regular issue (Scott #249 to 262), this series includes air mails and special deliveries (C7, C8, CE1, CE2 and E10).

The Canadian Government prepared a poster in 1942 to promote the original 14 stamps. In 1943, five new stamps were added due to a postage increase. The following graphic illustrates all of the known plate positions of the 19 stamps of the War Issue.

Plate Blocks of the 1¢ War Issue, lower left position. These are Plates No. 1 to No. 8; in all there are 32 plates for this stamp. Note that the inscription on the first two spans the selvage of three stamps.
This article is primarily directed to anyone who is thinking of starting a collection of this series or to anyone who has already accepted the challenge and wishes to continue. Before starting, a complete medical check-up is required! Next a serious plan of action should be drawn up taking into consideration your budget, the number of years you are willing to give to such a goal, and your ability to put aside your other collections for the time being. You must set up your own rules on purchasing and try to respect them. For example, here are a few:

a) Never pay over 2/3 of catalogue price.
b) Only purchase blocks at $10.00 or less until you attain the first 200 blocks.
c) Have a total limit or budget per month.

There are probably a hundred reasons why this issue should be avoided, but I will enumerate five reasons why it should be considered by the serious plate collector. I suggest:

1. Collect one corner instead of matched sets. Trying to find one corner of each plate number would still be quite an accomplishment. Instead of 607 corners, you are now looking for 152 blocks. Some collectors are trying to find the same position but I would suggest any corner of each specific plate number would be acceptable. Figure 2 shows part of such a collection.

2. Concentrate on the low values only. This would avoid the higher priced items. The real fun and the challenge, in any event, is collecting the low denominations. Later on you can add one block of the higher denominations if your budget permits.

3. The excellent condition of the paper. You will rarely find tarnished paper, separated perforations or damaged gum. For an issue that is over 50 years old, these blocks are quite crisp, clean and quite attractive. Some may have pencil marks (numbers) in the margins and most are hinged but these seem to be the only drawbacks. If you require never hinged blocks, they are available at a premium.

4. Cost of individual blocks. If one verifies the values of these plate blocks in the Unistrade plate block section for the basic issue of Scott 249 to 262, one discovers that out of 568 different positions, 392 of them are priced at $10.00 or less and another 107 blocks are between $11.00 and $25.00. That leaves only 69 positions out of 568 that are priced above $25.00.

5. Abundance of material. To fully comprehend this assumption, one must go back in time to the forties and fifties. As most plate block collectors are already aware, the low denomination stamps were printed in large sheets of 400 stamps with a plate inscription in each corner. These large sheets were cut up into four post office sheets or panes of 100 stamps (each now containing one inscription in one corner per pane) and sent to the different post offices across Canada. For the larger denominations the original sheet that was printed contained 200 stamps, or four post office panes of 50 stamps with one inscription per pane.

A plate block collector, during the forties and fifties had to be really persistent. To acquire the different positions, he either had to visit numerous post offices or had to solicit help from other collectors in other cities and request them to verify all their post offices. Dealers at that time were also accumulating these various corners. The post office philatelic service of providing the four corners from Ottawa only started in 1958 and only for new issues.

There were probably more plate block collectors during the fifties than now and most, if not all, were trying to collect every position for every plate number. Since there was no information coming out of the post office as to the new plates being issued, the collectors would regularly report in different stamp magazines all the new plate numbers as they were discovered. One interesting article describes one collector’s quest for the complete collection. He called his article the “War Issue Marathon." He concluded by stating that he was the fifth collector to complete a set of the War Issue.

It is obvious from reading these articles that there existed a partnership among the plate block collectors. There were many plate block study groups that informed their members of all of the new plate listings.

Unfortunately, most of these collectors are now deceased and their knowledge of plate blocks is gone forever with the exception of what was written in these stamp journals. However, what has not disappeared are the plate blocks themselves. These old collections are being purchased by the current dealers from the retired collectors or their executors. These dealers now have incredible inventories.

As an example, in the October and November issues of Canada Stamp News, dealer Gary Lyon in Bathurst had full-page ads on plate blocks only. Specifically concerning the War issue, he offered over 250 different positions. That is an incredible inventory for one dealer! That offering in itself would be a remarkable collection for a plate block collector! He confirmed to this writer that he had purchased numerous collections, all in perfect condition, from retired collectors or through their executors in estate sales. If one remembers that there were numerous plate collections in the fifties, one can only imagine what the market is offering now to the present day collector.

The War Issue plate collection offers so many possibilities that I will conclude my comments in a subsequent issue. This 'break in the action' will allow most of you to make an appointment for your medical check-up!

Until the next time, good hunting!

XXXII. Various Problems With Colonial Postage
After Its Introduction In 1840

(The material quoted in this article was all found in what was formerly the Miscellaneous Group File 12, Volume G9 of the Post Office transcripts in the Public Archives of Canada, Ottawa. I do not know the current reference since the reclassification since I did this research about twenty-five years ago.)

In the correspondence between Thomas Stayner, Deputy Postmaster General for North America, and Lieut. Col. Maberly, Secretary of the General Post Office in London, relating to the start of the steam packet service between Liverpool and Halifax, matters relating to the mode of operation and the question of additional postage on letters carried on the St. Lawrence River to and from Quebec City by the auxiliary steamer Unicorn was raised by Stayner in a 3 July 1840 letter. The Unicorn, intended for the Pictou, N.S. to Quebec City mail service in summer, having just arrived from a trip from Quebec City (850 nautical miles) in 84 hours, Stayner had discussed with her captain (Douglas) the practical seasonal schedule. From this, he proposed:

That the Unicorn should be at Halifax in readiness to take on to Quebec the Mail which leaves England on the 16th of April:- this Mail will probably reach Halifax on the 28th or 29th of that month, and may be at Quebec on the 2nd or 3rd of May. - Captain Douglas says that should ice be found in the Gut of Canso or Straits of Northumberland, - it will be quite practicable for him to go round the Island of Cape Breton - and that decidedly for the first voyage in each direction, the Mail should be taken up by his Steamer at Halifax, instead of Pictou. - Captain Douglas adds that should the season be an early one, it is very probable that he might be able to start from Halifax with the Mail which leaves England on the 1st of April - the navigation of those Waters however by Steamers at the early and late periods of our summer being an untried service - it is impossible to say what may or may not be accomplished.

He then raised the other problem he foresaw with this service:

With reference to the construction of the Act of Parliament relative to the postage on letters to and from England...it appears to me that whenever the English Mails are reshipped at Halifax, and thence brought round by the Steamer - or whenever our Mails - are put on board the Steamer at Quebec - are carried thence direct to Halifax, - the Post office has no right to charge the internal postage granted by the Act of 5th Geo: the 3rd - Cap:25 [1765]! - If such be the fact you will readily see, Sir, the difficulties that must grow out of it - it will not merely involve the necessity of altering the postage several times in each year - but in the interior of this Country, it cannot always be known what rate of postage is to be exacted.

A BRIEF HISTORY . . .

The Okanagan-Kamloops Area

The fur trade brought the first white men to the Okanagan with David Stuart, a trader with John Jacob Astor’s Pacific Fur Company being recorded as the first to see Okanagan Lake. Stuart was on a trading and exploration trip from Fort Okanagan to Kamloops.

The North West Company became involved in the fur trade using the Fraser and Thompson rivers to reach the Okanagan.

Trade routes through this area were established with many furs being bartered for. The Okanagan to Astoria route continued until the Oregon Boundary Treaty was signed establishing the 49th parallel.

With trade coming up through this area from Oregon country a customs house was established at Osoyoos for collecting taxes on cattle and goods heading north for the gold miners.

Fort Kamloops was established in 1813 as part of the trade route that continued to Fort George (Prince George).

When gold was discovered on the Fraser River and in the Cariboo the Okanagan route was used heavily as cattle were driven north to feed the miners. This continued as gold was found in the Big Bend country north of Revelstoke and on Cherry Creek east of Vernon.

Some of the cattle drovers discovered that the tall bunch grass would be ideal for cattle ranching, establishing large ranches in the Oliver, Keremeos, Penticton areas north to Vernon.

Mining camps also helped populate the Boundary-Similkameen region.

Father Pandosy set up a mission on what is now called Mission Creek at Kelowna which helped open the area to settlement.

As the region began to get the reputation as the California of Canada, land speculators laid out townsites and advertised the Okanagan in Eastern Canada and the United Kingdom.

The first commercial soft fruit orchard was established in Summerland in the early 1900's and over the years fruit growing has been an integral part of the history of the Okanagan.

The S. & O. Railway, steamers on Okanagan Lake, better roads, the Kettle Valley Railroad continued to better the lives of residents and also open further development.

Logging, lumber manufacturing, ranching and orchards still play an important part in the economy of the valley.

The last few years have seen communities in the Okanagan-Mainline region celebrate their 100th anniversaries of incorporation. While we are a young region in history, we have an interesting past.
It should be noted that the Treasury Order establishing the B.N.A. inland (colonial) postage on British packet letters at 2d. Sterling or 2½d. Currency was not issued until 6 July 1840, so the above issue was raised at a time when the inland postage on packet letters between Halifax and Quebec City was 1s. 8d. Stg. or 1s. 10d. Cy.

The first reaction to this was the legal opinion of M.B. Peacock of the Post Office on 21 August, who only dealt with the latter question. He added the following minute to Stayner’s letter:

Letters conveyed from this Country to Quebec by a packet boat direct would not be chargeable with any Colonial postage in respect to such a Conveyance; and I apprehend that the circumstances of the British Mail bags for Quebec being taken out of one Packet boat and put into another at Halifax does not make any difference – I think therefore that no Colonial Postage is chargeable in respect of the Packet Conveyance of such Bags from Halifax to Quebec.

It was then decided to get the Treasury’s view of this matter and it is interesting to note that in bringing the matter to the Postmaster General a distinction was made between letters carried all the way from Halifax to Quebec by steamer and from Pictou to Quebec, where there would be an inland postage charge between Halifax and Pictou at least:

For the Postmaster General

I submit that extract of this letter, as regards the conveyance of the Mail, by water, the entire distance between Halifax & Quebec, may be sent to the Treasury for their consideration, in case of any alteration in the present Contract.

On 19 August, Stayner acknowledged receipt of the Treasury Minute establishing the 2d. Stg and expressed pleasure with “this important and beneficial measure.” He proposed that the full postage be charged on letters coming to B.N.A. in Britain, rather than only the 1s. 0d. Stg. packet postage, as this would reduce the work at Quebec and allow for a staff reduction. Peacock was asked for a legal opinion, and he replied on 28 September:

The question of whether the Postmaster General can legally demand and collect the Colonial rates of postage within the United Kingdom is one of some doubt and difficulty; and considering what has passed in the Colonial Legislatures respecting the Post Office Revenues of the Colonies, I would advise that the proposed arrangement should not be made without first consulting the Law Officers of the Crown on the subject.

It was decided that “under the existing circumstances [it was not considered] expedient to adopt this suggestion.”

This matter continued to plague the Post Office. On 2 November, the Inland Office sent out a memorandum relating to letters from the last packet Nail which, “were erroneously charged 1/2 instead of 1/- – all of them required alteration, which caused much delay.” This raised the question of whether this was done at Quebec or Halifax and the Inland Office replied: “At both; All the letters by this mail were erroneously charged.”

le philatéliste canadien  mars - avril 1994 / 117
William Banning, the Liverpool postmaster, was asked whether he had noticed this and what had been done about it; also Quebec was told that this was in error and to stop sending out letters with the colonial postage unpaid. He replied on 5 November:

I beg to state that the Letters received by the last Packet from N° America were taxed in the same manner as the Letters have been taxed by all the Mails, since the Packets commenced at this Post, viz: Halifax both the Unpaid and the Paid are marked at the Rate of 1/-; - from Quebec the Unpaid are marked at the rate of 1/2, but the Paid bear two marks ‘1/4’ & ‘1/2’, neither of which is erased, the former I suppose is Currency, & the latter Sterling, and the Amount is entered in the Letter Bill, thus

“Amount of Paid (Packet and Provincial) Postage upon Letters to Liverpool £74.5.5 Curry – £66.16.10 Sterling.”

I have never altered the Charges on any of the Letters as I concluded from the Terms used in the Quebec Letter Bill that the Letters were liable to some Provincial rate, of which I was not aware.

He added a postscript:

Some of the Letters from Halifax which were taxed 1/-, bore also an erased mark in red Ink “Paid 2½” which I suppose is a Provincial Rate to Halifax in Currency, – There is a difference of opinion amongst my Clerks whether part of the Letters from Halifax were not taxed at the rate of 1/2, which I regret I cannot satisfactorily ascertain but I will watch the next Arrival.

The Inland Office answered This in a 16 November memorandum stating that the Montreal and Quebec Letters in the Halifax Mail which arrived that morning were charged 1s. 2d. Stg.

However, there remained some confusion in Britain as to what the correct charge was. Banning wrote to the G.P.O. on 24 November 1840 as a result of a request for a refund from the recipient of a double weight letter who had been charged 2s, 4d. Stg. and argued that he only owed 2s. Stg. packet postage:

In explanation of the enclosed Tax of 2/4 on a Letter from Quebec I beg to state that all the Letters from Quebec by the Mail Packets are taxed there at the rate of 1/2 for half an Ounce, and as I have not received any Instruction to alter that Tax, I deliver & forward the Letters without alteration; being in doubt whether there may not be some Provincial rate added to the Packet Rate. –

I shall feel obliged by your Instructions whether I should alter the Taxes to the Rate of 1/-, or refund the excess of 2d when applied for.

Maberly again sought Peacock’s opinion, pointing out to him that the 2d. Stg. colonial postage should have been collected at the time of mailing and that instructions had been sent to insure that it was in the future. In the meantime, he asked whether it could be collected in Britain when unpaid, and noted that he would “perceive that the Postmaster of Liverpool has sent out these letters with the Colonial Charge unaltered – while the Inland Officers here have cancelled it.”

Peacock replied:
The question whether the Postmaster Gen'l can legally demand and collect the Colonial rates within the United Kingdom is, as I have already stated, one of some doubt & difficulty - With respect however to the Colonial charge of 2d the half ounce made within the North American Colonies, my opinion is that it cannot be legally demanded in this Country.

As a result, Maberly minuted the Postmaster General on 10 December that “Under this opinion of the Solicitor I have taken upon myself to direct the Postmaster of Liverpool to erase the Colonial Tax from Canada Letters should any more arrive so charged, & to give up the same upon the letters delivered on any case of application for Allowance.” The Postmaster General approved this action.

Stayner answered the G.P.O. on 18 December 1840, expressing great sorrow over the trouble he had caused over the provincial postage. He pointed out that the 2d. rate had been instituted at the request of the Governor General of B.N.A. and it had always been the idea that there would be “no necessity for the prepayment of any part of the postage on either side of the Atlantic, as otherwise the benefit intended to be conferred upon the receivers and senders of such correspondence would be in a material degree destroyed.” When he had received word of the reduction in postage in August, he had consulted with the Governor General and they both agreed that letters could be sent with the whole postage unpaid. He had reported this latest matter to the Governor General who was very surprised by it and undertook to take some action.

That he did so is evidenced by the fact that the Treasury issued an order on 1 February 1841 removing the requirement for the 2d. Stg. provincial postage to be prepaid. In acknowledging this, Stayner added a paragraph covering Ship Letter charges. This read:

In reply to that part of your letter in which you say that you presume I have made no alteration as regards Ship letters, and that if I have not done so, I am not to give to Ship letters the benefit of the same option, - I have the honor to report that no letters were sent by Ship from the St. Lawrence after the receipt of the recent Treasury Regulation bearing upon the subject - but the view I had taken of the Regulation was, that it was my duty to require the prepayment of the whole postage of 10d Sterling (i.e. 2d internal postage and 8d Ship Postage) on letters from the interior of the country intended to go by Private Ships - and 8d only on letters originating at the Sea port and put on board Ship there, - and in default of this prepayment to forward the letters by the regular Packet Mail via Halifax: - If I am in error in this view I beg to be corrected, and for this there will be sufficient time before Ships depart from the St. Lawrence. -

I may here remark that there can be little or no inducement in Canada to send letters to England by Private Ship thro' the Post Office whilst writers possess the superior advantage afforded by the regular semi-monthly line of Steam Packets of sending their letters thereby at so moderate a charge as 1½d per half ounce.

Maberly minuted the Postmaster General on receipt of this letter accepting it as the answer to their queries and concluding that it would “render any further Communication on these points at present unnecessary.”

Philatelists need not restrict their interests to traditional and thematic stamp collecting, or to the better known specialties such as aerophilately and postal history. There are many other interesting areas for collecting. Some of them pertain to current offerings of Canada Post that were in vogue for a while and then were cancelled.

'Presenting - En primeur' Cards

The 'Presenting - En primeur' cards that announced the new issues of Canada, one at a time and with limited data, were recently discontinued after three years of use. Since these cards were official Canada Post items, and they passed through the mails, they are collectibles. There were three types: cards with a mailing indicia on the back that were mailed to customers from Antigonish, N.S.; cards with no indicia on the back that were distributed from postal boutiques for about two years before being discontinued; and the ones for the Stamp Travellers' Club. The latter are the hardest to locate.

The 'Presenting' cards sent through the mails had printed backs, with the customer's name and address either printed directly on the card or on a label attached to the card.
"Presenting" cards sent to regular customers or distributed through postal outlets carried ordering information beneath the stamp specifications (left). Those for the Stamp Travellers’ Club (right) substituted a “Don’t Miss it!” message and the Club logo at the bottom of the card.

Perhaps some dedicated collector will produce a complete reference list that can be published for the benefit of all. I would be pleased to hear from those interested in the ‘Presenting – En primeur’ cards, and I am particularly interested in locating examples issued for The Stamp Travellers’ Club.

FIP Exhibition Cards

Another entity, now discontinued, was the series of Canadian F.I.P. exhibition cards, first issued in 1982, and terminated in 1992 after 18 issues. Used examples could only be obtained at the Canada Post booths at the various exhibitions, and thus few were obtained by Canadian collectors. Mint copies were sold from the philatelic section of Canada Post at $1.00 plus tax per card. The policy was not to save or sell the used cards in Canada. Thus the earliest issues in used condition are very scarce. Those from Ausipex ’84, Italia ’85, Stamp World London ’90, and Granada ’92 are extremely scarce.
The FIP exhibition card issued by Canada Post for Stamp World London in 1990, and cancelled at the show. These cards, issued for 18 international exhibitions between 1982 and 1992, are among the more elusive of modern Canadian collectibles in used condition. The card issued for the 1992 World Columbian Stamp Expo in Chicago is illustrated on the cover.
To obtain my copies from Australia and from Italy I had to advertise in national philatelic magazines to trace the desired items. At considerable expense I was able to locate three cards from Australia, but only one from Italy.

There are two types for Italia '85 – one cancelled in Toronto and sold at Italia '85, and one with the official Canada Post cancellation used at Italia '85.

How many readers of this journal collect these Canadian FIP cards? I am seeking sources of used cards. Any available?

Some time ago I produced a comprehensive list of the Canadian FIP cards, and when time permits, I will attempt a complete listing of them. As an interim the following is a listing of the locations for the 18 Canadian FIP cards.

| 1. WIPA ’81     | 10. HAFNIA ’87    |
| 2. ESSEN ’82    | 11. FINLANDIA ’88 |
| 3. PHILEX FRANCE ’82 | 12. PHILEX FRANCE ’89 |
| 4. HAMBURG ’84  | 13. WORLD STAMP EXPO ’89 |
| 5. AUSIPEX ’84  | 14. STAMP WORLD LONDON ’90 |
| 6. ITALIA ’85   | 15. NEW ZEALAND 1990 |
| 7. AMERIPEX ’86 | 16. PHILANIPPON 1991 |
| 8. STOCKHOLMIA ’86 | 17. GRANADA ’92 |
| 9. CAPEX ’87    | 18. WORLD COLUMBIAN STAMP EXPO 1992 |

I had the privilege of exhibiting my aerophilatelic material in all of the international exhibitions listed above from WIPA ’81, except for ESSEN ’92 and STAMP WORLD LONDON 1990. Of course, there have been many other FIP exhibitions over this time span, but for these Canada Post did not issue souvenir FIP cards. I also served as a judge at STOCKHOLMIA ’86 and CAPEX ’87, and as Canadian Commissioner at ITALIA ’85, HAFNIA ’87, and PHILANIPPON 1991. Thus I have had an opportunity, on several occasions, to obtain used Canadian FIP souvenir cards. Most Canadian collectors did not visit these shows, and thus there are few of the FIP cards in used condition in Canada.

First Day Cancellations on Postal Stationery

Yet another interesting area of collecting is attempting to obtain first day of use cancellations for aerogrammes, postal stationery of the size 8 and 10 commemorative envelopes, and booklet panes. Over the last ten years I have been able to obtain cancelled items, including the last six issues of the views of Canadian provincial capitals.

Why not obtain cancelled copies from the applicable cities and request the signature of the mayor? I have found city officials very cooperative, especially if you offer them a couple of the envelopes for their own retention.
The 43¢ St. John’s No. 8 envelope, with a first day cancel struck at the National Postal Museum. In the upper left corner are the signatures of St. John’s mayor John Murphy and the city clerk, tied to the cover by the St. John’s embossed city seal.

House of Commons and Senate First Day Cancels

For sheer beauty of first day covers, how many collectors have obtained FDCs from the House of Commons (size 10 envelope) or the Senate (size 8 envelope)? A collection of these covers is very attractive.
First Day Cancels on Complete Booklet Panes

Most collectors overlook obtaining first day cancels for booklet panes. I have devised a system for attaching a complete booklet to an envelope, and have all cancelled with the appropriate date of issue.

To do this, the stamps of the booklet are attached to a cover of sufficient size to accommodate the entire booklet pane on its front. The booklet cover remains attached, one part folder over the stamps, and the other folder against the back of the envelope. The cancels tie the stamps to the cover, and additional strikes on the back can tie the cover to the back of the envelope.

I have been doing this for ten years, and have built up an interesting collection of these complete booklet first day cancels. I plan to exhibit them locally, at an ORAPEX exhibition, within the next two years.

A first Day Cover of the 1992 Christmas booklet. The ten stamps of the booklet pane span the front of the envelope; six are under the back of the booklet cover, which remains attached to the stamps. The front cover of the booklet lies across the back of the envelope, and is tied by a cancellation.

Most of the collecting areas mentioned here require an effort of search and perseverance to complete, but at not too much of an outlay in cash. As well, there are the many different types of cancellations that are a challenge to locate and to organize into a logical inventory. There are many ways in which you can apply yourself to collect philatelic material, especially Canadian, right in your own back yard.
When temperature rises above 18 C. (64.5 F.) and relative humidity rises above 65%, moulds flourish. Below these levels mould spores, which are present everywhere, remain dormant. Staining of stamps and covers, known to philatelists as 'foxing' or 'rust' or 'tropical staining,' is either caused by mould or by metallic degradation. This type of infection (mould) is quite common. The staining occurs rapidly and destruction of the stamps or covers is fast, a matter of a few weeks or months. The climatic conditions under which mould thrives also bring out insect infestation. Mould provides the food source for insects that will burrow through the paper (books are a good example) in their larvae stage. Some small invertebrates will also damage papers when infested with mould during their adult stage.

The sun, a giver of life, is also a destroyer. Leave a daily newspaper on a doorstep for a few days exposed to the sun and in a surprisingly short time it becomes yellow and brittle. It is apparent that continued exposure would gradually reduce it to dust. The best type of paper is by no means immune to gradual disintegration under continued exposure to sunlight or even reflected light.

Mould spots on a maximum card, caused by dampness or excessive humidity.
If your philatelic material is to be displayed for more than five days it is recommended that the lighting be kept to 50 Lux maximum. This refers to the intensity of the light and is measured on a Lux light meter. The effect of light on stamps and covers is quite profound. The most damaging wave lengths of light are in the ultra violet range, which are short wave lengths outside of the visible spectrum. These are the same rays which can cause skin cancer. As well as the sun, fluorescent lights are sources of ultra violet rays. It is strongly recommended that fluorescent lamp tubes have an ultra violet ray filter sleeve over them. On the other hand, incandescent light bulbs do not give off ultra violet rays, but they do generate heat.

Fading and staining caused by light are quite gradual, but nevertheless, can be devastating. There are few inorganic pigments used in printing inks which are light stable. All except carbon black and some earth colours are light sensitive. The point to remember is to keep your albums closed and your containers closed when not in use. Never leave them in direct sunlight. Remember that light deterioration occurs at a faster rate when temperature and humidity are increased.

Atmospheric Considerations

Air, although essential to life like sunlight, also has a disintegrating effect on nearly all substances. This is especially true when it carries considerable moisture. Damp air attacks delicate organic substances (paper) upon which printed or written texts appear. Moisture in the air provides suitable growing conditions for that aggressive destroyer, mildew. The air around industrial centres is tainted with chemical gasses and vapours. Even a small amount of sulphur dioxide in city air can act as an ally to the other enemies of unprotected papers.

Aging documents and papers, as well as covers, are affected by changes in heat and cold which cause expansion and contraction.

The real key to preserving your precious postal history items is in controlling the conditions under which they are stored. Pure air, an even 70°F temperature, and consistent humidity close to 50% are the three elements essential to keeping your material in proper condition and giving it a long life. In order to keep humidity levels below 65% in the room where the stamps are kept, there are a number of measures that we can take.

Most people who keep some albums of stamps at home keep them in a cupboard or box. With a modicum of care that box or cupboard can be made fairly airtight by adjusting the lid or door. After you have done this place some dry crystals of calcium chloride in a saucer or glass container. After a few days in the box or cupboard you will be surprised to find a small pool of water where each crystal had been. Throw out the water, dry the container, and repeat the process. Take care that no crystals touch your albums or they may become soaked with water. Calcium chloride crystals are inexpensive. On the other hand, once used they are finished, and they are of comparatively low drying power.

You are therefore advised to use other methods. Silica gel is one of these. In the form of brownish white granules they last for years. The drying power is high, about 40 times that of calcium chloride. Silica gel is usually purchased by the pound at a modest cost. The crystals are easy to regenerate by periodically placing them in a hot oven to dry. However, they absorb large amounts of water before it is necessary to dry them. When in use we suggest you place them in a small tin with the lid removed. Put the lid on when you no longer wish to use the drying agent. For storage when not in use, the silica gel is best kept in a closed glass jar.

A third drying agent is actuated alumina, which has a drying power 200 times greater than calcium chloride, or five time greater than silica gel. Approximately the same price as silica gel, it doesn’t last quite as long. For large amounts of moisture an electric dehumidifier is best.

Another form of atmospheric pollution is particle matter, such as smog, dusts, carbon, and tobacco smoke. A good example of precautions taken against carbon monoxide and sulphur dioxide is the Cardinal Spellman Postage Stamp Museum in Weston, Massachusetts.

When a site was selected for the museum, consideration was given to it being located in an area removed as far as possible from these contaminants. Visitors to the museum usually drive there by automobile. The parking lots were planned to be located a fair distance from the museum in order to minimize pollutants in the vicinity of the museum.

Careless Handling and Abuse

Fortunate indeed is the historic cover or letter that has been kept under ideal conditions throughout most of its life. Creases, tears, breaks in the paper, stains, abrasions, and all other types of partial damage hasten the day when restorative measures must be taken.

Nothing is more bitterly ironic than the well-intended but mistaken efforts of repair carried out by individuals who lack basic restorative skills. Some measures cause so much havoc that they cannot be undone by means known to us today. If you are an amateur, make no moves in restoration until you know exactly what to do. Covers often have tears repaired with a liberal use of plastic tape. There is certain to be trouble within a few months or years at the most.
To stop further deterioration, the tape will have to be removed, a small feat for any conservationist. Even thin strips of discolouration may remain where the tape was used. Although Scotch tape and other plastic tapes that come in handy dispensers are a useful product around the home, they should never, never be used under any circumstances, even temporarily, when we repair old covers.

Never mount covers on cardboard or even keep them on or near pieces of cardboard. Cardboard is never intended to last long, and it soon becomes brittle. Even more dangerous is the cardboard’s high acidity. The chemicals with which it is saturated transfer themselves to your covers and hasten destruction. Be certain that you use an all-rag type board when you require rigidity.

Chemical baths are used by conservators to eliminate mildew growth and stains. When the papers or covers have been cleaned and bleached they are often dipped into a gelatin bath to restore the paper. Without this glutinous sizing the paper would have little strength. Often a corrective dye will be mixed with the gelatin bath in order to give the paper a tint close to its original shade.

Brown stain, which is actually a fungoid growth, often referred to by collectors as “foxing,” can often be removed by using a potassium permanganate solution. Five drops per pint of water are required to make this solution. Carbon tetra-chloride or benzine can be used in a watermark detector tray to remove grease and oily stains.

Whichever one you use, remember that they are very hazardous, and must be used according to instructions on the container. Some oily stains on stamps can be removed by immersion of the stamp in a cup of boiling water. Be careful that the printing inks used on the stamp are not water soluble, and will not run or dissolve.

Some of our older stamps, for example the 3¢ Small Queens, are noted for so-called ‘oxidation.’ A vermilion stamp will oxidize to a dark brown colour. Much of the original colour can be restored with a hydrogen peroxide solution. The proper concentration is five drops per pint of water.

Although most printed papers can be successfully washed, caution is required. Even more important is experience. For this reason we are not at this time giving more details on the restoration techniques, inlaying, cellulose acetate strengthening, and other techniques used by professional conservators. Remember that once you put your stamps or covers in any chemical solution, even water, they will not be the same when you take them out. At the minimum they will lose some of their brightness. Watch your stamp closely, and as soon as the desired change is effected remove the stamp from the solution, wash it immediately in water, and dry it between two pieces of blotting paper as soon as possible.

Many of the albums we use to house our collections have leather covers, corners and backs. Treatment of these areas with a potassium lactate solution every second year will preserve the leather. On the other hand, cloth bound albums need little attention beyond the occasional dusting.
Collectors are advised to mount their covers and documents on acid free or rag pages. The pages should be kept in an acid free box or container. (See a future section, “Storage,” for additional information.)

Air conditioning is an ideal way to control temperature. Chemical dehumidifying devices are available to control humidity. Low heat electrical pole heaters for use in clothes closets are excellent for controlling humidity when used in storage areas. They are usually 115 volts, 25 watts, and come in 36-inch and 48-inch lengths by ¾ inch diameter. They are low energy consumers, do not get hot beyond a hand touch, are inexpensive, and they plug into a standard home outlet. They are very effective in restricted areas.

Never store your valuable papers and covers in tight restricted locations. It is recommended that rooms holding your philatelic and postal history treasures should be ventilated frequently, particularly on those days when the outdoor air is fresh and not humid.

Physical Factors

How do we store our collections? How do we handle them? If we handle and store them carelessly and poorly we hasten deterioration. Often, old covers are no longer fresh in appearance. Deterioration has already set in. Unless we are very diligent we will hasten and accelerate the deterioration process.

We all like to improve the condition and appearance of our philatelic holdings. Unknowingly, we often use cleaners, erasers, marking devices, adhesive tapes, and other agents which introduce substances that deteriorate the materials to which they are applied. Some of these substances are impossible to remove.

We must be knowledgeable and diligent when we attempt to conserve our philatelic materials. This is probably a good time to mention that paper clips, rubber bands and other materials less commonly used in holding papers together should not be used around stamps or covers. Paper clips made of ferrous metals become corrosive. Rubber bands oxidize, then break, and sulphuric acids migrate to the papers they were intended to hold together.

A Preservation Short List

Philatelists and postal historians all wish to preserve and conserve their treasures. In order to do so they would be wise to avoid the following items:

- ballpoint pens
- cellophane or plastic (Scotch) tape
- rubber cement
- paper clips and other metallic paper fasteners
- magnetic albums. These are adhesive coated pages with plastic covers. Most are made out of PVC plastic and acidic adhesives. There are acid free albums available that are satisfactory. (These are discussed in a later installment.)
- typewriting added to covers or photos, often on the reverse side
- constant contact with your hands. Human bodies give off sulphur. Fingerprints on the gum of mint stamps or even covers is like a little time bomb slowly releasing stain-forming sulphur. Use lintless lightweight white gloves, as worn by conservators and professionals whenever practical.
- rubber elastic bands
- masking tape
Above is a portion of a stampless cover of Brazil, dating from 1829. It has a rare straight-line postmark, ‘S. JOAO DEEREI’ but its value has been destroyed by deterioration. There are three elements to this damage:

1. Hemicellulose impurities in the paper have oxidized and produced acidic degradation. The paper is now brittle. It breaks easily, especially when folded, and has an uneven brown discolouration.

2. The writing ink used in 1829 was an acidic ink containing iron oxide and hydrochloric acid. The paper under the ink is disintegrating.

3. The cover was breaking along the fold lines. A philatelist at some point tried to hold the cover together. He used cellulose or Scotch tape. As a result, dark brown stains developed under the tape. These hydrolysed cellulose stains produce further degradation.

Canada Post Corporation's newest additions to its continuing prestamped postal stationery series depict two more provincial and territorial capitals, Regina and Halifax.

Regina was founded in 1882 as the new capital of the Northwest Territories. It was incorporated as a city in 1903, and in 1906 it was confirmed as the capital of the new province of Saskatchewan, created in 1905.

Halifax is situated on the western shore of the world's second largest harbour. Governor Cornwallis arrived here in 1749, and named the new town Halifax, after the Earl of Halifax. Incorporated as a city in 1841, Halifax was nearly devasted by an explosion in the harbour in 1917. The city was rebuilt and was Canada's most important naval base during the Second World War.

Canada Post Corporation issued two new stamps in the ‘Canadian Architecture’ series on February 21 and three new values in the ‘Fruit Trees’ series on February 25.

The $1 high-value definitive features the historic Court House in Yorkton, Saskatchewan. Built in 1919-1920, the Court House is a striking example of the Beaux-Arts style. The Court House was the work of Saskatchewan’s provincial architect, Maurice William Sharon (1878-1940). No major alterations have taken place over the years, and the building still stands and serves as the local court house.

The computer-generated Yorkton Court House stamp shows the building full front from street level. The stamp replaces the $1 Runnymede Library stamp issued in 1989.

The $2 stamp features an example of the Second Empire style – the Provincial Normal School at Truro, Nova Scotia. It opened in 1878 as a training centre for teachers. Designed by Henry F. Busch (1826-1902), the structure still stands, and houses the local YMCA.

The computer-generated stamp replaces the $2 McAdam Railway Station stamp issued in 1989.

This year’s definitive stamps in the ‘Fruit Trees’ series depict the following trees: Snow Apple (50¢), Shagbark Hickory (69¢), and Westcott Apricot (88¢). These are the rates for mail to the United States, domestic mail between 30 and 50 grams, and the international letter rate.

Un timbre courant de valeur nominale élevée (1 $) illustrant le palais de justice de Yorkton, en Saskatchewan. Ce superbe monument public, construit au cours de 1919 et 1920, constitue un exemple frappant du mouvement Beaux-arts. Le palais de justice est l'œuvre de l'architecte de la Saskatchewan, Maurice William Sharon (1878-1940). Aucune modification importante n'a été effectuée depuis la construction de l'édifice. Il fait toujours office de palais de justice local.

Réalisé à l'aide de l'infographie, le timbre illustre la façade du palais de justice, vue de trottoir. La figuration remplacera le timbre de 1 $, émis en 1989, qui représente la bibliothèque Runnymede.

En 1994, les arbres suivants formeront le motif des timbres courants de la série «Arbres fruitiers» : le pommier Fameuse (0,50 $), le caryer ovale (0,69 $), et l'abricotier Westcot (0, 88 $). Il s'agit des nouveaux tarifs des envois à destination des États-Unis, des envois de 30 g à 50 g du régime intérieur et de ceux du régime international.
The 88¢ kite flying air letter was issued February 25, 1994 to meet the new March 1, 1994 International postal rate.

Kite flying was a popular pastime in the 1950s, prior to the electronic explosion. As many Canadians are returning to the basics, kite flying is once again on the rise.

Named for a graceful member of the hawk family, the kite is the oldest form of aircraft, likely originating in the Orient 3000 years ago.

An Australian invented the box kite, which is so stable it doesn't require a tail to prevent spinning and twisting. Alexander Graham Bell built colossal kites that could lift humans into the air.

The new air letter sheet was designed by Raymond Bellemare.

Émis le 25 février 1994, l’aérogramme de 0,88 $ consacré aux cerfs-volants correspond au nouveau tarif postal du régime international.

Le cerf-volant était un passe-temps populaire dans les années 1950, avant l'explosion électronique. Au Canada, le cerf-volant gagne de plus en plus d'adeptes, et on voit naître, çà et là, des associations de cerfs-volistes.

L'origine du mot est associée à un gros insecte volatile. Le cerf-volant, qui serait d'abord apparu en Orient il y a 3000 ans, est probablement la forme la plus ancienne de l'aéroplane.

Le cerf-volant en forme de boîte, tellement stable qu'il n'a pas besoin de queue pour l'empêcher de tournoyer ou de serpenter, a été inventé en Australie.

Pour sa part, Alexander Graham Bell conçut des cerfs-volants colossaux qui pouvaient soulever des humains.

Society Reports / Rapports de la Société

From Molly Krajewski, Sales Circuit Manager....

I have had a couple of complaints lately by owners who took "a dim view of my arithmetic" when calculating the commission on sales of their books. Obviously there is something here that ought to be explained to all 'Owners' who have put books into the sales circuit.

My computer is programmed in such a way that if the amount of commission on a book being retired is less than $2.50, then it puts in the figure $2.50. This bit of programming was written in during the time of my husband's administration, I believe at the suggestion of Alan McKenna the Sales Director, who is the person to whom the manager of the circuit reports. The costs of circulating books are very high and, when some books did not sell much George found that he had done all the work at a net loss. Raising the minimum charge to $2.50 attempts to correct that. Personally I think $5 would be better. Although the A.P.S. rejects books which it thinks will not sell, the Royal accepts all those which meet the basic requirements, eg. minimum value $50. We think that you should have a right to try your arm. However it is on the owner's responsibility. We cannot afford to subsidize you. And sometimes we prove to be wrong in our guess; a book will be shown to the right collector and sell the lot straight away.

The Stamp Circuit manager is paid no salary, he/she gets only the commission, plus the Society provides a small amount towards expenses. There is much too much work for one person and the casual help I hire has to be paid for out of own pocket. I do admit that the blank books still say "min 50 cts." inside the back cover, but again this is a holdover from before my time. I have promised the President of the Society, W.G. Robinson that I will publish a series of articles in the Canadian Philatelist explaining this and other changes.

To participate in the Sales Circuit, as either a buyer or seller, write to Molly Krajewski, R.P.S.C. Stamp Circuit, Box 10, Ajax, Ont. L1S 3C3.

From Michael Millar, Anti-Theft Committee Chairman....

A major theft took place on Sunday, 13 March 1994 at Nepean. The back window of a car belonging to R.F. Narbonne of Carleton Place (Greenwood Stamps) was smashed, and two large boxes of covers were taken. Specific items include two albums of better covers, Small Queens to date; 1898 Map Stamp covers (some multiple rates) posted before Dec. 25; a copy of Canada C3a on cover with certificate; a box of 2,000 better modern covers (special delivery, etc.); and the correspondence of Sapper Salt of the Canadian engineers in WW1, including POW items. The latter is of both philatelic and historic value. A reward is offered. Any information on this theft should be reported immediately to the police and to Michael Millar at (705) 726-5019.

Since the Royal Philatelic Society of Canada is the national society of philatelists in Canada, many requests for exchange partners are referred to us. As a service to our members, we are pleased to present these names, so that those who wish to do so can make overseas contacts. Please note that we have no way of checking the credentials of the individuals who write to us asking that their names be published; therefore, we urge that caution be taken when answering these requests.

La Société royale de philatélie du Canada ne s'occupe pas normalement des échanges entre philatélistes, mais comme elle est la société philatélique nationale du Canada, ou lui transmet de nombreuses demandes de philatélistes désireux de trouver des correspondants pour échanger des timbres. Ainsi a-t-elle décidé, pour rendre service à ses membres, de publier les noms intéressés d'outre-mer, afin que ceux qui désirent établir des rapports avec eux puissent la faire. Je vous signale toutefois que nous ne savons rien des personnes qui nous demandent de publier leur nom, c'est pourquoi je vous conseille d'être prudent en répondant à ces demandes d'échange.
