The Canadian Philatelist
From the Editor’s Desk

by J.J. MacDonald

Further views on Shows and Exhibitions

Jim Measures writes and expresses a somewhat different view than expressed here previously. His letter is worth reading:

Stamp Shows have become the place for the “Rich & Elderly” in the eyes of the general public. Much has to be done to overcome this impression.

At CAPEX ’96 there was a good effort made to appeal to young people and more of this sort of thing has to be done. However I never saw this aspect of the show mentioned in the general media, only in the philatelic media.

I took a bus load of school children (a two hour trip) to CAPEX and this was a major success in terms of arousing their interest in stamps. Most were starting collections and were encouraged, however the price of material scared some of them.

Topical collections are much more interesting to the novice and the general public who are not philatelists, therefore topical collecting should be promoted and be the subject of publicity in the general media.

Shows should be organized in conjunction with other events such as agricultural fairs, sporting events and cultural happenings, with prizes offered for topical exhibits related to the overall theme of the event.

The CP article has several good suggestions in it and without repeating them I feel that we have to involve people other than philatelists in our shows.

Enlist more young people in the planning and running of the exhibitions. They feel like outsiders or spectators at stamp shows mainly because they see adults only running them.

We should be more proactive in encouraging people who want to collect stamps and not exhibit. Everyone is not an exhibitor, yet to read the philatelic press one could come to feel that if you don’t exhibit you are not a philatelist.

The guidelines for exhibits are very rigid and discourage some. For example, use black pages and you will be either rejected from exhibiting or downgraded severely. There needs to be room for the independent thinker, perhaps a non-competitive class. Note how often, when a poll is taken of the public’s choice of best exhibit, it is not one of the top winners according to the judges.

Finally, I would say that our hobby as a whole has got to do a better job of reaching the new generation of philatelists, stamp shows are only a part of that. Reach the post offices and reduce the number of issues; provide better support to local clubs (especially junior clubs); help seniors dispose of collections at fair prices and with dignity. There are many things that need doing, but the image of a hobby for the rich has to change.

A Canadiana must

Canada, as seen by others on their stamps, is the main subject of The Canadian Connection, the Journal of Canadian Philately.

The latest issue details the results of their members’ vote for the past year’s best item. It was conducted by the president of The Canadiana Study Group, John G. Peebles. John is a member of the Royal and the Unit is an affiliate of the American Topical Society. The material described, illustrated and discussed is a must for thematic collectors of Canadiana.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVOURITE COUNTRY?

In 1974, The Universal Postal Union celebrated the Centenary of its existence. Five hundred delegates got very fancy sets of booklets. None were sold to the public in this form. I'm breaking up several sets at reasonable prices. Over 100 countries involved.

The USA Centenary booklet has $2.40 face value in stamps. I'll buy any number at $100.00 per book.

The one for Canada is more generous, it has about $25.00 face value. Again, I'll buy any number at $100.00 each.

My price for these, and others, will be higher but, still quite a bargain, as hardly one collector in a 1,000 has even seen these. Name your country, and I'll introduce you to something you will be proud to display!

Beefsteak for a Black Eye

Mr. Carl Kane wrote to the American Philatelist earlier this year. His letter disturbed many people, but Canada Post has now responded to both the American Philatelist and Mr. Kane.

Because of the possible severe implications this subject could produce, I am reproducing below extracts from the correspondence which should lay the matter to rest:

Canadian Mail Warning

Philatelists should be aware of a string of registered mail losses of letters and packages destined for or originating from Toronto, Canada, in the last two years.

Material reported missing by thousands of customers remains missing, and CPC users continue to suffer sometimes substantial losses.

Also unfortunately, there have been no stories in the American press about these increasingly frequent losses. Collectors must be warned of the high risk of using the Canadian mail service. Registered mail is no protection against loss, and in fact it may flag the mail to the attention of the mail handlers who prey on the public. If you must send material to Canada, or if you need to receive items from the country you will be more successful if you use Federal Express and pay the higher cost.

Early in 1997, internal investigations by Canada Post at Gateway produced evidence that was turned over to local police. The police independently reviewed the evidence and charged a number of persons employed at Gateway with a variety of crimes related to the mail. All employees were subsequently dismissed.

Criminal proceedings ensued and, although convictions were not obtained in all instances, Canada Post's dismissals remain in effect. The Corporation will never accept compromise of the trust and confidence that our customers place in our hands by employees who do not meet our high expectations of honesty, whether or not their actions meet the criteria for criminal conviction.

None of the above cases involved Registered Mail and none involved philatelic products.

Mr. Carl E. Kane

I also wish to bring you up to date on the findings of a recent search for the missing registered item your correspondent, Gordon Stimmell, mailed to you last year. Your Registered item, RR 471 793 84x CA, was in one of two bags of Canadian mail last scanned as having been received at Laguardia Airport in New York, on route to JFK Airport. While JFK believes they did receive these bags of mail, they cannot confirm receipt. Canada Post control centres do not have any report of mishap associated with these two bags; they simply could not be traced and verified beyond arrival at Laguardia.

Mr. Stimmell received full reimbursement for the postage he paid plus reimbursement for the automatic $100 insurance that comes with Registered Mail in November 1997 and January 1998, respectively.

I wish I were able to report that your missing envelope has turned up in either the US or the Canadian postal systems.

Revenue Stamps

The premier dealer in Canadian revenue stamps is E.S.J. Van Dam Ltd. They regularly issue lists, including the Conservation stamps and a ReveNews Bulletin.

You can't really price nor collect these items without it. The News and various lists are available free of charge from Van Dam's at Box 300, Bridgenorth, ON. KOL 1H0. The News also contains the latest information on many aspects of revenues. There are great illustrations of the liquor stamp strips in List 110 from July and a catalogue of Duck and Wildlife Conservation items in August.

Cancels and What to do about Them

The letter below from Konrad Reinegger is one of many in the ongoing saga of messy cancels that so annoy philatelists. You may remember my earlier comments on what the British Post Office was doing to protect special stamps and cancels (See p. 149 – May/June, 1998 issue).

Another service being offered by the USPSD works very much the same way. My son, who attends air shows, sent me the cover pictured. It was carefully enclosed in a plastic sleeve that bears the inscription shown. A second nice cover, also protected, did get the spray cancel that everything apparently receives in Canada but no harm was done due to the removable plastic sleeve.

Letter to the Editor

It seems to be a never-ending battle to deal with our postal system “Bezerk Postal Clerks” who, for whatever apparent reason, take their anger out on stamps and stamped envelopes.

I take pride in promoting Canadian postage stamps to my overseas colleagues by sending them both used and Mint stamps as issues come up for sale, and in affixing neat postage for their benefit, so that they can enjoy Canada philatelically.

But this task is becoming increasingly difficult in view of bezerk postal clerks. In my enclosed sample, you can plainly see that I went to some pains to have my local Maynooth post office neatly cancel an overseas letter with three distinct hammer strikes. The letter was supposed to be keep-sake collector item for my European colleague.

Two weeks after sending the letter, I got the cut-out sent back to me. One look at it now is enough to make us sick! The question raised by my colleague was if there is any great degree of insanity amongst postal workers in Canada.

Mr. Reinegger's added obliteration applied over the nice Maynooth circular date stamps.

I have contacted two Canada Post Corp. Customer Service Offices, and while I am given sympathy for such apparent inexcusable action, I am told that nothing can be done about it.

But don't you think there ought to be? I can't afford to go crazy where I work anytime I please! Why should the postal worker? Is it that impossible to control the postal worker and have him/her mind the mail?

Back in the old Germany, the postal system had a special stamp which philatelists affixed on the letter to indicate to a postal worker that neat cancels were required on that particular letter. Modern Austria today has a gummed label which serves the same purpose, to request a neat cancel.

What some postal employees fail to understand is that a postally-run mail item is philatelically valued much more than a commercially made-up product such as an official First-Day Cover. So, to lose a cover that is supposed to make the trip to Europe – that's tough on the philatelist. It's bad enough that the mail item has to withstand the trip free on wrinkles, tears to the envelope, and the weather!

Konrad Reinegger, Member #24651

Editorial

This is the seventh number that you, our members, have had to suffer under my editorship. So far it has been quite an experience. I've talked to many of you and enjoyed it thoroughly, but I, and others have failed to find any successor for a job I only undertook as a short term fill in. So, first of all, this is an appeal for someone to come forward - the position has wonderful rewards.

Secondly, many of you have contributed your information, your comments and your best wishes so I'm still here, but I truly wish to retire as my three score and 10 bones tell me I must. I admit readily to one glaring failing - I'm very slow in acknowledging letters but bear with me, please.

Last week, as this issue is being written, was the well organized CSDA-Royal exhibition in Toronto. I even found a gem for my Connell collection. Shows and conventions were discussed by a spouse in the last issue and Jim Measures adds to the discussion in this one. The "really big show" as Ed Sullivan would say, is, of course in London, UK, in the spring of 2000.

Everyone should be so lucky as to be able to go, despite our dollar’s relative value. So I would like to have your views on exhibitions, large or small. No doubt they represent a happy venue for those with medal-level collections and for all of us a time to learn, to see gems of every aspect of philately and to compare ways to mount and show our own specialities. Unfortunately these large exhibitions sometimes tend to discourage younger or newer collectors.

At my first CAPEX show in 1978 I figured it would take a half a million dollars to gather a top-notch gold medal collection and by CAPEX 96 $2,000,000. So often it is a game for the rich, but it need not be so. Careful buying, over 20 years, will often amass gold medal winning exhibitions.

The societies are only too well aware of this problem and of late the "one-frame" section has gained enormous popularity. Not only does this permit most of us to enter, but it demands that we very carefully think through what we are trying to show to our colleagues.

The traditional, strict rules of what can be shown and how much collateral material can be included are being modified as well. For example, we now are experimenting with "social philately" or "frugal philately" as legitimate classes for display. Remember that postal history as a category is only 40 years old.

Unfortunately, money still counts at the international level. The frame (16 pages) fee for London will be $75 per frame at today's exchange rates, and it is higher on the continent. Not many of us will say, "But what's a few thousand for a gold medal?"

So back to the old adage - collect for enjoyment, do your own thing, let your creative imagination run wild. Why, there was a fascinating two frame display of the stamps, proofs and postal history of Bongoland shown in Toronto. Nothing in the whole thing bore any relationship to reality!! It was wonderfully enjoyable.

Please contribute what you would like to see in your club show or regional exhibition. We'll leave the national and international competitions for another day.
For the truly committed, there is no such thing as a stamp “season”. The search for new additions goes on as actively in July as it does in January. For the majority of us, however, our “stamp engines” rev up in the fall: Canada Post declares “Stamp Collecting Month”, auction catalogues arrive in the mail and our Chapters spring to life with meetings and shows.

Your Society offices are also a hive of activity. On October 17, Directors met in Toronto to discuss a variety of items, the most important being changes to the Society’s Sales Circuit program. Please keep your eyes peeled for announcements which will appear in the January-February issue of The Canadian Philatelist.

I recently had the great pleasure of presenting to our member, Alf Peatman, an Honorary Life Membership in the Society. Mr. Peatman has been a keen collector for a mere 85 years, having started at the age of seven.

As Alf told me about his early collecting days, I couldn’t help but think of all those new issues which were picked up at post office counters nearly a century ago. Congratulations, Alf, on being an old Royal friend and a new Edmonton Stamp Club member.

Members are in for a surprise and a treat when the January-February issue of The Canadian Philatelist arrives in their mailboxes. It will appear in a new, larger size and will be loaded with interesting articles supported with lots and lots of colour.

This new, more standard size brings production cost savings and the opportunity for our editor, J.J. MacDonald, to put an exciting new magazine in your mailbox. Stay tuned.

Pour les vrais amateurs, il n’y a jamais de «saison» philatélique. L’on s’active autant, en juillet comme en janvier, à la recherche de nouvelles additions. Pour la majorité d’entre nous cependant, c’est en automne que le moteur s’emballe: Postes Canada déclare le mois de la philatélie, les catalogues de ventes aux enchères arrivent au courrier et nos associations locales reprennent vie avec leurs réunions et leurs salons.

Les bureaux de votre Société se transforment aussi en véritables ruches. Le 17 octobre, le conseil d’administration s’est réuni à Toronto pour discuter d’une série de sujets, le plus important concernant les modifications du programme du circuit des ventes de la Société. Guettez les annonces qui paraîtront dans le numero de janvier-février du Philatéliste canadien.

J’ai récemment eu l’immense plaisir de présenter à notre membre Alf Peatman le titre de Membre honoraire à vie dans la Société. M. Peatman est collectionneur depuis quelque 85 années, ayant commencé à l’âge de sept ans. Alors qu’Alf me parlait de ses débuts de collectionneur, je ne pouvais m’empêcher de penser à toutes ces émissions de timbres vendues il y a presque un siècle. Félicitations, Alf, et merci de votre longue et Royale amitié et de votre récente adhésion au club philatélique d’Edmonton.

Les membres auront une jolie surprise lorsqu’ils recevront le Philatéliste canadien de janvier-février. Le format en sera plus grand et l’édition comprendra de très nombreux articles intéressants avec beaucoup, beaucoup de couleur. Ce nouveau format plus standard nous permet de réaliser des économies sur le coût de production et donne à notre éditeur J.J. MacDonald l’occasion de vous concocter un nouveau magazine palpitant. Dans quelque temps, donc!
I confess that I have never been particularly good at long-range planning, but for those who are, I am pleased to mention again our forthcoming Annual Meeting which is to be held in Fredericton.

The Society is pleased to be meeting in the Maritimes and Graham McCleave and his friends promise an excellent convention. Circle May 28-30, 1999 on your calendar now and start thinking about your travel plans.

In the meantime, have fun and enjoy this marvelous hobby. And support your local Chapter: In addition to finding some new stamps for your album, you'll discover some wonderful, new friends. □

The members of The RPSC are pleased to wish a very happy 80th birthday to our Past President (1985-1990).

James F. Kraemer, FRPSC, was born on Armistice Day, November 11, 1918 in Listowel, Ontario. Although trained as an industrial and plastics engineer, most of his career was in management and administration.

He is the founder and first Director of Canada Post's National Postal Museum (1971-1984) and the founding President of The RPSC Philatelic Research Foundation. A prolific writer in The Canadian Philatelist under his own name and many pseudonyms, he received the Geldert medal in 1988 for the best article published in The Canadian Philatelist in 1987.

He now lives in Ottawa with his wife (Fern Viola Weppler) to whom he has been married since January 1943. They have three sons: James, Vaughan and Darrell. □

J'avoue n'avoir jamais été doué pour les planifications à long terme, mais pour ceux et celles qui excellent dans ce domaine, je suis heureux d'annoncer que notre assemblée annuelle prochaine aura lieu à Fredericton. La Société se rassemblera dans les provinces maritimes, et Graham McCleave et ses amis nous promettent un excellent congrès. Cochez les dates du 28 au 30 mai 1999 sur votre calendrier et commencez dès maintenant à penser à ce petit déplacement.

En attendant, portez-vous bien et profitez de ce merveilleux passe-temps qu'est la philatélie. Soutenez votre association locale : non seulement y trouverez-vous de nouveaux timbres, mais vous y découvrirez également de nouveaux amis merveilleux. □

by/par Charles J. G. Verge

It has been evident for some time that our Chapter medals have priced themselves out of existence. In addition, we found out that only seven Chapters were using the medals for their exhibitions.

Recently we were in the market to replenish our medal stock and found that we could not justify the new prices requested by suppliers and pass those on to Chapters. The price was much too high. So The RPSC Board of Directors decided to revamp the Chapter Awards program instead.

We have come up with a FREE certificate program that will be at no cost to the Chapters. The new awards certificates (an example is shown with this article) come in five different colours, one for each of the medal levels (Gold, Vermeil, Silver, Silver-Bronze and Bronze) and replace the medals.

They are printed in metallic ink on parchment-like paper. They are very attractive and are FREE to all Chapters of The RPSC. The certificates are available in both English and French.

Chapters can order the FREE awards certificates for their exhibition by requesting them from The RPSC’s National Office. Please make sure your request is received by the National Office at least four weeks ahead of the show dates.

programme de certificats GRATUITS pour les Chapitres. Les nouveaux certificats de mérite (un exemple se trouve avec le texte de cet article) qui remplacent les médailles sont disponibles en cinq couleurs représentant les cinq niveaux de médailles (Or, Vermeil, Argent, Bronze argenté et Bronze). Ils sont imprimés sur du papier simili-parachemin et le texte est en encre métallique. Ils ont du flair et sont GRATUITS pour tous les Chapitres de La SRPC. Les certificats sont disponibles en version française ou en version anglaise.

Les Chapitres peuvent commander leurs certificats de mérite GRATUIT pour leur exposition du Bureau national de La SRPC. Veuillez vous assurer que le Bureau national reçoit votre demande au moins quatre semaines avant la tenue de votre exposition.

Keeping up with the Jones's

One of the advantages of only collecting old "stuff" is that one doesn't have to worry about keeping up with the latest trends in philately—something like Harry Sutherland's current double-breasted blue blazer being the latest word in fashion—in 1950!

This isn't all bad, of course, as I'm sure that Harry knows—if you wear (or collect) something long enough, it's bound to come back into style! So it is with us philatelic dinosaurs who cut off our collections after a certain reign. We don't have to lose any sleep worrying that our collection is diminished because we don't have the latest cartoon character issue from some palm-fringed tropical paradise. This will have undoubtedly been issued to replace last week's definitive issue with at least 15 stamps valued from one to 100 coconuts. These will be available perf, imperf, mint, CTO, souvenir sheets and, naturally, on First Day Covers.

None of the values will bear any relationship to any known or likely to be known postal rates. But, what the heck, who ever knew of any serious collector letting such details as whether an issue was valid for postage or not get in the way of supporting the economy of the inhabitants of the aforementioned palm-fringed tropical paradise. After all, the government of Canada does it all the time with our hard-earned tax dollars, only they call it "foreign aid."

Many serious British Empire collectors took a look at what was happening with many of the Colonies and Dependencies post-independence, said "no thanks," and ceased to collect them once the Union Jack was hauled down at sunset for the last time. A prime example of this is Ghana, formerly the Gold Coast Crown Colony. From 1875 to March 6, 1957—Independence Day—the Gold Coast issued 165 regular stamps plus six postage dues and one War Tax stamp.

That number was exceeded by Ghana by the middle of 1964 and by March 1987, 30 years after independence, the Country had issued 1,028 regular stamps, 10 airmail stamps and 22 postage dues. Many of these issues, especially in the early years, were sold as cancelled remainders, which did nothing to enhance the philatelic integrity of the country.

When one looks at the foregoing statistics, maybe my tongue in cheek analogy of "replacing last week's definitive issue" isn't so far-fetched. If you divide 1,028 by 30 you get 343 stamps per year, which looks to me vaguely like what Canada Post is issuing these days. No, the only thing keeping me awake these days is my inability to find a GB Edward VIIth penny red dated October 24, 1909 to complete the calendar collection for that year. It's a Sunday too, which makes it that much harder to find, darn it.

However, I don't wish to imply that those who collect the so-called trendy stuff like Royal Weddings, Lady Diana etc. are to be looked down upon by serious collectors. But I'm really amazed that no enterprising palm-fringed tropical paradise has issued a series on Royal Divorces or Royal Mistresses, at least as far as I know.
There should surely be enough scope in the former with Henry Vilith and with Charles Il and Edward Vilith for the latter. The thoughts of several series on those two themes should do wonders for your insomnia!

This raises another issue. If you go to show something like that, does it go as a Topical or as a Thematic? Maybe Allan Hanks or the AAPE's can provide the answer to that burning question. Anyway, enough of this levity.

May I wish each and every one of you my best wishes for the coming Festive Season and good hunting in whatever philatelic area excites your interest in 1999.

And don't try to keep up with the Jones's, it will drive you nuts. Mind you, if someone starts issuing stamps in commemoration of Andy Capp, then I might get interested in modern stuff!

(Editor's note: This is the last of a series.)

Since I wrote Part Four, which extolled the virtues of Canada's National Archives, I had an opportunity to spend a day there doing philatelic research. I must now underscore the wealth of material and information that is available.

The people who work the Archives, moreover, are helpful, informed and very friendly. The resources are endless and there is no telling what you may turn up. I was particularly impressed with the stacks of thousands of library materials.

The reading room in the Records Consultation Unit has bound volumes of several philatelic journals and stamp catalogues as well as current stamp publications, all of which are readily accessible to the general public. Those who live within a reasonable distance of Ottawa have a great source of philatelic literature for the reading. The National Archives is located at 395 Wellington St.

Auctions

In one of my earlier pieces I suggested stamp literature auctions often help build a library, especially for out-of-print and classic publications. Many auction houses include a short list of titles in their regular catalogues, which do have truly special buys, but it is usually ordinary material. Two such firms are Vance Auctions and Eastern Auctions.

Auctions whose sole purpose is the promotion of philatelic literature, however, are few. Two major annual ones are Charles Firby's Rarities of Philatelic Literature and Huys-Berlingin Philatelic Literature auctions. Others may deal specifically with literature, but I am not aware of them.

Charles Firby boasts the largest such auction in the world. His annual fall event now features over 3,000 lots with almost every category one would want. The 1997 Firby auction had 37 sections/topics, where specialists and generalists could satisfy many wants. This is the kind of auction that bibliophiles and philatelists should not miss.

The 1998 Firby auction was November 11-12, but the catalogue was not available at this writing, and it will be over by the time this appears. Nonetheless, Charles will add you to the mailing list for 1999 if you write him at 6695 Highland Road, Suite 107, Waterford, MI 48327-1967, USA.

Although Charles Firby boasts of the largest literature auction in the world, the 1997 (the latest catalogue I have) Huys-Berlingin had over 6,000 lots of world literature, including several relating to Canada, British North America, and the United States.

Huys-Berlingin is usually a March-April undertaking, and the catalogue may be obtained by writing Huys-Berlingin, Lavenastr, 64, FL-9495 Triesen, Liechtenstein.

Both these catalogues require several hours for complete perusal, but the information gleaned is invaluable. Like many stamp auction catalogues, literature catalogues are not ephemeral. Their listings have significant material that makes them useful references long after the event.

The excitement of bidding at a literature auction is just as keen as getting the hammer call on some special stamp lot. My library is larger and richer (I'm poorer) as a result of my yen to win at literature auctions.

'Must'

Before I close this series on philatelic literature, I want to cite a couple of publications that all collectors should consider ‘musts’ for their shelf.

Enthusiasts look for the definitive work that will serve as the guide or handbook. In philatelic literature the magnum opus is just as important as it is for literature of other hobbies. Although there are many fine texts, none is as encompassing or as relevant as James Negus’ Philatelic Literature (James Bendon Ltd, P.O. Box 6484, Limassol, Cyprus.)

This is not a review of James Negus’ Philatelic Literature, rather it is to inform on a book that is the finest work of its kind in philately. In one volume, Negus presents a compilation of techniques and reference sources about which all philatelists need to be aware. Although it is designed specifically for the writer, it has sound sense for all who would build and appreciate a philatelic library.

Philatelic Literature examines in much detail every aspect of writing and research. Negus divides his work into four parts: Practical Bibliography, Methods of Work, Tracing Published Information, and Writing and Publishing. In a very concise, professional manner, through 21 chapters, he guides the reader.

Part 3 is of particular importance because Negus shows the researcher how to obtain information. He refers to numerous sources including cumulative and literature indexes, library catalogues, book reviews, and encyclopedic handbooks. The author’s final admonition focuses on suggestions for a personal reference library.

My list of musts for the philatelic writer’s bookshelf places James Negus’ Philatelic Literature on top.

Not necessarily second, but certainly among the top five should be a little gem – The Foundations of Philately (The Philatelic Foundation, New York, NY) by Winthrop S. Boggs. First published in 1955, Foundations is still considered one of the most authoritative guides to stamp collecting. That it has been reprinted and remained in circulation for over 40 years indicates its worth.

Winthrop S. Boggs, who was long one of the influential voices in philatelic literature, divides his work into three parts.

The four chapters in Part II relate directly to the collector with practical recommendations and suggestions for building a collection. He includes a chapter on philatelic literature and what titles are special for collectors. He clearly illustrates, through a three-page fold out, how to use a catalogue and the importance of specialized catalogues once the collector graduates from beginner to advanced.

Winthrop S. Boggs’ The Foundations of Philately has withstood the test of time, so it must be ranked as one of the all-time best handbooks for philatelists. Since it has every phase of collecting from the simplest principles to details of specialization, its authority is difficult to question. Some features are outdated, but its thesis still stands. This little classic is available from dealers.

One more source is worth sharing. Linn’s Yellow Pages for Stamp Collectors (Linn’s Stamp News, P.O. Box 29, Sidney, Ohio 45365 – U.S. $4.95) is a handy annual title to lead you to everything you want in stamps. Its 430 separate philatelic categories provide quick access to thousands of sources. The literature enthusiast will gain much from the many listings under that topic.

I find Linn’s Yellow Pages for Stamp Collectors most helpful when I am preparing for a trip. I look to see if there are any stamp stores in the locale(s) I am visiting. Since it covers the world, there is a good chance I will find a site worth exploring. It is also useful to locate an address for a dealer who might well stock an elusive item whether it be stamp or book.

I hope these pieces “On Philatelic Literature” have been of value to the general reader. They were written because I want to share my enthusiasm and love for the books that give our hobby its strength, its history, and its continuity.

OYEZ! OYEZ! By Grégoire Teyssier, Deuxième vice-président, SRPC

Si vous avez commencé à lire ces quelques lignes, ces réflexions s'adressent bel et bien à vous!

En effet, vous savez sans doute que depuis quelque temps, nous tentons de donner une place plus importante au français dans notre revue. Et cela, pour plusieurs raisons.

D'abord et avant tout, parce que la Société royale de philatélie du Canada se doit, comme toute autre société d'envergure nationale, de refléter notre dualité linguistique. Il s'agit d'un devoir. D'autre part, un bon pourcentage de membres de Royale réside au Québec.

Sachez enfin que, parce que les philatélistes de langue française ont souvent des intérêts différents de leurs collègues anglais, ils peuvent apporter, par leurs écrits, un petit plus à la philatélie.

Dear Sir,

I believe I have made an important philatelic discovery!

I purchased three sheets, 50 stamps per sheet, 52 cent denomination, for postage, at a Halifax, Nova Scotia flea market, six months ago. I discovered, once I arrived home, that there wasn't a 52 cent denomination for the Christmas issue of 1994. Scott catalogue has a 50 cent denomination for Christmas 1994, catalogue number 1534. Enclosed is a 125 per cent enlargement, in colour (see cover), of one of the three identical sheets with the 52 cent denomination.

There are some differences between the 50 cent and the 52 cent. There is a P on the selvage of the 50 cent before the coloured stars, indicating Peterborough papers. It also has whitish gum. There is a C on the selvage of the 52 cent before the coloured stars, indicating Coated Papers. These three sheets have greenish gum, with Coated Papers. The perforations and tagging on the 52 cent are identical to the 50 cent.

I undertook discreet inquiries, over the last six months, to determine why there is such an anomaly. My speculation is Canada Post anticipated a rate increase and printed the Christmas issue in denominations of 45, 52, 90 cents and with a star on the stamps for the Greet More booklets. These were sent to the National Philatelic Centre in Antigonish, Nova Scotia, before they were sent to regular postal outlets. They were later recalled, very quietly, when the rate increase was not approved. These three sheets were sold prior to the release date and recall notice, therefore could not be returned. This could explain why only three sheets were found in Nova Scotia and not in the rest of Canada.

Here are two facts to back up my speculation. The first is the star stamp in the Greet More booklet and the peeloable sticker on the cover of the booklet. When carefully removed it reveals that the Post Office was going to sell the booklet of 10 stamps for $4 at a saving of 50 cents. Hence the normal rate would have been 45 cents.

Another indicator is found in William J.F. Wilson’s “New Issues”. This article is in the British North America Philatelic Society Journal, Topics, vol. 152, no. 1 whole no. 462, Jan-Feb-Mar 1995, page 71. Mr. Wilson stated that there was “an error in the November/December Canada’s stamp details and the winter 1994 Collections of Canada Catalogue.” The article explains that the stamp papers stated in the publications do not match the papers for all the Christmas stamps issued. Perhaps the information in the Canada Post’s publications would have been correct had the original stamps, the 45, 52, 90 cents, not been recalled.

I would appreciate receiving additional information or inquiries from your readers.

Dear Sir,

The 1982 publication of The Early American Perforating Machines and Perforations, 1857-1867 by Winthrop S. Boggs is from the Collectors Club Philatelist Journals of March and May 1954, vol. XXXIII, no. 2, wn. 3. This has been brought to my attention by Mr. J. Goldberg, an expert on perforation measurement.

But it is the September 1954 volume which has the corrections and additions and is not the same as the originals.

The publisher of the 1982 publication apparently was not aware of this September 1954 update. It is not easy to find except in libraries or some literature auctions.

Also where are the original research papers of W.S. Boggs on the above subject? If anyone knows, send details to Joseph Berkovits, 33-260 Adelaide St. E., Toronto, ON, M5A 1N1, Canada.

Dear Sir,

I first became interested in stamps as a Cub Scout in order to get a badge. However, I would have to say that relatives influenced my initial collecting habits, and more recently, the lack of stamps used in the mail. My cousin, and her father, were extremely serious collectors, and they suggested to me that I subscribe to the Mint and get corner blocks of each new issue. So, in 1977, I began my collection with the prime ministers; due to the high cost of the corner blocks I now just collect singles.

My goal is to eventually have a mint-used collection of Canadian stamps going back as far as I can afford. This is my serious collection.

My less serious collection consists of several areas, and all rely heavily on chance. My great uncle told me to keep every stamp that arrived in the mail, and that is what I have done. My uncle said that one day I will have enough to send in to an auction, but somehow I doubt that. On my first visit, that I remember, to my uncle's house, I saw his bathtub full of soaking stamps. On later visits, I was taken into his basement which was filled with metal shelves full of shoe boxes containing stamps.

I have a rather haphazard collection of used foreigns, mostly American, British, and Australia (we have relatives in England and Australia).

I do not buy any foreign stamps, just take what I can get. Over the past few years, I have had various neighbours save stamps for me, this significantly increased the flow of stamps into our house.

About 10 years ago I became interested in covers and have started saving some of the interesting covers rather than soaking the stamps off them. Then with the introduction of the spray cancels, I started to collect them. At the time I was working in the mailroom of a company and had access to all the envelopes I wanted. I thought I had died and gone to heaven!

My last area of interest is post cards. I save every post card we get, but I also have two small collections that I am actively trying to expand, as money permits. I am focusing on Tillsonburg-Mitchell – the towns where one side of our family hails from, and the Haliburton Highlands, specifically the Stanhope area.

I am very interested in the early settlement history of the Highlands. I am trying to find early cancels from each post office in Stanhope; a very frustrating task as many items are out of my price range!

I have also been lucky enough to inherit a couple of small collections from family members; they have basically helped to fill out my used world wide collection. One of these days I will have to decide what to do with this world stuff, as I am not terribly interested in most of it.

Anyway, that is my story of how I caught the collecting bug and what I collect. I hope this has been of interest.

Sincerely,
John Macdonald

Dead Countries of the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries. By Les Harding. Hardcover, 393 pages from Scarecrow Press, Inc., 4720 Boston Way, Latham, Maryland 20706. price $45 U.S.

Les Harding's delightful book is certainly of interest to stamp collectors. Who has not wanted to write-up material on some obscure and long forgotten place. This book certainly has an abundance of obscure facts on little known places. However, the book is more than just a series of little known information. It is an extremely readable, almost whimsical, treatise on over 570 'dead' countries and states.

The countries included in this volume were all selected using the following criteria: '...a dead country is a term used for a place, not necessarily a sovereign country, that once issued postage stamps but now no longer does so, usually because it has ceased to exist.' With this as his working definition, Mr. Harding proceeds to do more than simply enumerate a list of states. Each of the entries begin with an appropriate and apt quotation from the world's literature often providing a lyrical or satirical view of the area.

These alone make the book enjoyable and worth owning. Land areas, dated population estimates and physical locations are then described together with about half a page of the country's historical development. Each description closes with a picture of a suitable stamp of the area and a list of additional reading material. The delightful choice of passages quoted probably reflects the author's background and training as a reference librarian!

It is unfortunate for philatelists that the stamp illustrations are often of very poor quality but this is not a drawback to collectors who have world-wide catalogues. Despite this and the rather steep price for Canadian readers, this book is highly recommended for reading and enjoyment, particularly on flights or other trips where one faces regular interruptions. It also makes an ideal gift for your next convert to philately. I was even going to suggest it as a Christmas gift for your spouse but my wife says, only after the new Lexus, the mink coat and the round the world cruise!

Allan Steinhart - Postal Historian, editors David Handelman and Gray Scrimgeour, published by the Postal History Society of Canada 1997.

Editor's note (and confession): My conscience bothers me as I have not published a review of Handelman and Scrimgeour's book on Allan Steinhart. Charles Verge has written an excellent review of this work which was published. However I owe a tribute to Allan also because I knew him for so long and the book is so good.

I have found it very difficult to write a proper review of this work. This is all the more unusual as it is very well compiled and edited. The difficulty arises, however, simply from my attempt to separate the work itself from the subject. Allan Steinhart was an imposing presence in Canadian postal history, one whom I considered a friend. I first knew Allan when he kept his crammed black boxes of covers at Jim Hennock's shop on Queen Street in Toronto. However, this should not be a review of Allan's work and ways but of Handelman and Scrimgeour's monograph about him and his career. The book is so good as such that it should stand as a model of "how to" honour a distinguished philatelist. Of course both editors are articulate and accurate describers of the postal history scene and authorities on such in their own right so we should expect nothing less.

The copy I reviewed was the spiral bound edition, the hard cover ones were all out of print. This version fits the hand well, is most enjoyable to use and clearly printed. It consists of seven main sections, all of which contain something new, even for an experienced and somewhat cynical old collector such as your editor. The first section contains thoughts and reflections on Allan by seven friends and associates which opens, at least a bit, the door on his rather private life. The memories shared with us by his sister, Paula Silver, are alone worth the price of the book, and should make Allan squirm. The others add a particular twist or gem of knowledge to the Steinhart legend and give proper flavour to him as an individual.

The second section consists of three articles by Allan on fundamental topics, one on postal history itself, one on Canadian railway post offices (RPO’s) and one on military postal history. This section is followed by reprints of 20 of Allan’s articles with many interesting notes supplied by the editors.

These papers are more specialized and contain wonderful information very neatly summarized and not available elsewhere. Two articles have post-humously appeared in the Journal of the Postal History Society of Canada where five of the others were originally published, and a further five come from Topics. These papers show the breadth and depth of Allan’s interest and knowledge and are also appropriately noted by the editors. A short section showing 17 photographs of Allan’s life add a nostalgic reminder of the man we all knew.

All of this is followed by recollections and reminiscences by 17 collectors covering the purchase of their favourite covers from those tightly crammed boxes holding Allen’s stock. These contain a great deal of information on obscure aspects of our postal past especially on rates and regulations. It is here that Editor Handelman shares with us his knowledge of obscure registered rates.

There are then six presentations given to the Philatelic Specialists Society of 15 years from 1980 to 1995. Allan illustrated these talks with a display of a selection of his own unsurpassed Canadian covers. Finally the St. Lawrence Hall PHS’s birth and the aegis of the publication Just Covers are amusingly related by Scrimgeour and Bill Longley respectively.

The text concludes with a nine page philatelic biography and a remarkable 17 pages of Allan Steinhart’s publications. The last is a wonderful and valuable listing of information in the field of Canadian philately. There is also a five page detailed index which makes a very enjoyable book all the easier to use – a must for all collectors of covers of any kind.

Four new lus comme Fellows de la Société royale de philatélie du Canada

During the 70th Convention of The Royal Philatelic Society of Canada (RPSC), held in Hamilton, Ontario, May 29-31, 1998, four new individuals were elected to Fellowship of The RPSC. They are Richard Gratton of Windsor, Quebec; Murray Heifetz of Toronto, Ontario; Cimon Morin of Aylmer, Quebec; and J. Donald Wilson of St. John’s, Newfoundland. Fellowships in The RPSC are elective and are granted to individuals who have excelled in one or more of the following criteria: they have actively worked for the betterment of The RPSC; have promoted Canadian philately extensively through writing; and/or have, through a number of activities, made Canadian philately better at the international level. All Fellows may add the letters FRPSC after their name.

RICHARD GRATTON (born 1954)

Mr. Gratton was born in Montreal, Quebec. A chemist, he graduated from the University of Montreal in 1978 and did graduate studies in pulp and paper at McGill University. He currently is the technical and environment director at Domtar papers in Windsor, Quebec.

In 1977, Mr. Gratton founded the philatelic club at the University of Montreal, and the following year he was instrumental in founding the Chemistry Unit of the American Topical Association. His many other philatelic responsibilities include being a member of the American Philatelic Society’s paper preservation committee; French editor of The Canadian Philatelist (1985-1990); he has been, on two occasions, President of the Fédération québécoise

Lors du 70e congrès de la Société royale de philatélie du Canada (SRPC) qui s’est tenu à Hamilton (Ontario) du 29 au 31 mai 1998, les membres présents ont élu quatre nouveaux disciples parmi eux. Il s’agit de Richard Gratton de Windsor (Québec), Murray Heifetz de Toronto (Ontario); Cimon Morin d’Aylmer (Québec) et de J. Don Wilson de St-Jean (T.-N.). Young Canadian Philatelist of the Year – 1998

Marie-Christine Provost of Cap-Rouge, Quebec, graduated from high school from the Séminaire St-François. At 17, she is in to sports as well as excelling in the arts including dance and voice.

She started collecting stamps at the age of 13 and has never ceased being interested in the hobby. She has progressed through the different levels of exhibiting and recently has shown her exhibited "Sur les coiffures" internationally.

She loves to read and is known to 'devour' one or two books a week. She constantly volunteers to be in charge of the stamp collecting booth during the annual 'Open House' at her college or during exhibitions at cultural events during the year. Visitors discover with her the enchanting world of philately.

Even with the many activities related to graduation, she continued to remain dedicated to her hobby. In fact she was the only woman in the college club. Her good humour and her interest in improving her philatelic knowledge made her a natural leader amongst the members of the club.

Congratulations, Marie-Christine.

"Sur les coiffures" progressait.

Elle adore la lecture et dévore un livre ou deux par semaine. Lors des "Portes ouvertes" annuelles de son collège ou lors d'expositions dans le cadre des "Galas culturels", elle s'offrait toujours comme bénévole pour animer le coin de la philatélie et faire découvrir aux visiteurs le monde merveilleux de la philatélie.

Cette année, malgré ses nombreuses activités de finissante, elle est demeurée fidèle à son activité, étant même la seule fille du groupe. Sa jovialité et son désir d'approfondir ses connaissances philatéliques furent un stimulant pour tous ces garçons qui l'entouraient.

The first cover (Figure 1) was a family letter written in St. John, NB on October 16, 1809, and reflects the difficult relations between the British and the Americans at the time, as it was the period the U.S. Non-Intercourse Act.

By way of an explanation, this act was a successor to the Embargo Act, which had been approved on December 22, 1807, and provided for the immediate stoppage of all vessels in ports of the United States, if bound for any foreign port; foreign vessels were allowed to sail with cargo already on board or in ballast. This stopped all overseas trade into or out of the United States.

The Embargo Act proved to be quite ineffective, because much of New England did not honour it, carrying on trade by using coastal vessels to carry cargoes to and from the BNA Maritime Provinces, sailing without clearing the cargoes.

This led to a tightening of the law with the January 9, 1809 Enforcement of the Embargo Act, which enacted that no vessel, coasting or registered, should load, without first having obtained permission from the customs house and given a bond of six times the value of the cargo, that she would not depart without a clearance, nor after clearing go to any foreign port, or transfer her cargo to any other vessel.

This produced such an outburst of public anger that the Government found that it could not enforce the law — and for the first time there was talk of war.

In an attempt to ease the extreme measures then in force, Congress passed the Non-Intercourse Act aimed exclusively at Great Britain and France, which had restrictive reciprocal policies of their own.

This act excluded merchant vessels of the two countries from U.S. ports, with seizure, if attempted. Importation or merchandise from any possession of either state was prohibited. Approved on March 1, 1809, it became effective on May 20. This was easier to evade than the previous acts, as the merchants simply cleared a cargo destined for a British port to a neutral country, such as Sweden, the latter now being a legal destination.

It was against this background that the St. John correspondent began his letter:

“As a good opportunity offers I shall write to you and most likely I shall continue to write to you whenever I can whether I receive any answers or no. I can suppose many obstacles to you sending letters to New Brunswick without impeding to you either forgetfulness or negligence. But I must confess that I expected to hear from you long before this. Letters by the Post directed to the Care of Robert Dagan Esqr. St. Andrews will generally reach us.”

As shown on the front of the letter, Capt. Rich was the ‘good opportunity’, showing that it went by water from St. John. It was mailed at Boston on November 12, and from a notation on the back of the letter, this was in the year 1811, not 1809 — 25 months later! There are two separate notes on the back, both of which confirm this date:

‘Dated Oct 10, 1809 Received about a month after J.W.B. last letter he died the January 1811.’

‘I received these letters together with a small Box of Books from the States November 27, 1811.’

It would appear that Capt. Rich must have been intercepted by a U.S. gunboat, his cargo seized and any letters impound-ed. I can find no particular reason why this letter and the others mentioned above were released in November 1811 perhaps someone with more knowledge of the period can explain. The 37-1/2 cents postage due charged at Boston was three times the single rate to Springfield, indicating that Henry Bliss had received three letters when he wrote the above note.

When I purchased the cover shown in Figure 2, which was dated Halifax, August 13, 1815, I was thinking that it may have reflected a late capture in the War of 1812, as the writer referred to all his property being seized, but since had all his money restored.

However on reading the whole letter later, I found that he had arrived in Halifax on May 28, 1815, which was five months after the Treaty of Ghent had ended the War; so his troubles at Halifax must have been from other than hostilities. The letter was given to a captain sailing for Boston, where it was entered as a ship letter and rated 14 cents postage due (2 cents ship letter fee plus 12 cents inland postage to Hampstead, NH). Unfortunately, the Boston date stamp is illegible, so its arrival at Boston cannot be dated.

Notwithstanding its date, the letter gives an interesting picture of postwar Halifax through one person’s eyes, and much of it is reproduced below.

“I wrote to you on the 28 June...[and] informed you in that I had all my property Seized and that times went very hard with me but I have all my money Restored and shall make the best of my way home the first opportunity...I wish to stop in Halifax a Little while for it is a very Good place to Get mony and saved 200 dollars since the 28 may that I landed there I am sorry that I went to Baltimore in the spring. If I had Staid about Boston I had done a Great deal Better that what I shall by Going to Halifax but when I Get home aGain I will not Go so far from home again I never saw such a Wicked Corrupted place as Halifax is in my Life But it is a Good place to Get mony and I Realy believe If I had Been there during the war that I had made a Great deal a mony more than what I did in the states...
I believe this Halifax to be a very unhealthy place as the Bell is tolling every day after somebody has not been a day since I have been there has been a funeral but I believe it is owing to the Intemperance of the people a great deal as there is not an hour in the day but what you may see somebody drunk in the street lying down in the dust and greatest beast that ever I saw I could not help taking a great notice of it but now I do not mind it so much..."

XL. An Interesting Example of the Improper Rating of Postage on Early Letters in the Maritimes

The illustrated cross-border letter (figure 3), from NewCastle, Miramichi, NB dated May 25, 1829 to a brother in North Carolina shows very clearly the method of rating postage used in areas where the rates were not clearly defined. The contents of the letter are interesting in showing the commercial activity of the region, and read in part:

"Our business here is just commencing for the season - there is now 70 ships in the river & timber is quite scarce, the last winter was the worst one that has been known for many years - timber is now bringing 25/- to 27/6 p. Ton Cash which will make up in some measure for the quantity deficient, last year it sold for 12/6 to 18/4 p. Ton. Our goods from England, & Halifax have arrived. Also the Mackerel which we purchased in Canso last Oct."

When mailed at the Miramichi post office the following day, 2s. 3d. Cy. postage was prepaid to St. Andrews, NB at the U.S. border. This was greatly in excess of the proper postage rate for a distance of 200-300 miles, which should have been 11d. Cy.

In showing the cover to various collectors at the ROYAL 1998 ROYALE in May, one, who had used the Quebec Provincial Archives in his research, told me that he had seen a number of contemporary letters from Miramichi, all of which had been overcharged about one shilling postage. He attributed this to a local charge by the person who handled the Mails in that remote area. This seemed excessive for an unauthorized local charge, as these were generally only one or two pence; but no other explanation was forthcoming.

Since then, in looking through the 'Report of the Commissioners Appointed to Enquire into the Affairs of the Post Office in British North America' dated December 31, 1841, I found an explanation that appears satisfactory to account for the above charge. On page 22 of the report is the following paragraph on rates of postage:

"The rates of postage as established by law, are the same for all the provinces of British North America, but diversities have in practice prevailed. Post Masters in the Lower Provinces, as we have before observed, do not make up Mails direct for all offices, nor have they any general tables of rates and distances, nor any detailed instructions, to enable them to charge letters to all parts of the country as the law directs.

Letters are therefore rated for the whole distance, only when they happen to be addressed to some office with which the mailing Post master is in direct communication.

When not so addressed he rates them to the office upon which he mails them; the Post Master then adds a new rate to the next office, and so on till the letter reaches its destination. Two or three rates are thus often levied on a letter, and sometimes as many as five or six.

But it is in the case of letters requiring to be remailed, that the irregularities are most glaring. From Sydney, for example, in Cape Breton, a letter passes direct to Halifax (some 300 miles) for 1s. 3d.; but from Sydney to Truro on the road to Halifax, (about 240 miles) where the law clearly allows no more than 11d. the rate is 1s. 6d., the usage being to charge first to Antigonish (140 miles) 10d., thence to Pictou (50 miles) 4d., and thence to Truro (40 miles) 4d. From Fredericton again to Halifax, (about 280 miles,) the rate is, as it ought to be, 11d. currency; but from the office at Sussex Vale, 70 miles nearer to Halifax on the same route, it is 1s. 6d. letters being there mailed only to Dorchester, with a charge of 7d. and thence forwarded to Halifax with a further charge of 11d....'

Applying this method of rating the postage from Miramichi to St. Andrews, the route followed was:

Miramichi-Richibucto-Dorchester (105 miles - 9d.), where the Halifax and St. John coaches met and exchanged Mails.

Dorchester-Sussex Vale-St. John (145-1/2 miles - 9d.), the end of the St. John coach route.

St. John-St. Andrews (67 miles - 7d.), for a total postage of 2s. 1d. Cy.

The letter then passed into the U.S. Mail at Robbinstown, ME. on June 4 and was rated 25 cents postage due to Edenton, North Carolina.

Figure 3: This 1829 letter from New Brunswick to North Carolina shows very clearly the method of rating postage used in areas where the rates were not clearly defined.

Many dealers and auction houses here have made extensive use of foreign catalogues for the evaluation of stamps. Naturally in Europe the main catalogues used are the Michel, Yvert, Zumstein and others. The use of Scott for European stamps has often been supplemented by European catalogues. One may see a German stamp quoted by Scott and in addition by Michel.

The reason is that these European catalogues are much more detailed and list prices that reflect the actual market. This is specially true for the classic material. Michel goes into great details on the Old German States stamps and not only lists just the stamp used or mint, but also how the stamp is used, on cover, singles, multiples and how the cancel adds to the value. This information is not available in Scott, not being a specialized catalogue.

All the European catalogues have special notes in the introduction and in each section that explain how a value of one classic stamp can be evaluated. This is specially true for Germany.

Unfortunately, not all collectors can read a foreign language and those who do forget to read the fine prints that may apply in pricing a classic stamp. German auction catalogues go into great detail when pricing or even estimating the value of a stamp offered. Here are some hints that may be useful to collectors of this kind of material.

Let us take the Old German States as example and look at the Michel. It states: “All prices are guides in DM and apply to stamps in the highest quality condition (absolut einwandre).”

This means that the stamp must be very fine, have no faults, have all the needed margins, all perforations for perforated stamps, no thins and readable cancels.

For classic stamps of Germany this is quite a demand. The basic prices in Michel as stated are taken from wholesale and retail dealers, working groups of collectors (study groups) at home and overseas, and auction houses.

Take as an example the Old Germany States of Braunschweig and it states that the margin sizes vary with each issue. Stamps with frame lines cut into on any side demand a 60 per cent reduction of the catalogue value. And it states that mint or original gum practically do not exist.

Therefore, in this case take a stamp catalogued DM 1000 used, but with one side margin cut or even with small fault would be catalogued at DM 400. An auction house would give this figure and estimate such stamp as DM 150 most likely as most auction houses estimate low.

But if this stamp was in very fine condition it would be estimated maybe at DM 750 with the catalogue stated as DM 1000.

Here is another example. Oldenburg states that the imperforated stamps must have a margin of a minimum of 1/2 mm on each side, otherwise one must reduce the price by 50 per cent.
Oldenburg No. 8 the 3 Groschen black and yellow is listed as DM 1600 used if the margins are less than 1/2 mm and the catalogue prices DM 800. Such a stamp would be listed by an auction house as DM 800, estimate at DM 350 maybe, which is considerable less than the actual catalogue value.

Anyone who wants to evaluate his classic stamps and is not familiar with these notes, may best consult someone who can read all the fine notes and translate them. To avoid being misled make sure that you understand the full meaning of the words “absolut einwandfrei”.

Junk mail is well known to everyone. The City of Ottawa has introduced a sticker for $2 that is placed above your mail box and says No Junk Mail. It is a voluntary program but it apparently works. If the problem continues the City of Ottawa’s Customer and Information Service office can be called.

Philatelic literature is still a must for anyone collecting stamps. Without any literature, and not just the regular catalogues, it is impossible to fully appreciate the hobby. Many years ago one company HJMR in Miami Beach issued an extensive price guide to philatelic literature.

The catalogue had over 140 pages and included practically all available literature at that time. They owned and distributed the well known Billig’s philatelic publications. Even though this catalogue is long out of date, having been issued in 1968, it remains a valuable reference.

Today, others have taken over the sale of philatelic literature, such as Charles G. Firby, Ian Kimmerly, John Jamieson, Unitrade Associates and others. ☐

Carillon (see also Bell)

The carillon, which originated in the Low Countries in the 16th century, is a set of stationary cup-shaped bells, usually housed in a tower belfry or on an open frame, and played manually from a keyboard.

In the 18th century, the average range of a carillon was two to three octaves; in the 20th century, the range is usually four octaves but could go up to six.

The first carillon in Canada was installed in Toronto's Metropolitan Church in 1922. Originally it had 23 bells; 12 smaller bells were added in 1960 and another 19 in 1971, bringing the total to 54 and increasing the instrument's range to over four octaves.

Torontonian F. Percival Price was appointed the Metropolitan's first carillonneur in 1922, when he was only 21 years old. The Metropolitan United Church, with the tower that houses the carillon, is shown on the 1975 stamp (S 662) which honours Dr. Samuel Chown, one of the founders of the United Church of Canada.

Price went on to become Canada's first Dominion Carillonneur at the Peace Tower in Ottawa in 1927, a post he retained until 1939.

He was a consultant in the design of the Peace Tower carillon, which has 53 bells, and inaugurated it on July 1, 1927, Canada's 60th anniversary.

Many illustrations showing the Peace Tower can be found in Canadian philately. The 1965 Inter-Parliamentary Union issue (S 441) offers a good view. The 1967 Christmas stamps (S 476 - 477) fit nicely into a music collection on two counts: as well as including the Peace Tower in the background, the stamps show children carolling.

rituals, and magical powers are often attributed to these instruments.

Some of the drums on Canadian stamps are those of native peoples. Different types of drums of various Indian tribes are shown on S 569 (Algonkians), S 571 (Pacific Coast Indians), and S 574 (Montagnais-Naskapi). S 838 shows soapstone sculptures of Inuit drum dancers holding single-headed frame drums.

Side drums occur in two examples. The 1997 Highland Games stamp (see entry under BAGPIPE) includes a drummer playing a side drum.

As well, the 1995 Fortress of Louisbourg booklet includes a drummer on the back of the cover, a young man dressed in a Compagnies franches de la marine uniform.

In a military garrison such as the one at Louisbourg, drums were used for waking the troops, assembling them for parade or work detail, or announcing special events; during a battle, drums could be used to direct troop movements.

Of course, drums play an important role in orchestras. The 1984 OFDC cachet for the MSO issue includes a bass drum, a snare drum, and tympani (kettledrums) in their customary position at the back of the orchestra.

There are also some toy drums. One is shown on the 1981 Christmas stamp (S 901) described under the Bell entry. On the Christmas 1993 38c stamp (S 1502), one of the toys carried by Santa Claus is a drum; a different Santa on the back of the OFDC also carries a toy drum for some lucky recipient.

Le philatéliste canadien
Novembre - Décembre 1998 / 421
In 1999, there is no more prestigious World Philatelic Exhibition than that to be held in Paris, France, from July 2-11, 1999 at Le Parc des Expositions. The Royal Philatelic Society of Canada (RPSC) is pleased to offer its members the opportunity to participate in this once in a decade event by arranging a private group/charter tour to the City of Lights for the last great philatelic show of the century.

The RPSC in conjunction with Le Beau Voyage travel agency, has put together one of the most inexpensive packages possible for a show being held in high tourist season. The total price includes many features and services in addition to the air fare and the hotel and departures are either from Toronto or Montreal.

To benefit from these very special rates we must put together a group of 20 travelers. It is an extraordinary opportunity to take your spouse and family to one of the most historic cities in the world while still being able to enjoy your hobby.

Le Beau Voyage has had experience dealing with philatelists and stamp collectors as it was the official travel agent for the World Youth Exhibition, CANADA 92, held in Montreal in 1992 and CAPEX '96, the World Philatelic Exhibition held in Toronto in 1996.

Michèle Jarry, the agent responsible for both these shows, has also put this package together and will be personally involved in making the arrangements for all those who join this charter group.

Malgré toute sa bonne volonté, la Royale ne dispose pas des ressources humaines et/ou financières suffisantes pour traduire systématiquement l'ensemble du contenu de la revue. Même si l'on pouvait agir de la sorte, cela doublerait le nombre de pages, donc les coûts d'impression et de poste que nous ne pourrions assumer. À l'heure actuelle, seul le mot du président est traduit, et cela est fait de façon bénévole par des non professionnels.

Nous avons donc décidé de publier dans la langue d'origine les articles qui sont soumis à notre éditeur. Et cela veut dire que si l'on veut augmenter la quantité et la qualité du français dans notre revue, une seule solution s'offre à nous: ÉCRIRE EN FRANÇAIS!

Il n'en tient donc qu'à vous, lecteurs francophones qui savez lire l’anglais, de nous aider à donner une place plus importante à notre langue d'origine. Et rappelez-vous que ce dont a besoin notre éditeur, ce n'est pas seulement des articles étoffés de 10 pages. Lettres, simples questions ou mises au point seront non seulement bien accueillies par notre éditeurs, mais au surplus, publiées dans leur langue d'origine! L'Avenir est donc entre vos mains. Merci de votre compréhension et de votre précieuse collaboration. ☑

Mr. William Maresch
R. Maresch & Son
330 Bay Street Suite 703
Toronto Ontario
M5H 2S8

Dear Bill:

Our association in philately, and in friendship, has been an enduring one. When I was assembling my collections of Small Queens your company, as well as others, was a source of supply. As well, I found that working with Tony when he was learning the business a few years ago was certainly an enjoyable experience.

As you know, in the last few years my health has declined to the point that I am no longer able to enjoy working with my stamps, and it became necessary to dispose of my award winning collections. Of course, I immediately thought of R. Maresch & Son for that purpose.

Both June and I are very appreciative of the way in which the sale of the collections was conducted. Thank you and your staff for the professional handling of this large project for us.

Sincerely,

William L. Simpson
