PIM'S 1955 CATALOGUE
THE STAMPS OF NEW ZEALAND

This sixth edition of Pim's Catalogue becomes available in the year in which New Zealand commemorates the issue of N.Z.'s first adhesive stamp. This edition lists every major variety known but does not include varieties of a minor nature in this 107-page Catalogue. Many issues have shown a marked increase, in particular the "local" issue of the Pigeon Post. The early issues covering the "Chalon Heads" of 1856 to 1872 include more than 150 alternations, all increases, and again this is due to the increasing demand for these issues.

This catalogue is the last word for stamp collectors interested in New Zealand stamps. 7" by 10", hard-bound cover with coated stock pages, provides wonderful illustrations, well described and edited to make the collecting of these stamps more interesting to all.

With each order, we shall give you a free copy of "100 Years of Postages 1855-1955" as printed especially for this great year for New Zealand by the printers of New Zealand stamps, Thomas De La Rue & Co., Ltd., of England. A handsome 24-page booklet which gives interesting stories of N.Z.'s stamps and reproduces in full color some of the most beautiful stamps, giving the historical background of the stamps as well. This booklet is well worth the price of the Pim's Catalogue alone.

Both items sent postpaid at $3.00

THE POSTAGE STAMPS OF SWITZERLAND

A large 9½" by 12½", 86-page magazine. This publication was printed by the Switzerland Government press as only Switzerland can print attractive publications in the true to life colours. Published in May of 1947 in tribute to the Centennial of United States stamps and for the Centenary International Philatelic Exhibition. This magazine sold for $1.00 on the floor of the "CIPEX", the 4th International Philatelic Exhibition held in New York City, May 17-26, 1947.

The remainder of the magazines were purchased by Mr. Fred Jarrett, R.D.P., F.C.P.S. (Roll of Distinguished Philatelics), at the close of the show in New York from the Switzerland Government. All are fresh copies, still in their original packages, ready to be sent to you. We have only remaining stock of this item.

This magazine contains illustrations and reproductions that you will value as a reference guide for years to come. Well illustrated, it shows how the stamps of Switzerland are printed with large illustrations of the stamp presses, steel dies and all processes in the printing of stamps. A specially hand-cancelled stamp is inserted on a souvenir sheet containing the 10c of 1947 showing the Motor Coach Post Office, Scott's No. 397.

As a special favour to our readers, we are selling out the remainder of our stock of this interesting item at just 50c plus 10c postage.

Third Canadian Philatelic Exhibition Handbook and Official Catalogue

Issued for the stamp exhibition held in Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal, Quebec, October 5-9, 1925. This is a 150-page official exhibition catalogue, same size and similar in structure to the "CAPEX" Official Exhibition Catalogue (also on sale at 50c plus 5c postage costs). Over 100 pages of B.N.A. articles, 18 full pages of illustrations from the collections of Dr. Lewis Reford, Montreal, and Mr. A. H. Lichtenstein, New York City.

Fifty pages listing Judging of Awards: Donations; List of Special Trophies; List of Exhibitions; List of Entries; Survey of the Exhibition; Auction Catalogue of 172 interesting items; plus 33 pages of interesting ads on B.N.A. offerings.

This is a find by Mr. Fred Jarrett, and all catalogues are personally autographed by this eminent philatelist. A "must" for all. This catalogue is worth many dollars to the specialists of B.N.A. stamps as a reference guide and for the many fine articles published therein. We have acquired the remaining copies of this item.

50c plus 10c postage.

With every order, a copy of our "S.C.E.C." MAGAZINE. Write for our price lists on other Canadian Philatelic Literature and Catalogues.

Does Your Stamp Club Need A Shot In The Arm

By Dr. Russell Raymond Voorhees

There are stamp clubs—and there are stamp clubs. Just because a club bears the title of Stamp Club or Philatelic Society it does not follow that it is really a stamp club. It may be little more than a social club where good fellows and perhaps a few gals get together at certain intervals, do a little yak-yaking, perhaps listen to a talk either on stamps or what have you, have some refreshments and depart for home. To be sure they all collect stamps, at least they have some stamps stuck in an album and from time to time, possibly every time the man in the moon begins to chew tobacco, they add a few more stamps to their collections. They are stamp collectors—but what kind? Definitely they are not the kind that make a stamp club a stamp club in the truest and fullest sense of the word.

I have in mind two stamp clubs with which I am personally familiar. Each meets twice a month and is composed of a fine lot, all collectors. Some are men of varying ages and each club has some members among the so-called gentler sex. But there the similarity stops. The two clubs are as different as day and night. Only one club is actually a stamp club. The other is more of a social club with a sort of philatelic atmosphere.

The club that I consider a real stamp club is supposed to start its meetings at eight in the evening but by seven-forty-five a number of the members are already there trading fast and furious. From seven-forty-five on members arrive in ones, twos and threes and join in the trading session. The business session of the club never gets under way at the designated hour of eight o'clock because the members, almost all of whom are already in the meeting room, are far too busy to stop their trading for such items as the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, old business, new business, unpaid bills and what have you.

The President does get the business session under way along about eight-thirty but never with complete success because many of the members are still swapping stamps. But some semblance of attention is obtained so the President can conduct the business meeting. The usual items of business are taken up in proper order and in rapid fire manner. Sometimes there is a bit of discussion on some order of business but never too much. After all this club is made up 100% of stamp collectors who ARE stamp collectors. They are incurables who have one and only one reason for attending the club and that is to see how many duplicates they can trade off for other stamps that they need for their collection.

When the business session finally closes trading starts anew with the spirit that was so much in evidence before the business session. The members who stopped trading for the business session start in again and the club room resembles a small stock exchange at the height of a bull market.

“What have you got to trade?” echoes around the meeting room as members try to locate others who have stocks to exchange.

After a period of feverish trading, a kilo of foreign stamps from some single country is opened and spread out along the long table around which the members sit. Then a bargain sale fever takes over as the members finger through the stamps looking for ones they want. Since all are active traders they are not satisfied only with stamps they do not have but pick up many duplicates that they can trade with friends who are not club members and others who live away from the city. After the kilo of stamps has been pretty well mauled over at the rate of one cent a stamp, the remainder is gathered up and put back in the box in which it was received and swapping stamps starts all over again with a feverish fervor that is only found among real stamp collectors. As members exhaust their stock of traders they depart for home but there are always others who continue the trading until eleven or later. Individual members will exchange anywhere from five dollars to possibly fifty dollars and even more each. Every meeting of this club is a real trading session with the result that the members are adding new stamps to their collections every week. THIS IS A REAL STAMP CLUB!

The other club, also called a stamp club, is composed of a fine lot of men with some gals sprinkled in for spice. They are very friendly, greeting each other with smiles, sometimes a hand shake. They are stamp collectors but you would never know it because there is hardly any trading done. This club has two or three members who trade stamps every meeting night but it is suspected that the other members look upon these avid traders as sort of screwballs. Once a month this club holds an auction of material that members put in. Seldom is the auction very much of an action affair because most of the members of this club collect only a very few countries and for the most part they need only the hard to get items. They are not interested in Greenland when all they need are some stamps from Egypt, Poland, Norway or some other country.

After the auction the members do some yak-yaking among themselves and by ten o'clock the meeting is over. Nobody has even tried to add any stamps to his collection except the two or three screwballs who use every minute for trading.

The other meeting of this club, it holds two a month, offers some speaker who generally talks about one of his collections. Frequently these speakers are terrible NOT terrific, serving little more than to fill in the time between the business meeting and the refreshments. Yes, the one meeting a month when a speaker is used, bring out refreshments served by the gals who belong to the club. This adds a social touch to the so-called stamp club and permits some more yak-yaking until the members depart for home. There is one good thing that can be said about this club—you never get home late from the meetings.

These two clubs show plainly the difference between stamp clubs. No stamp club is really a stamp club unless the members are active collectors AND TRADERS. A trading session at every meeting will do more to pop up a stamp club than anything that a speaker can say. Clubs that seem to be dying of dry rot, that seem listless and almost on the point of needing an undertaker will find a complete change in club atmosphere will set in when members bring duplicates to trade and if the members do not have trading duplicates then the thing to do is to get some new members in the club who are active collectors and traders. They will so wake up the members who have been asleep that many will become active again. If your club needs a shot in the arm to wake it up try adding stamp exchanging as the chief attraction and you'll be surprised. Then if you need another shot in the arm, try opening a kilo a meeting, giving members their pick at a cent or so a stamp. You'll be surprised at the results.

Morrison 1275 Transit, Boston 17
SINCE the issue of the Boy Scout stamp not much has happened in the world of Canadian stamps. I noticed recently a comment in an American stamp paper saying that the design and colour of the Boy Scout stamp will hold its own among other commemorative stamps issued by Canada.

At last the new 4 cents booklets is out as has been promised some time ago and again it can be purchased in the stapled form and in the stitched type. I would advise all of you, to lay aside a few of the stitched types and in case you have not seen the figures on the previously issued stitched books, just have a look at the new list of quantities issued on the various items and you will see what I mean. This list, by the way, can be obtained from the Philatelic Agency.

Some other items of interest are included on this list, such as the number of destroyed 3 cents Queen coils. The reason, although not apparent, for the destruction, seems to be the change of postal rate at that time, making the 3 cents a minor item in demand. I hope you all have laid aside a roll. Speaking of rolls, or as we call them coils, I still hear from time to time about the so called broken corner flaws on the revised issue. I would say it is about time that collectors try to understand the many reports which have been written on this subject pointing out that there is no such thing as a broken corner or a corner with a flaw. These oddities, and that is all they are, are caused by an overinking and high pressure of the printing machine. They may occur sometimes on a roll but there is not a constant variety, not even a minor one.

There is no new word with regard to the additional G overprints. So far the various government offices have still a large supply of the old stamps in stock and it will be some time until other values are released.

There was some thought that a combination booklet would be issued, but I understand that this has been given up.

In November we will again be "favoured" with the last set of the Prime Ministers. Two values will complete the series a 4 and a 5 cent. The planned 25 cents stamp will only appear in February next year. This stamp has been reported in other Canadian magazines previously and will show the Canadian chemical industry. This value is required for registration.

Looking into the future, there is a very good possibility that in a little over a year we will have our first multi-coloured stamps. The Bank Note Co. has been working on this project for some time and have been experimenting with all possible phases of this art. Maybe the stamps will not at first be as colourful and as well balanced in their design as the Swiss stamps, but it will be a new era in the printing of Canadian postage stamps. The planned series will likely be the historical sites of Canada and should be good advertising for our country.

I am surprised that so far no one has reported the crack in the last Queen 4 cents stamps. There is a definite plate surface crack noticeable in the lower left corner of this stamp on plate number 4. This corner shows a great number of fine to medium hairlines indicating a flaw in the surface of this plate. This is certainly a variety for any specialized collector. Speaking of varieties I came across a plate block of the recent 6 cents with a pronounced colour dot in the left side of the oval. I do not know if this is constant, but would like to hear from others. By the way, this 6 cents stamp is certainly a hard item to find used and plate blocks sell here for 50 cents. This stamp will be discontinued and no more are being printed.
It will not be long before the new Scott catalogue is out and I guess everyone is eager to have a first look. My prediction is that on the average the Canadian stamps will have an upward pricing of 10%. That should be all for this time.

UNUSUAL COVERS

Canadian Cover Collectors wishing an unusual cacheted cover mailed underwater at Aquarena in Texas can secure any number of covers by sending self addressed envelopes to George Goldey, P.O. Box 577, Canton, Texas, U.S.A.

These covers contain a postage meter slogan "Mailed Underwater at Aquarena" and also a cachet to the left of the cover. Collectors are asked to leave a blank space on the left 2\(\frac{1}{2}\)" x 3" for placing the cachet.

Covers costs 10c each or three for 25 cents (no stamp please). This covers cost of postage and handling.

The Realm Of Stamps

By Montor

ILLUSTRATED ABOVE are the very attractive high value stamps bearing the portrait of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II which were issued in Great Britain last month.

They were designed by Mr. Lynton Lamb, Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts and the Society of Industrial Artists and the three-quarter face portrait of the Queen was based on the photograph by Dorothy Wilding Portraits Ltd., which was used for the low value stamps of the present reign.

The new stamps were produced by the line engraved (intaglio) process by Waterlow & Sons Ltd. and are printed on paper embodying an all-over watermark consisting of an outline of the St. Edward's Crown and the Royal Cypher.

Mr. Lynton Lamb is a painter in oil and water-colour, designer and illustrator in wood engraving, lithography and pen and ink. He was one of the 60 painters invited to exhibit at the Festival of Britain in 1951 and has illustrated over 20 books since the war including one for the Limited Editions Club of New York. He has also executed architectural decorating in various media for ships of the Orient Line. He designed the Coronation Greetings Telegram form in 1953.

These stamps have been eagerly awaited by collectors but it is evident that a great deal of time and thought has been put into their creation and they are certainly most attractive in every way and come up to the very high standard set by the lower values of the stamps of Great Britain of the present reign.

Another very attractive set appeared last month being that for St. Vincent. This is another example of the trend towards a revival of the classics and will do much to interest collectors in the beautiful early issues of the stamps of the British Empire. The 3d. New Zealand, issued in July to mark the centenary of that country's postage stamps, is a particularly pleasing example of this trend and it is undoubtedly one of the most attractive Elizabethan stamps issued.

Interest in stamp collecting seems to be definitely on the increase and dealers report brisk business and many new collectors coming into the fold. Undoubtedly thematic collecting is helping greatly to interest people in stamp collecting and with the constant supply of new issues, many of which are of especial interest to topical collectors, their interest in the hobby is being constantly stimulated. There is always a serious demand for the classic issues of almost any country especially for the imperforates, which find especial favour in Europe, and many of these fine old stamps are finding their way back across the Atlantic. Stamp collecting appears to be booming everywhere.

HARRIS FIRST WITH NEW 1956 US & BNA CATALOG: 1500 PRICE CHANGES SHOW STRONG MARKET

First 1956 U.S. & B.N.A. catalog to appear is the popular H. E. Harris & Co. issue just released. Always a reliable indicator of market conditions in its field, the new 144-page catalog shows a firm upward trend with over 1500 price revisions, mostly modest increases. With its previous catalog out only eight months, the Harris Co., world's largest stamp firm, says the new price changes accurately reflect the further increased demand for practically all types of stamps of the United States and British North America.

Under a smart, attractive cover the pages are liberally illustrated with 1497 beautifully clear photographs and contain a virtually complete listing of U.S. stamps through the end of 1955 (including revenues, telegraphs, envelopes, postal cards, etc.) plus all U.S. Possessions, Confederate States, United Nations, Canada, Newfoundland, and the Provinces.

Price are quoted not only for singles (both mint and used) but also for first day covers, mint sheets, plate blocks and other specialties. Included as a bonus feature is the U.S. Stamp Identifier, 12 illustrated pages that tell how to distinguish between rare and common, look-alike stamps. All in all, the Harris 1956 U.S. & B.N.A. catalog is a valuable, skillfully compiled book that collectors will find worthwhile more than the small 25c charge.

MOST PRICE CHANGES MODERATE

Two, and sometimes three, catalog revisions a year have a tendency to eliminate radical price changes in a new edition. Most adjustments are so minor—between 1c and 10c—that they are insignificant by themselves. However, there are a few outstanding exceptions, several of which are mentioned below. What is vitally important is the broad, general trend: almost every category has advanced over quotations of a year ago, with signs of continuing strength emphatically apparent.

U.S. PLATE BLOCKS GAIN

Again an increase is noted in demand and prices for U.S. plate blocks and mint sheets, particularly in the 1902-34 issues.

OTHER ISSUES MOVE HIGHER

Numerically out in front with rising price adjustments are the U.S. Regular Issues. But the new prices also prove that Commemoratives are more than holding their own. For example, #630 White Plains sheet is now $27.50; last year's catalog pegged it at $23.75.

Many Postage Due stamps showed new vigor and gains, like the 2c 1879 (#1-2) unused, with a year's increase from $2.50 to $2.95 while the unused 5c 1894 (#J-34) went up from an even $1.00 to $1.35; 1914-15 50c perf. 10 (#J-58) from $12.75 to $15.75.

Postal Cards show significant percentage-wise changes, although most of these are in the low-cost range. Greater demand for Envelope Cut Squares is evident, too, with prices clearly on the march upward.

Under Revenues the Harris catalog for 1956 has added numerous items previously not quoted; for instance, the extremely rare $2500, $5000, and $10,000 Stock Transfer stamps of 1947-48-49.

CONFEDERATE STATES,
HAWAII, PHILIPPINES STABLE

Compared with the U.S. groups previously mentioned, this classification of the market is relatively level. But here again, the few price changes that do occur are upward, so there is definitely no sign of waning interest on the part of collectors.

CANADA PRICES SHOW MARKET VITALITY

Numerous increases in the British North America section for 1956 conclusively indicate the growing popularity of Canadian issues. Among others, the 1c 1859, used, (#14) advanced from $1.00 to $1.25; #45 unused 10c 1888, from $3.25 to $3.75; #025 $1.00 Ferry, with G overprint, unused, from $4.65 to $6.50.

Distribution figures show that the Harris catalog is the most widely used U.S. catalog in the world. If the present market, obviously growing in size and activity, is any indication, this important new edition should enjoy the most enthusiastic response from both collectors and dealers. A copy may be obtained for 25c from H. E. Harris & Co., 1422 Transit Bldg., Boston 17, Mass.

Signs Of Satisfaction

It seems that the most interesting stamps in my collection have been secured at your auctions... I think we all owe you our thanks for the care and completeness of the descriptions in your catalogues.

M. J. B., Philadelphia, U.S.A.

15.2.55

I have now received over £100 from you and would like to express my appreciation of your services in selling my stamps and of the results obtained, being more than double my expectations.

I would like to congratulate you and convey my best thanks to your staff both in London and Bournemouth for the services they have rendered to me.

H. G. R., Milford-on-Sea.

26.3.55

I have just finished reading your 1953-54 Review and must congratulate you on such an excellent publication presented in a manner so readable whilst the information contained therein is most useful.

Thank you for your kindness in adding my name to the distribution list.

C. E. S., Manchester.

21.6.55

I must also say, as a satisfied client, that I think your terms are very attractive and reasonable considering that you have the best markets and that there is so much work to do with the stamps.

Dr. M. C. L., Cleethorpes.

16.7.55

I am pleased to declare you that I was always satisfied with my purchases of this year in your auctions and that I highly appreciated the perfect descriptions of the lots and kindness of your staff in answering all my questions.

R. B., Genoa, Italy.
